ARE you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing -immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or for the gentle relief of colic, or for the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish spell, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vege-table preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is geniune

Under the occurrences and Go salp at the center of Oregon's state government

Ben T. Osborne, secretary of the state federation of labor, visited the capitol yesterday. He stated a large attendance is expected at the labor convention which will be held in Salem in September. He expressed the hope that laboring conditions would be improved by that time, but he saw little chance. A sixhour day wouldn't solve the matter entirely, he believed.

C. H. Gram, state labor com-missioner, is spending this week in eastern Oregon on his regular visit to that section. Gram has had the duties of the child labor and industrial welfare organizations added to his office, and his staff has been kept busy. Gram is ex-pected back the latter part of

Charles M. Thomas, public utilities commissioner and Herbert Hauser, secretary to the commission, were in St. Helens yes-terday on the hearing on grade crossings. Thomas expects to have his order on the Portland Roseburg Wants street car matter ready in a few

Lynn Cronemiller, state forester, was in Klamath Falls yesterday attending a meeting of the Klamath county fores-try association. The forestry office here announced the rains the past few days would end what fires had still been burning in forest areas. The condition was reported as very

A. V. Hemming, of the Oregon Industrial council, of Portland, was a visitor at the state house yesterday. He was on his way to Dallas to request leniency for one of the principals in the recovered the recent legislature for his organization, and had headquarters in the capitol building.

Frank Davey of Portland, who was recently replaced as publicity director for the state market agent by Fred Tooze, was a capitol visitor yester-day, renewing acquaintances. His office was maintained in Portland, but Tooze's office is located in the state printing building in Salem.

Dr. W. H. Lytle says horses are coming back. The trend is in that direction the past year. He states further the price of wheat may go up as horses will replace cattle and sheep on pasture' lands, and horses are not used for meat. It is wendered if the state veterinarian is positive of the last statement.

Butler will have service while in Oregon. It is now reported three newspaper men will accompany him west, and that the governor has secured a tri-motored Ford plane for his use to cover the state. The marine general will leave Washington, D. C., a week from today and is due in Port-land May 15.

Congressman W. C. Hawley yesterday accepted an invitation from Roseburg to speak at Memorial day exercises to be held there May 30. The committee from that city in inviting Mr. Hawley said the community was grateful for work the congressman has done in behalf of the national soldiers' home which Roseburg hopes to receive. The address is to be given at the grove at the Oregon soldiers' home.
