Committees Told For B. & P. State Convention

Among the many conventions to which Salem is playing hostess this spring is the state Business and Professional Woman's club May 22, 23 and 24. Convention headquarters will be the Marion hotel and plans of interesting proportions have been arranged by the Salem club by which the 400 or more women of the state will be entertained during the three days.

Portrayed

One of the most interesting programs of the year will be presented to members and guests of the Salem Woman's club this afternoon when the music committee of the club headed by "Lohengrn" as a compliment to "better music" week.

Mrs. T. S. Roberts will be the leader and will tell the story of the opera. Through the courtesy of a local business house a radio phonograph has been secured and also through them records of finest makes have been procured which will offer selections from the opera to supplement the talk,

The program will begin with Prelude, part one of the first act. This will be a record played by the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra. Then will follow a violin solo, "Elsa's Dream" sung by Mrs. Harry Harms accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Geer and then the "Swan Chorus" played by the symphony. This act will be concluded by "The King's Prayer" sung by Marcel Journet. The second act will be presented with first the prelude, part two, played by the Philadelphia symphony, and then "Elsa's song to the Breezes" played as a violin solo- by Dalbert Jepsen and accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Geer. This act will be completed by the "Processional of the Cathedral" by the symphony orchestra.

Prelude, part three of Act III, will be played by the symphony and this will be followed by the famous wedding march from Lohengrin played by the symphony. Following this will be the 'Bridal Chorus" sung by a large chorus and accompanied by the symphony. As a conclusion to this act Richard Crooks, famous tenor, will be presented in a record singing "Lohengrin's Narrative". Mrs. Roberts will accompany all these numbers with the story. The public is invited to this part of the Woman's club program today. Election of officers will occupy the first of the afternoon, Young Maids Will

W. C. T. U. Observes Mother's Day

An attractive and impressive program was sponsored by members of the W. C. T. U. at the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon when a special "Mother's day" program was observed. Mrs. Fred Erixon read "A Tribute to Mothers" written by Edgar Guest; Mrs. G. N. Thompson told of the early temperance crusaders; Mrs. J. A. Tooze led the devotions; Miss Elizabeth Atkinson accompanied by Miss Ruth Schreiber sang a group of solos. Reports were also given of the recent county institute held by the W. C. T. U. in Turner.

It was announced at the Tuesday meeting that 18 new members had been added to the membership list and that Mrs. F. Pool had been responsible for a large part of this number. The next meeting will be a special one and will be held May 19 in the Union hall.

Mrs. A. Graber entertained the members of the K. C. K. T. club at her home Thursday afternoon for a happy social time of conversation and sewing. At the tea hour Mrs Graber was assisted by Mrs. Fred Barker. Members present were Mrs. E. J. Donnell, Mrs. R. C. Kreisel, Mrs. Ray Clark, Mrs. Guy Newgent, Mrs. Fred Barker, Mrs. C. M. McIntyre, Mrs. Hattie Givens, Mrs. Nellie Knox, Mrs. Bert Waller, Mrs. Otto Schelberg, and Mrs. A. Graber, Mrs. Jeanette Graber was a special guest.
