

MAC LAFFERTY IS VISITOR IN SALEM

Schoolmate of Hendricks is Caller; Asserts Hawley Strong at Capitol

Back through scenes of boyhood James H. MacLafferty, accompanied by Mrs. MacLafferty, of Oakland, Cal., stopped in Salem Monday. MacLafferty's father was a Baptist preacher with a pulpit in Eugene when R. J. Hendricks was a student at the University of Oregon. "Jim" had to look up his old friend "Bob" while in Salem.

MacLafferty gained honors on his own account, serving two terms as congressman from California, and was for some time assistant to Mr. Hoover when the latter was secretary of commerce. Now he is out of office, though he keeps up his interest in politics and wanted to know the "lay of the land" through the valley. Declares District Here Fortunate

"The first congressional district of Oregon is now one of the two most powerful districts in the United States, because your congressman, W. C. Hawley, is chairman of the powerful ways and means committee. The other favored district is in Indiana, served by Will R. Wood, chairman of the appropriations committee. It would be calamity to your own district and to the country not to continue Hawley in this position. I don't care how prominent a man in this district you might select, he would be like a man at the end of the line in Los Angeles cafeteria, he would have a long, long wait before he got up to where there was any food."

SITE OF HOSPITAL ANNEX IS DECIDED

The state board of control Monday adopted a recommendation of Rufus C. Holman, state treasurer, and Supt. Dr. G. C. Bellinger, with relation to the site of a new dormitory to be erected at the Eastern Oregon tuberculosis hospital at The Dalles.

The building will cost approximately $40,000, and will provide accommodations for 70 patients. Work will get under way as soon as plans and specifications are completed and approved by the board.

The board also approved the release of Juanita Leach, a patient at the state home for the feeble minded. The girl will return to the home of her parents in Portland. Affidavits indicated that the girl is safe to be at large.

Dr. Roy Byrd, superintendent of the institution, did not oppose the girl's release, under proper restrictions.

Foreclosure is Sought in Suit

Suit to foreclose a mortgage given to secure notes of an aggregate face value of $6200 was begun yesterday in circuit court. Effie Belle Federich is plaintiff in the action and Martin and Katharina Lees et al. are defendants. The plaintiff claims she bought the mortgage notes from Martha L. Crouse. The mortgage was executed in 1924. Interest and taxes have not been paid for more than a year.

Education Chief Here to Confer

Dr. J. C. Wright, federal director of vocational education, arrived here Monday from Washington to confer with O. D. Adams, state director for vocational education, and C. A. Howard, state superintendent of public instruction.

CROESUS THANKS THE LAW

John D. Rockefeller thanking Officer Lester Smith for the watchful efforts of the police who guard the oil Croesus during his sojourn at his estate at Lakewood, N. J. By a clever arrangement the police now keep the curious crowds from annoying Mr. Rockefeller by throwing a guard around one church while he is attending services in another.

4-M. CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

MACLEAY, May 11.—The 4 M club was entertained Wednesday by Mrs. W. A. Jones. A noon dinner was served in the spacious dining room. The table centerpiece was harmonizing colors of pinks and columbine. In the afternoon after a short business meeting the study of Turkey was taken up.

By request Mrs. Jones and her mother, Mrs. Alice Patton, displayed a number of family heirlooms and gave the interesting history attached to them. Mrs. Jones has a tulip pattern pieced quilt that was pieced by an aunt, Mary Hunt, in 1848, and a bolster slip done in eyelet, embroidered about 70 years ago by her grandmother, Temperance Hunt Downing. The pattern was drawn by Mrs. Downing.

She has one of 10 pairs of pillow cases made two years ago by an aunt, Sarah Downing, who was then 75 years old. The pillow cases were trimmed with hand-made lace about six inches wide. Mrs. Downing has since crocheted two bed spreads.

Mrs. Jones has a pewter teapot that was brought across the plains from Missouri by her grandmother, Ann Patton, in 1845. It was then being used by the second generation. Mrs. Patton has a dress made by her grandmother, Temperance Hunt, 85 years ago. This dress is made of dollar-a-yard calico. Not only was it all hand-made, but the seams of the waist were corded. The buttonholes are works of art. Both Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Patton have dresses they wore when they were babies.

HUBBARD ENJOYS BAND CONCERT

HUBBARD, May 11.—A delightful musical program sponsored by the Hubbard community band, was given at the city hall Friday evening.

An outstanding number on the program was a violin solo, "Ave Maria," played by Mrs. Carmen Scholl, accompanied by Miss Anita Bevens at the piano.

A song, "I've Got the Mumps," by several Hubbard grade boys, selections by the junior school orchestra, a concert by the band and a paper, "History of the Hubbard Band," by Mrs. Coble de Lesplasse, completed the program.

TURNER STUDENTS ENJOY BANQUET

Junior-Senior Affair Held At Spa in Salem Recently

TURNER, May 11.—The junior-senior banquet of the Turner high school was held at the Spa in Salem Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The decorations were in shades of green and gold. A large floral basket and papers formed a pleasing center with small green and gold baskets as favors accompanying the place cards.

Toasts in Latin
Miss Margaret Robertson, junior class president, was toastmistress for the evening. During the three course banquet she spoke words of welcome and the following subjects were announced in Latin and responded to by teachers and members of the graduating class. "We Learn by Doing" was responded to by Prof. J. R. Cox; "We All Can't Do Everything," by Miss Mae Hadley; "Work Conquers Everything," Kenneth Hickok; "The Name and Portion," Mrs. Jean Pearey; Miss Sheila Delzell, senior class president, spoke of "Always Lead Never Follow," Russell Denyer; "Make Haste Slowly," Kenneth Fowler; "He Conquers Twice Who Conquers Self," Gerald Given; "Seize the Opportunity," Lela Smith; "Birds of a Feather Flock Together," Selmour Stewart; "Hence Those Tears," Helen Witzell; "Where There's a Will There's a Way," Helent Witzell; "Expect of You," Lela Witzell; "To Whose Advantage?"

The entertainment was the last of a pleasant week of good music enjoyed by Hubbard and vicinity in observance of national music week under supervision of Dr. A. F. de Lesplasse.

TAX PAYMENTS NOT HURT BY NEW LAW

Thus far no noticeable decline in tax payments has been caused by the law passed at the last legislative session providing only an 8 per cent penalty for delinquent taxpayers, Deputy Sheriff Wrightman reported yesterday. He was not so sanguine about the law's effect in the future.

"I believe it will materially retard payment of taxes next year," he stated. "People are not going to borrow money to pay taxes when the county will carry the taxes at interest no greater than the taxpayer would have to give to secure the money."

Wrightman said he would follow Attorney-General Van Winkle's opinion and apply only the 8 per cent penalty on 1928, 1929 and 1930 delinquent taxes until the matter was adjudicated in court.

LILLIAN RODGERS HELD FOR CHECKS

Mrs. Lillian Rodgers, arrested Sunday in Tillamook, reposed last night in the county jail awaiting a hearing today on a charge of issuing checks without sufficient funds. Constable Walter DeLong went to the coast town to return her to Salem.

Counsel for Mrs. Rodgers said last night that she would probably enter a plea of not guilty today.

Recently Mrs. Rodgers entered the coffee shop business in the Bilgh building on High street. Before that business venture she had a job for some time in the state printing office.

She said yesterday after being returned here that she was not seeking to evade responsibility for any checks issued and declared she had notified friends where she was going when she left town. She said she was visiting friends in Tillamook.

NEW YORK GIRLS KEEP HAIR LOVELY

"I'm so busy; I don't know how I'd take care of my hair if I hadn't learned the way so many of my friends are doing theirs!"

Typical of what New York girls by thousands are saying about the new way so many of them are doing their hair to keep it soft, lustrous, and beautiful.

It's so effective. So simple. Just a few dashes of Danderine on the brush each time you arrange your hair. Oily film goes. The natural color of your hair is brought out. It takes on new life and sparkle!

The worst crust of dandruff is quickly dissolved by Danderine. It cleanses, soothes, invigorates the scalp. When it is used hair is easier to dress. Stays in place wonderfully. And day by day Danderine encourages your hair to grow longer, thicker, more abundant.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY O. A. Wolverton, Veteran Postmaster, Feted IS ACTIVE IN CIVIC LIFE

MONMOUTH, May 10.—Otis A. Wolverton, who is serving his 16th year as postmaster at Monmouth, today is observing his 70th birthday anniversary. He was born May 10, 1861, on the old Wolverton homestead south of Monmouth; and attended the local schools, including the Christian college, which in 1882 became the state's first normal school.

As a young man he took up farming, and was active in promoting the dairy industry of this section, and introduced purebred Jersey cattle. When appointed postmaster during the presidency of Theodore Roosevelt, he retired from farm life. He is now serving as postmaster under the sixth president—having been re-appointed by Taft, Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, besides filling a partial tenure under Wilson during the world war.

During a residence of some 30 years in Monmouth, he has served as mayor, and on the local school board. He is a member of the Monmouth Christian church, and is active in lodge circles of this county.

A daughter, Miss Leto Wolverton, is a Portland school teacher, and another daughter, Mrs. Donald Bolter, lives on the family farm near Suver. Two brothers of Mr. Wolverton were for years prominently identified with Portland professional life—the late Rev. Bruce Wolverton and the late Federal Judge Charles E. Wolverton.

Turner Christian Church Enjoys Special Programs

TURNER, May 11.—The Turner Christian church members enjoyed an excellent Mother's day. Following the Sunday school, at which 114 were present, a Mother's day program was given.

In the evening the theme was carried out at Endeavor meeting, followed by a well-prepared "sweetheart" program at the church service. Old love songs were sung and the pastor spoke on the subject, "Engaged and Then What?"

WIND DOES HEAVY DAMAGE LYONS, May 11.—Lewis Trask received a letter from the man who had his farm leased at White Salmon, Washington, that the recent windstorm had blown the barn down. Mr. Trask left for White Salmon the first of the week to make other arrangements with the renter, pertaining to shelter for his stock and feed. Last summer the farm house burner, so it is rather hard luck for Mr. Trask.

SILVERTON BAND PLANS PROGRAM

SILVERTON, May 11.—The Silvertown concert band under the direction of Hal Campbell is busily engaged preparing programs which they expect to present at the city part at Silvertown during the coming summer months.

The band meets every Monday evening at the 4L hall. Over 50 players are in attendance at the rehearsals now. Mr. Campbell states he has already received the promises of assistance from vocalists and solo instrumentalists who will assist the band in the presentation of its concerts.

CALLED TO TILLAMOOK SALEM HEIGHTS, May 11—News was received Monday that Mrs. Alice J. Pearson of Tillamook, mother of Mrs. E. E. Pruitt was stricken with paralysis Saturday while the Pruitts were outing at Florence. As soon as the message reached them Mrs. Pruitt hurried to her mother's side Sunday night. The Pruitts have recently moved from here to Salem, but are still active in community affairs here.

DISTRICT S. S. TO HOLD CONVENTION

SILVERTON HILLS, May 11.—The Silvertown district Sunday school convention will be held May 17 at the Silvertown Hills community hall with a program beginning at 2:30 p. m.

The Rev. P. W. Erickson, pastor of the American Lutheran church at Salem, will be the principal speaker. Other attractions will be musical selections from the Scotts Mills Friends church, a reading from the Scotts Mills Christian church and group singing under the leadership of T. S. McKee of Salem with Mrs. Frank Powell of Silvertown as accompanist.

PUPILS WILL BE SILVERTON GUESTS

CENTRAL HOWELL, May 11.—The eighth grade class has received an invitation from Robert Goets, superintendent of Silvertown schools, to be the guests of the Silvertown schools May 26.

Bus transportation will be furnished, a free lunch served, and in the afternoon diplomas will be presented to the successful pupils.

Members of the eighth grade class are Emogene Wood, Ruth Simmons, Bessie Darkens, Helen Nafziger, Jean Lauderback, Earl Schar, Nelson Darkens and James Lichty.

C O P O TO ELECT TODAY
STAYTON, May 11.—The Stayton chamber of commerce will hold their annual election at their meeting next Tuesday evening. W. A. Weddle retiring president has arranged a splendid program for that evening, including a speaker from Willamette and a male quartette. Each member of the quartette is said to be an artist so their numbers will undoubtedly be enjoyed.
