

GOING TO COAST
SILVERTON, May 13—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hosmer intend to motor out to Ocean Lake Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Preston who are in charge of a group of cottages there. Until a few weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Preston were in business at Silverton. They left for the beach with the hopes that Mr. Preston's health would improve. Last Sunday the Hosmers met the Prestons at Salem and enjoyed a picnic together. Mr. and Mrs. Hosmer report that Mr. Preston has greatly improved.

WOODBURN PLANS SPRING FESTIVAL

Pageant and Crowning of May Queen to be Held Friday

WOODBURN, May 13—The coronation of Miss Mabel Halverson as Queen Mabel I, will take place Friday afternoon, May 15, on the front lawn at Woodburn high school. The program, will start promptly at 1 o'clock, and will not be given in the evening, as has been done in the past. This year's pageant, which is under the direction of Miss Alma Taylor, is known as "Springtime" and is an accepted pageant appropriate for the occasion. The May queen will have the title of Proserpina.

Story Is Old One
 The story, "Springtime", is the ancient Greek myth of the changing of the seasons told in four acts.

Ceres, the goddess of the seasons, leading her daughter, Proserpina, first comes on the stage. She is accompanied by the eight attendants. This year's attendants are: Jessie Sims and Maxine Geisy, seniors; Roma Kallak and Peggy Shorey, juniors; Margaret Martin and Daisy Shrock, sophomores; Marjorie Friend and Helen Hill, freshmen.

In the first act, Pluto, god of the underworld, who is lurking about, seizes Proserpina and carries her away to become his queen. The attendants give a dance, pitying and consoling Ceres.

A water nymph enters at the beginning of the second act, bearing Proserpina's green girdle. Ceres believes that Proserpina has been swallowed by the earth and pronounces the curse of winter upon the entire earth. The north wind, bringing hosts of snowballs with her, dances on the scene at Ceres' call.

The grief of Ceres is somewhat lessened by the word brought to her by a messenger, stating that her daughter may return to her six months after every year. At that Ceres becomes joyful and announces that six months will be summer and the other six months will be winter. Proserpina comes back to Ceres, who then crowns her queen of May.

Justice Hunt will play the part of Pluto, Winona Yoder will be the water nymph, and Audrey Broyles will be the herald. Gelta Mae Hunt will portray the part of the north wind.

Besides the main characters in this impressive pageant, there will be about 40 Woodburn high school girls in the various dances and tumbling acts.
