

O. N. S. JUNIORS PRESENT PLAY

Character Work of Students Outstanding in Production

MONMOUTH, May 18.—The junior class of the Oregon Normal school presented its annual class play, which this year was "Skidding" by Aurantia Rouverol, in the auditorium Friday evening.

The play was smooth, and swiftly moving, and kept the interest of the audience at anticipatory pitch both by its dramatic and emotional appeal, and through the fine balance and impersonation of the various players.

The dramatic situation centers about the political and marital troubles in the family of a district judge in the middle west, at the period when everything is "skidding."

Miss Leona McEwan as Marian, the politically inclined daughter, and Manville Petteys as Wayne Trenton, her rather stubborn young fiancee, were outstanding in their roles. Jay Hollingsworth as Andy, the typical 17 year old brother of Marian, was a charming representation of heady youth.

Character Work Good Duane Knapp as old Judge Hardie, Marian's father, was well sustained in characterization; as was Mildred Gardner, the mother of this rather difficult family. Elizabeth Price played the part of the charming old maid aunt with rare distinction; and Hugh Edwards as "Grandpa" cleverly impersonated the dignity and philosophy of a wise old man.

Helen Reddig and Virginia Hall as the two married sisters of Marian enacted well the types of sophisticated, demanding young maidens of the present. Jack Clarke as the campaign manager, Mr. Stubbins, played his part of brusque, business-like efficiency with pleasing finish.

Aunt Milly, Elizabeth Price; Andy, Jay Hollingsworth; Mrs. Hardie, Mildred Gardner; Judge Hardie, Duane Knapp; Grandpa Hardie, Hugh Edwards; Estelle Hardie, Virginia Hall; Marian, Leona McEwan; Wayne Trenton III, Manville Petteys; Myra Hardie Wilcox, Helen Reddig; Mr. Stubbins, Jack Clarke.

Miss Florence Johnson, the director, deserves much credit for such an able production; and the various assistants and committees did much toward furthering its finished presentation.

WOODBURN WINS IN SEMI FINALS

MT. ANGEL, May 18.—The Woodburn Commercial club try, a group of charming young girl athletes, won first prize in the Marion county federation of community clubs, talent contest semifinal here Friday night.

The young ladies put on a clever acrobatic act. Hubbard had a black-face act, and Angie Dea represented a chorus, which had trained under Dr. A. F. E. Schierbaum. Dr. Schierbaum's male chorus of Norwegian singers from Monitor were present, and sang several selections. Numbers by the Mt. Angel boys' band completed the program.

Woodburn will now represent this district in the finals at the Elsinore theatre, Salem, next Friday evening.

Judges in Friday night's program were Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, state representative, Salem, Mrs. Ray Glatt, Woodburn, and Father Cyril Lebold, O. S. B., St. Benedict.

FAIRVIEW HAS SCHOOL PICNIC

4-H Club Demonstration Given as Part of Entertainment

FAIRVIEW, May 18.—The annual school picnic was held on the school grounds Saturday, May 16. A large crowd attended.

A 4-H exhibit of the cooking club was held in the morning. Ten cakes were exhibited. Billy Sehon received first award, Lawrence Pack second and Josephine Jones third. In addition to the cakes there was an attractive display of sandwiches and salads that were prepared by the club members.

The children of the school gave a "health" program and an exhibition of the athletic stunts and gym exercises they had learned during the year.

Miss McAlpine presented Herald's of Health pins to the following pupils: Vivian Benson, Clara Benson, Hattie Benson, Dorothy Benson, Helen Dent, Howard Sehon, Billy Sehon, Josephine Jones, Rowena Jones, Sarah Morse, Eugene Carver, Lawrence Pack and Gladys Pack.

Helen Dent has been a Herald of Health for six years and Howard Sehon for five years. A feature of the picnic was the baby show, in which little Dorothy Isling, the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Isling, took first prize.

After the bountiful basket dinner the married men and boys played the annual ball game, which resulted in a tie.

CHOIR IS HEARD

SCOTT'S MILLS, May 18.—Part of the choir from the Mt. Angel college seminary sang the high mass at the Crooked Finger Catholic church Sunday morning.

Marine Recalls Butler as Capable and Fair Leader

Sergeant Mack Sherman, who has charge of the recruiting office of the United States marines, in the Salem postoffice building, knew Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler when he was on duty in China, in the rather thrilling times of 1927 and '28.

Sergeant Sherman was then truckmaster of motor transport at Tientsin. The U. S. marines for 25 years had maintained a legation guard to protect American and foreign interests at the capital of China, then called Peking. That force in the period was under a colonel, with about 500 men. General Butler had charge of the Third brigade, with 4000 to 4500 men, at Tientsin and Shanghai.

Sergeant Sherman says General Butler was well liked by his troops, for whom he found good billets, and whose comforts and conveniences he looked out for carefully. Also, he was popular with the Chinese people themselves, and with the then rulers and under officials of China. He worked with them—both factions—for there were two main ones, to say nothing of a number of ambitious provincial war lords.

The party of Chang Tso Lin, Mukden war lord, was in power at Peking, but the nationalists, adhering to the program of Sun Yat Sen, were active, coming up from southern China, with Canton their central place of authority. General Butler contacted with them both, and secured guarantees for the safety of foreign interests, which all of them kept.

The safety of the Americans then in China depended on his cool judgment and his leadership as a statesman as well as a soldier, and a general in charge of the hardest of the hard-boiled forces of Uncle Sam, and the oldest in the service of the federal government.

Sergeant Sherman says the marines and ex-marines in Oregon would like in some appropriate manner, while he is in this state to pay their respects to their beloved leader, since his days in China brought him into the international picture in a larger way than he was known when he served in so important a place in that country. But his part in the service of the federal government may preclude such a gesture of fraternity and friendship on their part.

SCOTT'S MILLS HAS SENIOR BANQUET

SCOTT'S MILLS, May 18.—The juniors of the Scott's Mills high school entertained the seniors with a banquet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCracken Saturday evening. Favors of little pink baskets filled with walnuts were at each place. The centerpiece on the table was a large bouquet of pink roses. Twenty-two were served, including the seniors, juniors and members of the school faculty. Members of the sophomore class waited on the table.

CIRCUS JUST MUST BRING ELEPHANTS

Barnes Outfit Coming Here Saturday has Plenty; Other Beasts too

A gigantic colony of strange beasts is soon to be added to this city. It is composed of the greatest number and the finest animals that have ever toured America. For this mammoth zoo in the menagerie of the Al G. Barnes circus.

Heretofore the big amusement enterprise had contended with exhibiting animals in pairs and families. Here was an opportunity to create something entirely different, namely, the herd. And this has been done.

And the elephants of this great new circus number practically all the famous pachyderms in this country. The "baby section" is a big feature of the menagerie this season, including several lion cubs, three tiger whelps, a baby kangaroo and an infant camel. The elephants are wonderful performers and can do almost anything from playing jazz band instruments to dancing. Trained Hippo is Unique Feature

Another unusually interesting animal specimen is Lotus, the only trained hippopotamus. In addition there are gnus, yaks, nyghaus, ibexes, sebus, kangaroos, tapers, llamas, ant-eaters, porcupines, peccaries, wart hogs, emues, ostriches, seals, sea lions, great herds of camels and dromedaries, water buffalo, hyenas, Philippine cattle, sacred oxen, a summer hotel full of monkeys and every variety of deer, bear and cat tribes. These animals are those used for exhibition purposes only and are in no way part of the immense trained animal show that has been imported from Europe for the present tour.

All else connected with this colorful new circus is in keeping with its menagerie as to bigness. The arena program is composed of the cream of both shows. The pick of all their horses are exhibited. There are more clowns than America ever saw before. The grand revue, which opens the main tent program, is the biggest thing in pageantry ever attempted anywhere. The circus will exhibit in Salem Saturday, May 23.

The Al G. Barnes zoo is one of the world's largest and finest, the doors will open at 1 and 7 p. m., the performances to the big show beginning at 2 and 8 p. m.
