

POETRY WEEK EVENTS TODAY

Ethel Romig Fuller, Howard
McKinley Corning, Verne
Bright to Come Here

Poetry that has caught the critical ear of America's foremost reviewers, and which has brought national recognition to two Oregon poets, will be read by the poets themselves, this evening in the auditorium of the Salem Public library as the Salem Arts League's contribution to the observance of national poetry week. Ethel Romig Fuller and Howard McKinley Corning, both of Portland, are the poets. It is the desire of the arts league that as many students of the Salem high school and others interested in poetry that has received high acclaim by the leading critics, come to this program, and assist in honoring these poets who are drawing the attention of the literary world to Oregon.

Not only are the poems of Ethel Romig Fuller appearing in the leading national magazines but she has published a book, "White Peaks and Green," which has received high acclaim. The Christian Century and Good Housekeeping have carried many of her poems. She is also a feature writer.

Corning Deemed Oregon's Best Known Howard McKinley Corning is declared to be Oregon's most widely known poet. He has published two books: "These People," and "The Mountain in the Sky." The last book is devoted to Oregon themes. Corning appears in many New York literary journals, such as Books and The Saturday Review of Literature.

Ethel Romig Fuller will read from her book and talk informally about her poems. Howard McKinley Corning will read from his last book and also speak of his experiences in New York.

The Muse and Mirror, a poetry publication, in speaking of Corning's work, says: "Pruning Vines" is the strongest, most significant poem in the book. When the winds of time have blown, 'Pruning Vines' will stand a representative sonnet." Miss Harriet Long, Oregon state librarian,

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT DISPLAY OF AMERICAN FLAG?

Here are 15 questions, selected from a long list, on which 140 sixth grade pupils in Salem wrote last week in connection with the flag code contest sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary. How many can you answer?

At what hours shall the flag be displayed?

What special days shall the flag be displayed?

What is the meaning of the flag flown at half mast?

How is the flag raised and lowered when it is to be flown at half mast?

How shall the flag be displayed on Memorial day?

How shall the United States flag be carried in a procession with other flags?

How displayed when a number of different flags are grouped or in a cluster?

How should the flag be hung when not displayed from a staff?

When may it be draped or twisted into festoons or rosettes?

May the flag ever be used for a covering for a table, chair, pulpit, ceiling, etc.?

May the flag be placed below where anyone is sitting or standing?

How may the flag be displayed in a float in a parade?

How may old, torn and worn out flags be disposed of?

When do you salute the flag?

highly recommends "Joachim Miller Crosses the Mountains." Another reviewer says of this poem... "It has all of Corning's creative attributes put together at once; in nuances of feeling and to the rhythms of experiences it marches to the spiritual frontier."

Monday afternoon, word was received by Mrs. F. G. Franklin, chairman of the Salem Arts League committee in charge of the National Poetry Week program, that a third Oregon poet will be present at the observance program in the auditorium of the Salem Public Library this evening.

This is Verne Bright of Forest Grove, whose poetry appears in many poetry journals and national magazines. He has to his credit many beautiful sonnets of the sea. The Salem Arts League feels specially honored to have Ethel Romig Fuller, Howard McKinley Corning and Verne Bright assist in celebrating poetry week.

Arrangements have been made whereby the poets will be at the Atlas Book store, Tuesday afternoon to autograph copies of their books. Mrs. Fuller will visit the Oregon state library. Mrs. Franklin will entertain Corning and Bright and Mrs. John Clifford will entertain Mrs. Fuller.

When You CAN'T QUIT

Fatigue is the signal to rest. Obey it if you can. When you can't, keep cool and carry-on in comfort.

Bayer Aspirin was meant for just such times, for it insures your comfort. Freedom from those pains that nag at nerves and wear you down. One tablet will block that threatening headache while it is still just a threat. Take two or three tablets when you've caught a cold, and that's usually the end of it.

Carry Bayer Aspirin when you travel. Have some at home and keep some at the office. Like an efficient secretary, it will often "save the day" and spare you many uncomfortable, unproductive hours. Perfectly harmless, so keep it handy, keep it in mind, and use it. No man of affairs can afford to ignore the score and more of uses explained in the proven directions. From a grumbling tooth to those rheumatic pains which seem almost to bend the bones, Bayer Aspirin is ready with its quick relief—and always works. Neuralgia, Neuritis. Any nagging, needless pain.

Get the genuine tablets, stamped with the Bayer cross. They are of perfect purity, absolute uniformity, and have the same action every time. Why experiment with imitations costing a few cents less? The saving is too little. There is too much at stake. But there is economy in the purchase of genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets in the large bottles.

BLAZE DEVASTATES TOWN OF LUDLOW

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—(AP) Fire of undetermined origin Saturday swept the little desert town of Ludlow in San Bernardino county 185 miles east of here, destroying 10 buildings in the business district and a number of homes.

Damage was estimated at $150,000.

Most of the population of 700 fled to the desert when the flames, fanned by a hot wind, gained headway and threatened to destroy every building. Spectacular flames occurred when the fire reached gasoline stations, particularly the plant of the Shell Oil company, but aside from a few persons temporarily overcome by smoke and gas, there were no casualties.
