RED CROSS GROUP EXTENDS SERVICE

Willamette Chapter Aiding People in Economic Crisis, Report

Willamette chapter, American Red Cross, has broadened its services in Marion and Polk county within the past few months, and is a vital factor in helping solve problems which come with the present economic situation. This is evident from the report of Miss Thora V. Boesen, executive secretary, just submitted to the executive board.

Besides the swimming camp which the association has carried on successfully, and the junior Red Cross work which is done through the schools, the local chapter has dealt with a number of purely social problems which it took more than financial assistance to relieve, and also with inter-county and inter-state problems.

Nearly 100 people enjoyed the dinner at the noon hour served at long tables under the trees. A short business meeting was held preceding the ball game and it was decided to complete plans for sponsoring a boy scout troop at the social which will be given Friday at the Eldridge school house under the auspices of the Eldridge Sunday school.

Guests for the day which included those from other cities were Mr. and Mrs. Dill and two daughters of Portland, Mrs. Walter Thompson of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Nusom and daughter Sherry Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Thurmon all of Forest Grove.

AT HOME FOR SUMMER

WEST STAYTON, June 10.—Herman Darley has returned to his home here where he will spend the summer. Mr. Darley has just completed his first term at Oregon State college.

Investigation revealed that the father left the family when his fair wage became insufficient to care for the members; besides, the home was not kept neat and tidy and there was dissension between members of the family.

In the end, the Red Cross contacted the father and conferences with him resulted in his returning to the family, the report on the family concludes. Nine classes in First Aid were being conducted in the two counties, Marion and Polk, with between 150 and 200 persons receiving this instruction. About one out of every 400 persons in the county is enrolled in these classes.

BUILDING OUTLOOK STILL DEPRESSED

Building conditions in Salem continue abnormally depressed according to E. C. Bushnell, city building inspector. Statistics in Bushnell's office show that during 1931 about 30 permits for new houses have been granted at his office while in 1928 and 1927 building was carried on at the rate of virtually one new house daily.

The trend locally is reflected in national figures, Bushnell stated yesterday. According to federal government reports, new residence construction in 1931 was only 46.8 per cent of the mark reached in 1929. In other lines of building new construction was only 73 per cent of that in 1929.
