The actor stared, unblinking. Then he roared:
"It takes nerve to shoot a man, damn you. And you haven't the guts to pull the trigger."

The gangster's pals led him away—as soon as the heat of battle had died. An admittance was born that lasted unknown to Wolheim as long as Wolheim lived.

Night after night the gangster sat in the front row under the spell of Captain Hagg under the show closed in Chicago. While Wolheim lay fatal ill, baskets of flowers bearing no card were carried into his sick room day after day. They were the gangster's.

TEACHERS are not exempt from the state income tax, which is due June 25, the tax commission announced. It has been the general impression that school teachers were not required to pay the tax, as they are exempt from the federal income tax. But this is not the case and John Carlin stated he could see no reason why they should be exempt.

Members of the tax commission are busy this week, and will be even more so the next two weeks. Many inquiries are made at the office, some of them because people have not informed themselves. For instance one woman asked if she had to pay a tax on a check received January 1, 1930 for services rendered in December. The law only covers receipts during 1930, not what was received for 1929.

About 26 applicants for jobs as operators' license examiners are attending the school which started here Wednesday under Kent Shoemaker, of such applicants. From this number eight will be selected to give examinations when that law becomes operative on July 1. The school is expected to be continued for several days.

Dr. William Pearce of La Grande, president of the state association of optometrists and secretary of the state board of optometry, is here assisting in the operators' license examination school. The matter of eyes is an important phase of the examination.

Albert K. Wiesendanger, forest ranger at Cascade Locks, was a capitol visitor Wednesday on his way to Corvallis where he will give an address to the 4-H club convention on forest fire safety. Wiesendanger has been transferred to the Mt. Baker National forest in Washington for the summer season.

A lamb as a pet, and which performs the duties of a shepherd dog in bringing home the sheep, is housed at the state training school for girls. One of the girls at the school made a pet of the lamb, and now it chases home the cows in the evening and acts as a regular dog.

Speaking of sheep, Dr. W. M. Lytle, state veterinarian reports that during the past week various shepherds in Morrow county sent about 35,000 sheep into Montana for the summer feeding. The move was caused by the unusual dry situation in that area.

Two Salem young men, both graduates of Willamette university, returned to the capital city yesterday to argue cases before the state supreme court. William E. Walsh, district attorney of Coos county, was here to argue in the case of Lynn Henne, who appealed on a conviction of a statutory charge. J. F. Engel was here before the court from Jackson county.

Fred Buchtel, former member of the public service commission, was a visitor in Salem yesterday and paid his respects to various state officers. Buchtel is a statistician in Portland. He expressed his interest in the outcome of the utilities commissioner's order reducing the Portland street car fare from 15 to 7 cents, which matter has been taken into court by the traction company.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(AP)—Sir Hubert Wilkins' trans-Arctic submarine, Nautilus, tonight was more than 1,000 miles at sea on her way to London and the North Pole. A radiogram from the New York American from Sir Hubert reported his craft in 47.50 west longitude and 40.40 north latitude.

He said the Nautilus had made 250 miles in 24 hours. The ice patrol cutter Pontchartrain, escorting the Nautilus, had turned back. The explorer, who expects to voyage 42 days under the Arctic ice, reported his men in high spirits.

"Our radio is working splendidly and the telephone as well," the message read.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(AP)—The plane in which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh are shortly to fly to the orient, is equipped with synchronizers which permit mounting a machine gun for firing between the spinning propeller blades.

This does not matter, however, that the Lindberghs intend to arm their ship against the possible forays with brigands or beats. The fact the plane has the synchronizers was revealed in a statement issued by the company which made the motor, comparing the present engine with the one Col. Lindbergh had in the Spirit of St. Louis, in which he crossed the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Martin left Monday by auto for Medford where they will be master of Macleay grange and Mrs. Martin is lecturer. The Martins will visit relatives in southern Oregon before returning home.

establish headquarters at Nanchang. Hankow reports, however, said Nanchang itself might fall to advancing Reds as government troops, with shattered morale, were offering only feeble resistance.

The slaughter near Kianfu took place when the Reds attacked 3,000 government troops, Massacre Troops. Fearing to charge against raking machine gun fire, the Reds drove non-combatants before them. Government troops, knowing the Red attackers lurked behind the human shield, opened fire and mowed down thousands. Machine guns overheated and jammed as the carnage progressed and the Reds broke through to massacre the government forces.

Overflowing from Kiangsi province, 40,000 other communists were reported descending upon Yenching in northern Fukien. Provincial soldiers retreated before them and foreign missionaries fled to the seaport of Foochow. The American refugees said the whole country about Yenching was overrun by Reds.

It is her first dramatic picture for the talking screen. And, for those who recall the fiery emotional actress of "Children of Divorce," the forgotten "girl next door" of "Wings," the forceful performance of "Ladies of the Mob," and the scene in the detective office in "No Limit," this means a greater Clara Bow.

Directors and studio executives have insisted "Clara Bow is one of our finest dramatic stars—if given a chance, she'll prove it." And those who have noted these flashes of emotional fervor which spiced the customary Bow "flapper" roles have agreed with them, and clamored for Bow in dramatic characters.

"Kick In" is said to be conclusive proof that Clara's ability is not confined to the so-called "flapper" roles. All she needed was the right story and the opportunity—"Kick In" gives her these.

In "Kick In," as the fighting, loving victim of circumstances who battles the law to keep her sweetheart; as a desperate, helpless woman striving to protect her lover's birthright, a chance to go "straight," she is a new revelation.

"Kick In" is a human, drama of down-to-earth emotions. Willard Mack, its author, is one of the outstanding stars of the American stage. The author of many Broadway successes, most noteworthy of which is "Kick In."

Life Held Cheap Says Newspaper Anent Slayings

MEXICO CITY, June 10.—(AP)—The newspaper Universal Graphic today declared that the "assassination" of the two Mexican students, Emilio Cortes Rubio and Manuel Gomez at Ardmore, Okla., showed the slight importance placed on the lives of foreigners, especially Mexicans, in southern states of the United States.

The paper added that at least there was hope the incident at Ardmore would serve hereafter to restrict the "right of police to kill for mere sport."

ROSEDALE, June 9.—An interested audience met Sunday evening to hear the program given by the Ladies' Missionary society.

Three dialogues were given. One, "The Losing of the Nations," depicted the various nations in heathen darkness, bound and blinded by the spirit of evil, being loosed by the spirit of Christianity. The other two were on home missionary work. A reading, "Heaven Gods," was given by Mrs. M. Cammack.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith sang a quartet composed of Miss Willoughby Home of Creswell, Mrs. Cammack, Clifford Smith and F. W. Cammack gave two numbers, "Send the Light," and "Seeking the Last."

Today is the last day for "June Moon" in which Jack Oakie and Frances Dee enact a pretty and amusing drama at Warner Bros. Elsinore.

Jack Oakie's famous smile—really a grin—is just as wide-spread in this as in his previous pictures. There is a bit more sophistication to this picture too, than that has been in most of his preceding pictures.

Friday will see the temperamental, red-headed star Clara Bow, in "Kick In." This play gives the young "flapper" actress a chance at real dramatic acting.

It is her first dramatic picture for the talking screen. REPORTS OF EIGHT YET ALIVE DENIED

Medway, succeeded today in establishing communication with the eight men who were trapped in a rear compartment when the submarine went to the bottom in 20 fathoms after a collision yesterday.

Prisoners Report
Solves Uninjured
The prisoners reported themselves uninjured, but the length of time they would be able to survive with their limited supply of oxygen was necessarily fast diminishing.

So far as the Medway could establish, only eight of the 15 men missing remained alive. It was assumed that the other 10 were drowned in one of the forward compartments, which were flooded when the Chinese steamer Yu Ta ripped a great hole in the Poseidon just forward of the conning tower.

When the Japanese salvage tug reached the scene it was announced that officers in charge of the rescue work were hopeful of lifting the submarine, which is in comparatively shallow water, within 24 hours. But, as time passed, there was no word from the tug, the Harbinger, the Cumberland, the Hermes or any other ship at the scene other than that they were continuing their efforts.

Low Busy With War on Weeds; Notices go Out
Walter Low, city street commissioner, is busy this week waging war on weeds which grow ten inches or higher on vacant lots. Thus far most of his efforts have been confined to sending written notices to property holders, telling them of the provisions of the city ordinance which in vacant lots must be kept free from weeds.

If the orders are not complied with in five days, the commission is authorized to cut the grass, and weeds and to place a lien on the property. Some weed and grass removal has already been done on property where owners reside outside the city and have taken no step to comply with the ordinance.
