Edgar Snyder, assistant secretary of labor, said was vital for the maintenance of the American standard of living.

Mrs. Edward Everett Gaan, sister of Vice-President Curtis, endorsed the policies of the president in combating the depression. She said "There never was a time when it was more important to keep a republican at the head of this government."

Says Recognition of Hoover Coming

Departing from a prepared address, Senator Fess said: "When the American people realize the service of President Hoover he will not only be unanimously re-nominated but overwhelmingly re-elected."

Previously he had criticized party insurgency, declaring it to be a force without responsibility and destructive of party welfare.

Some republican independents in the senate have called for a contest against Mr. Hoover's re-nomination.

Postmaster - General Brown opened the Hoover rally in an address of welcome. He spoke of the president as one "whose courage, patience, patriotism and wisdom has made us all proud."

Mrs. Mary Fisher Brown, of Pennsylvania, a daughter of former Governor Fisher, drew cheers by an announcement of a possible candidate for the republican presidential nomination.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania has been mentioned in political discussions as a possible candidate for the republican presidential nomination.

The fleet is scheduled to leave Vancouver at 7:30 this morning. Henry R. Crawford, president of the local chamber of commerce, and Lee Eyerly, treasurer of the state board of aeronautics and local aviator, sent telegrams to Major Tinker urging that the fleet come to Salem.

Up to late last night no word had been received here of the exact itinerary.

Overeating Only Reason For Fat, Savant Asserts

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—(P)—Dr. L. H. Newburgh of the University of Michigan, told the American Medical association today that the entire scientific explanation of why people become fat is because they eat too much. He attacked excuses given physicians by patients.

"Obese people sometimes make the mistake of measuring their food by bulk. They eat until they are comfortably filled, but never stop to consider the food itself. They do not realize that some foods are highly concentrated and contain far more value than others."

Army Life Pays; Top Kick Leaves $100,000 Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—(AP)—John J. Fitzgerald, former top sergeant in the United States army, died here today, leaving an estate of $100,000. Fitzgerald often told friends a person could save more money in the army than in civilian life, and during his years of service, collected no salary.

When he retired, the government handed him $18,000 in pay and interest, and a pension. Investments accounted for the remainder of the estate.

family income. He worked unremittently and he lived according to the stern precepts of the peasantry from which he came. There was no time for foie-de-rois.

Today loaded with honors at the age of 74, he remains the simple man of the people, aloof from the frivolities of Paris, an early riser, a hard worker, a thrifty Frenchman of the middle class.

In his long service to the state Doanier has had training somewhat similar to that of the late President Taft of the United States. Each had long experience as a colonial governor.

Doanier in Indo-China, Taft in the Philippines. Each was a lawyer, although Doanier practiced infrequently.

But between the American and Frenchman there is one great difference. Taft's sense of humor is the theme of countless stories. There is no such string of pleasantries about Doanier.

The man who will be the 15th president of the third French republic carries his first franc as an engraver's apprentice. He won a degree of bachelor of science at night school and settled down as a teacher in a country high school. He married early and had eight children.

From pedagogics he went to country journalism and from journalism to politics. Elected to parliament, he displayed too much strength to please his party supporters and he was offered the post in Indo-China, that he might safely be buried and forgotten.

He took the job—but not the oblivion. On his return to France, he towered more than ever.

BY 1904 he was president of the chamber of deputies and of sufficient stature to match himself against Armand Fallieres for the presidency of the nation.

Falling of election, he dropped out of the public eye for years. In 1921 he started his comeback by taking the post of minister of finance in a Briand cabinet. He also had a portfolio in the Briand ministry four years later.

Doanier was elected president of France from the senate, where he was the presiding officer. Although the post is not on a par with the premiership so far as political power is concerned, its incumbent takes precedence at all ceremonial functions. It is looked upon as the crowning honor of the nation's political life.

an interpretation of the pope's recent order that Catholic Action was under the direction of the bishops. Believing this to mean that he had full charge of this work in his diocese, the bishop dissolved all Catholic associations—thus going farther than the government in regard to the organization.

Negotiations To Be Long and Difficult
Bishop Cosmo spent several years in Washington as auditor of the papal delegation.

When the Vatican's reply to the government's note will be delivered remained uncertain tonight. Both parties to the controversy considered the negotiations to be well under way and agreed, also, that final settlement would be slow and difficult.

Under the papal policy toward Catholic Action announced in Osservatore Romano, diocesan bishops have more direct charge of branches of the society than in the past, but the general supervision remains with the Vatican.

Butler Asserts War Debt Must Be Charged Off

PARIS, June 11.—(AP)—Asserting the debts of the World War must be charged to "profit and loss," Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, today told members of the American club at a luncheon that the world needed new men who would take a constructive lead in the present economic and social crisis.

All that has been done toward seeking a solution for the present situation, he said, was to try to find somebody to pay the cost of the World War.

"We might just as well try to find somebody to pay the cost of operating the sun," he added. "It can't be done."

Horseback King Picture Stolen

PARIS, June 12.—(Friday)—(AP)—The newspaper Le Journal this morning says the painting of Louis XIII on horseback has been stolen from the second floor of the chateau of Versailles.

Secrecy has surrounded the theft since then, because it has been attributed to "a foreign visitor whose position will create a sensation."

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—Unwilling to take a step that might imperil his home people of Canton in their growing strife with the Nanking government, Chao-Chu Wa has resigned as China's envoy to the United States.

Long out of sympathy with the policies of the Nanking regime under Chiang Kai-Shek, the breaking point was reached when he was instructed to seek an export permit for munitions which he feared might be used against Cantonese.

Salvage Vessel Rushing to Aid In Raising Sub

WEIHAIWEI, China, June 11.—(AP)—The American salvage ship Poseidon tonight was rushing to join British and Japanese vessels trying to raise the British submarine Poseidon in the Yellow Sea, but hope had been virtually abandoned that any of the 18 men trapped in the boat were alive.

The American vessel, carrying compressed air apparatus from Tientsin, was expected shortly at the point where the Poseidon plunged to the bottom under 120 feet of water Tuesday after being rammed by the Chinese steamer Yuta.

PEGGY ANN'S PET TROUT IS CAUGHT

Gibson denied it was a pet fish of Peggy Ann and questioned Dr. Boone's identification.

"Creditable witnesses," he declared, "assure me that there was no responsive gleam in the eye of the fish when Dr. Boone was supposed to have recognized him."

Gibson charged that Jahncs was motivated by fear that further avial negotiations might "negotiate him out of a job" and that for that reason he was seeking to destroy the good name of the ambassador to Belgium who often takes part in naval conferences.

To safeguard his character Gibson wrote to Jahncs that he was sending copies of the correspondence "to the president of the United States and anybody else I can think of."

Gibson said the attack on his "piscatorial character" had been inspired by jealousy on the part of Jahncs who was envious of his "superlative skill in fishing."

PUBLIC HEALTH MAN LEAVES FOR NORTH

Dr. Leroy Wilkes, medical director of the American Health association, left Wednesday night after spending three days here looking over the health set-up in Marion county. He went from here to Wenatchee, Wash., where he will attend the Washington state tuberculosis association meeting.

Dr. Wilkes visited health districts in the north end of the county yesterday, and in the late afternoon addressed a staff meeting of the health workers. He makes periodical trips over the country to give and pick up new ideas on public health work. He is especially anxious to see public health agencies confine their activities to those fields which bring definite returns to the community.

All the Victorians are not dead! And one of them is a Salem high school student, judging from an anecdote related in the annual report of one of the faculty members.

The teacher says of certain class work: "Another boy read 25 books. He said he enjoyed all except the 'Scarlet Letter.'"

"What does 'A' stand for?" he asked me.

"And when I told him—" "Well," he said, "I thought it did, but we didn't talk about that in my day."

NEW TAXES BRING STATE LARGE SUM

1930, only the interest received in 1930 should be included in the return.

These tax Earnings Prior to 1930
"All interest received should be treated in the same manner. If only one month of a six months' interest earnings is earned in 1930, only one month should be included in the return. If two months interest is earned in 1930, only two months interest should be included and so on.

The same rule applies to salaries and the taxpayer should not include in his income tax return salaries or wages paid him in 1930, which was earned in 1929, prior to the effective date of the act. But the 12 months wages or salary earned in 1930 are taxable and should be returned in the 1930 statement.

These rulings are similar to ones made in the administration of the intangibles act last year and similar to those of the federal government when the income tax first went into effect in 1913.

It is not the intention of the act to reach back and tax income earned prior to the time the law went into effect."

Power Rates at Pine Creek and Lakeview Lower

The lighting rates of the California Public Service company which operates at Lakeview and Pine Creek were reduced 12 per cent in an order handed down here Thursday by C. M. Thomas, public service commissioner. The gross reduction was 10 per cent.

The usual procedure of the commissioner was followed at Thursday's hearing of the case. Claude R. Lester, chief engineer for the commission, appeared as chief witness for the state and presented a study of the utility. He recommended the reduction contained in the order.

The reduction will result in a saving of $5000 annually.

Petitions for two initiative measures to be referred to the voters of Oregon at the general election next year, will be placed in circulation within the next few weeks by George Rylander of Portland, it was announced here Thursday.

One of the proposed initiative measures will provide for a flat $3 annual license fee on pleasure automobiles. The other will provide for the repeal of the civil service law in Oregon.

The completed initiative petitions shall be filed with the secretary of state by July 1, 1932.

Rylander said the civil service law was unpopular in certain sections of the state.
