ERRORS FOUND IN EINSTEIN FIGURES

BERLIN, June 13—(AP)—It took two years for German scientists, after observing the solar eclipse in Sumatra in 1929, to prove that Dr. Albert Einstein erred by about a half second of an arc in the estimates on which his theory of relativity is based. It took only two minutes today, however, for Professor Einstein to remark that if the facts disproved the theory the theory must be changed.

Only last night the scientific world learned the Einstein theory had received a slight jolt back in 1929 when P. F. Freundlich, the astronomer, and other members of the German Sumatra expedition observed the eclipse of the sun of May 9, 1929, with two telescopes.

The time since then has been occupied in the examination of over 100,000 photographic plates. These plates, however, represent only the observations of one of the two telescopes, so that Professor Freundlich insists the relativity theory, as such, still stands because there is a guess as to what correction of either Einstein or Freundlich is yet in store.

According to Professor Einstein, Professor Freundlich's measurements are the best ever made and he accepts them as giving a plastic description of his work.

BRUENING VICTORY IS NOW FORECAST

BERLIN, June 13 (AP)—The belief prevailed in political circles here tonight that the way has been paved for a victory for Chancellor Bruening and his government next Tuesday.

The belief was based on the apparent result of Bruening's talks with party leaders after his return from Neudeck, where he conferred with President Paul von Hindenburg and by the warning given in the Reichsbank decision to raise the discount rate two per cent.

On Tuesday the reichstag committee of elders will meet to decide whether to yield to the national socialist and communist demands for an immediate convocation of parliament or to support the government's contention that a session of the legislative body would be disastrous at this time.

On the one hand, it is believed, the old veteran Von Hindenburg stiffened the Bruening government's back, and on the other hand the Bourse showed to what consequences populist support for the opposition motion could be likely to lead.

Realization of this is believed to have sobered the reactionary wing of the populists and to have made them more ready to support the government.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hartman left a few days ago for Wapakoneta, Ohio, their former home, where they will spend the remainder of the summer visiting with friends and relatives. Upon their return they will visit in several southern California cities before returning to Salem.

The last meeting of the H. G. L. club meets at the home of Mrs. Bill Leaf, Thursday afternoon.

The afternoon was spent playing cards. Prizes went to Mrs. Lester Green, Mrs. W. O. McDonald.
