Cherry, Berry Growers Both Lose by Rains

Cherry growers here yesterday were joining in their lament with strawberry men, all of whom reported heavy damage due to recent rains. Such growers of cherries as W. I. Staley declared that their prospects for a fine crop a fortnight ago had been totally reversed by the downpour, Royal Anne cherries being subjects te severe cracking. One strawberry grower yester-day said he thought his yield had been cut 50 per cent by the rains. Mattresses from factory to home, Ask about our wool mattresses. Renovat-ers and fumigators. New Lease For Department to Achieve Saving RIMOR

A new lease, covering floor space required in the Oregon building in Portland by the state grain department, part of the state dairy and food commission and other bureaus under the jursdiction of Max Gehlhar, director of the new state agricultural department, will save the state approximately $5622 during the next five years.

the previous lease entered into laws claim the rates are too high, by the state in 1928. The old especially on intangibles, the tax lease was presumed to have covered a period of 10 years, at 9.5 on a six per cent yield. cents per square foot for space used. Gehlhar held that the lease was not binding on the lease was not binding on the bles tax for the year of 1930.

Will Have no Announcement Until Report Received: House Control Issue

While Congressman W. C. Hawley is giving earnest considerable thought to the problem of new taxation to meet federal deficits, he said yesterday he would express no opinion on the subject until he has received an annual report of the treasury department to be completed as of July 1, 1931. The house committee on taxation will not be appointed until December.

Whether the republicans or democrats will control the next congress is a matter of speculation at this time, Representative Hawley said.

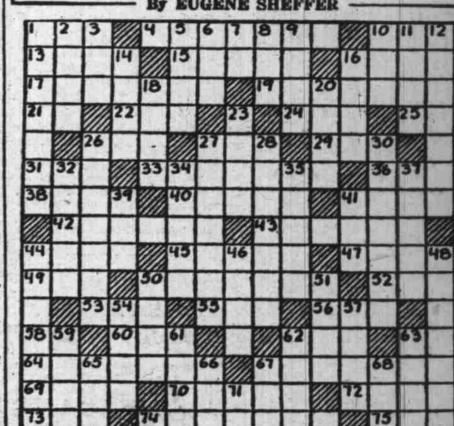

"Should the republican party remain in power," Hawley con-tinued, "it will name 12 or 18 members of the committees of 21." He indicated that the election of committees would be delayed until after the organization is completed.

Hawley announced that he probably would call a meeting of the house republican caucus committee early in November. This committee includes one republican member of the house from each state.

"Among the important matters to be considered when congress the election of a speaker to succeed the late Nicholas Longworth. There will be a large number of aspirants for this office and if would not be surprising to me if a 'dark horse' wins. Candidates for this office will be considered at the republican caucus."

Rumor of an impending injunction proceedings against the exist-ing state income tax law and state intangibles tax was about the city The new lease was negotiated yesterday but no person would by Mr. Gehihar Friday following admit they would start the pro-
