Securities at New York and Berlin Shoot Upward At News of Plan

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Copyright, 1931, by Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 20.—(AP)—The world of finance today saw a rift in the clouds which have been gathering with the ominous appearance of forming a storm center over central Europe.

Securities in the New York and Berlin markets bounded upward, and although markets in London and Paris were closed, nervous tension was relieved, as the news went around the world that President Hoover was discussing with leaders of both political parties in Washington possible steps to alleviate economic stress both at home and abroad, and particularly in Germany.

The New York stock market, which had been drifting lower for a fortnight in a state of stagnation, reaching extremes not experienced in five years, was able to record one of the most vigorous advances of the year. Advances ranged from $2 to more than $10 a share. Such issues as U. S. Steel, American Can and American Telephone gained $6 and $7 a share, Union Pacific and Santa Fe railroads gained $1 and $11.

Turnover Exceeds
Preceding Days
The turnover for the two-hour session, aggregating 1,500,000 shares, was larger than for any of the preceding five-hour sessions of the week, and was the largest for a Saturday since March 23. German obligations led the advance in the New York bond market. The Young plan issue pushing up $50.25 per bond of $1000, par value.

Wall Street bankers generally acclaimed the announcement from Washington as highly constructive, but were disinclined to comment until some definite plan of action is disclosed. The stock market, however, had come to most to a standstill in a period of painful waiting for any straw in the wind, and greeted the news in no uncertain manner.

Wall Street had no illusions that the end of the economic depression was at hand, realizing that necessary readjustments take time. However, the news out that the violence of the upturn in stocks was primarily due to the fact that bears had been caught napping, and that many traders had left town for the week end, and offerings were light.

tion and reticence pending further development of what is widely described as one of the most encouraging of post-war times.

No communique was issued after the cabinet meeting, but the newspapers were crowded with editorial comment.

The Democratic Tageblatt characterized the developments in Washington as marking "a turning point in the history of Europe and America," but warned that "first there will be much patient detail to be gone through."

"America," the editorial said, "will earn the name of a great power of peace, if Mr. Hoover's initiative brings in this generation a world locarno. . . Mr. Hoover will be celebrated not only by his own people but by all the peoples of the world as a benefactor of humanity."

Even the nationalist press, which all along has refused to admit that anything tangible would result from Chancellor Bruening's visit with Prime Minister MacDonald at Chequers, hailed Mr. Hoover's move as of the highest significance.

FLAG DAY PROGRAM
IS HELD BY W. R. C.
At a meeting of the local W. R. C., held Saturday in Miller's hall, Flag day was observed with an appropriate program. About 40 members enjoyed the afternoon.

The following program was enjoyed by the group.
"Battle Hymn of the Republic," sung by the assembly.
History of the American flag, by Mrs. Bernice Bouffleur.
Flag salute by entire assembly.
Piano solo given by Sophia Callison.
Piano and violin duet, given by Madeline and Alleen Goodenough.

Cushman Indian Hospital Plans Aided by Tribe

TACOMA, June 20.—(AP)—The last obstacle to the erection of permanent buildings at the Cushman Indian hospital here was removed today when members of the Puyallup tribe voted 41 to 14 to sell the land to the United States government for $223,500.

At its next session congress will appropriate the purchase price and is also expected to make available funds for the construction of permanent hospital buildings. In the past the government has refused to build because it did not have title to the land.

PROBE STORY

Taking one of the chief roles in the "mystery" surrounding the strange death of Starr Finkhull, pretty New York "Flame Girl," is her 19-year-old sister, Elizabeth, also known as Tucker and Sylvia. In appearing before the Nassau County Grand Jury probing what is believed to be the murder of the madcap girl who experienced "every sensation" in life before her untimely death, the attractive younger sister tried to straighten out conflicting accounts of her own movements after Starr disappeared.

the northwest, there was no reason, physical or otherwise, why Roseburg should not be chosen as a location for the home."

Referring to a statement attributed to Russell that at the time Eugene gave its endorsement to Roseburg, Eugene did not realize the size and nature of the proposed institution, for which $1,000,000 has been appropriated for the first construction, Dr. Stewart said that apparently this was the underlying motive for Eugene's present action.

Dr. Stewart said Roseburg herself did not realize the magnitude of the proposed construction at the time she first solicited help in obtaining the home, but that he did not believe that because the magnitude of the project is above our original expectation is any reason why Eugene should not keep its pledge.

Dr. Alexander Muirhead, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, criticized statements attributed to Russell relative to Roseburg church facilities.

"Roseburg," he said, "has something that Eugene does not have. I venture to say that if our chamber of commerce gave an endorsement as Eugene gave to Roseburg, that every business man in this city would stand by that endorsement with civic pride."

"Regarding our churches we have every denomination that Eugene has, and are apparently doing more effective work, as evidenced by the trustworthiness of our pledged word."

HUGO BLACK SAYS HOOVER 'AMUSING'

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 20.—(AP)—United States Senator Hugh L. Black, democrat, Alabama, tonight characterized as "both amusing and tragic" the activities of President Hoover to divert the minds of the people of the United States from their troubles to Europe's troubles.

"Although Mr. Hoover minimized the importance of world trade in his opening campaign speech at Indianapolis," Senator Black said in a prepared statement, "we find him now announcing with a flare of trumpets that he will revive American business by restoring prosperity to Europe."

"At Indianapolis he proclaimed an empty plan which promised nothing for American citizens who buy 90 per cent of American goods. He now loudly asserts that he will give American assistance to Europe, which purchases far less than ten per cent of American products. This is exactly in line with his policy of feeding starving Europeans and starving hungry Americans."

Announcement of Policy:

TO MY MANY CUSTOMERS AND SALEM MOTORISTS:

Following the 5 1/2c increase in wholesale prices of gasoline as announced Thursday by the major gasoline distributing companies we are pleased to announce that although our price to the consumer has been increased, we will still be able to sell genuine Union gasoline at the lowest price obtainable in Salem or West Salem.

Effective today our price will be 18c and 21c for Union and Union Ethyl, respectively. This, you will note, is as low as that quoted by any retailer in the city or in West Salem.

Hereafter Doolittle's Master Service Station will operate on exactly that policy, selling AS LOW AS THE LOWEST in this vicinity.

Upon immediate notice we will be prepared to meet lower prices announced by any local station. We would appreciate any information on any such price change by our friends.

Yours for the lowest gasoline price in Salem.

KERR PROPOSES CUT IN SALARY POSTPONEMENT IS SUGGESTED

Recommendation Is to be Made at Higher Board Meeting Monday

the decision. "Salaries at the college always have been considerably lower than those in other institutions of the same type. Yet the staff has always shown a splendid spirit of cooperation."

"There is no question about economic difficulties confronting the state. Distress is widespread and real, with unemployment general and acute."

Demand For Service
Increasing Just Now
Prices for many farm products have not been so low in a generation and taxes are delinquent in a much larger proportion than usual. Meanwhile the demands on the type of service this college has to render have been increased with the economic difficulties in which the state has become involved. Call for assistance in agriculture and industries are more numerous, widespread and insistent now than ever. But the funds are drastically reduced.

"In reducing the budgets the college has come to realize that, at best some efficiency must be sacrificed. The offer of the faculty in this matter represents the efforts of the staff not only to share economic burdens of the public and to distribute sacrifices equally throughout the staff, but it is also a move to preserve and maintain, to the fullest extent possible, all avenues of service that carry the benefits of the institution to the state."

"The task of making the budgets meet the reduced income is bound to be most difficult. If the board finds that this will be impossible without reduction of salaries, it is assumed that the basis of such reduction, whatever the amount may be, will be applied to all members of the college staff and be uniform throughout the state institutions of higher learning."

In the revised budget report to be submitted by the college for consideration of the board Monday, the total possible savings are shown without resort to salary reductions. This is divided among resident instruction, experiment station and the extension service.

Some of Leading
Bourbons Approve
Other democrats prominent in party affairs relating to financial matters including Senator Harrison and Representative Collier of Mississippi, the ranking democrats on the finance and house ways and means committee, respectively, endorsed the move.

Chairman Bark of the senate foreign relations committee was among those listed in support.

It also was said at the White House that the president had talked over the telephone with Senators Robinson of Arkansas, and Cramer, republican of Michigan, and that they had assured him of support. Their names were not included in the formal statement.

COVERED WAGON ON LONG OREGON TRAIL FIXED, DEFINITE POLICY FLAX NEED

If no matter what the industry does, it succeeds, on whom can blame be assigned and as a matter of fact, why is there any need for blame if from whatever angle one considers the flax industry, merit appears in its operations?

From our viewpoint the fixed policy of the flax industry should be this:

The industry from now on, must be made to carry itself, the returns from sales providing for the cost of flax and its manufacture. When the industry reaches this standard, it is successful; when it fails, the industry is perilous and may need to be supplanted.

All other benefits from the industry—its development of a new crop in the valley, its assistance to manufacturing, its provision for work to convicts must be treated as incidental.

Two lines of reasoning support this view. First, the people of the state will not long tolerate any other condition. Thus far by legislative appropriation $772,000 has been put into the industry. If more funds are going to be called for, it will not be long until taxpayers will demand that convicts make brooms or bricks—but anything which will not be a deficit.

Second, the economics of flax-raising support such a policy. The period of experimentation is past. The fact that the Willamette valley can grow superior long line fibre is unquestioned. The tariff is ample against lower-paid foreign competition. The domestic market is abundant. Prison labor is cheap. In the face of all these advantages if the flax industry in Oregon cannot stand on its own feet, the child is a weakling and not worthy of raising.

ASKS TRIAL

At their own request, Deputy Sheriffs Cecil Crosby (above) and William Guess, of Ardmore, Okla., will stand trial for murder following the fatal shooting of Emilio Cortes Rubio, cousin of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio, of Mexico, and Manuel Garcia Gomez, when the two students displayed guns while en route from St. Benedict's College, Atchison, Kan., to their homes in Mexico. The officers are alleged to have shot the boys without first explaining they were deputies.

Furthermore, the management of the industry must quit generalizing on its benefits and refusing to face the actual facts of the flax business's condition. No observer of flax for the last four years questions that Colonel Barrtram provided dynamic leadership for flax growing. But his knife always flew too high and was loosely tied to earth. The "profits" of the industry were paper profits and vanished under an auditor's balance sheet. The industry was too much an end-auditor's balance sheet. The industry was too much an engine running loose on a track.

To make the flax industry carry its own burdens will mean that payment for raw materials must not be guessed at but must be determined (1) by prevailing market prices and (2) by manufacturing costs. Any other basis is purely one of guesswork and sure to incur trouble.

Reports from abroad evidenced the eagerness with which the people and their leaders had been waiting for a palliative move from the United States. The importance attached in foreign capitals to Secretary Mellon's conference with leaders in Great Britain's government and financial affairs has not escaped notice here.

There was an assumption in London that he called Mr. Hoover what Prime Minister MacDonald and others told him of the European financial situation becoming increasingly acute. This was not denied in Washington.
