

Willing and Dolp Favorites to Meet in N. W. Golf Final

WOOD, DUNCAN THEIR RIVALS

Dentist Noses out Shields in See-saw Battle; Others One Sided

TACOMA, June 25.—(AP)—Two former champions, Dr. O. F. Willing and Frank Dolp, both of Portland, and two youngsters of golf, Freddie Wood of Vancouver, B. C., and Alec Duncan of Seattle, today advanced to the semi-finals of the Pacific Northwest amateur golf tournament here in a steady downpour of rain that started last night and was still going strong when the last match was in.

Tomorrow Willing meets Duncan, and Dolp plays Wood with the past-time holders heavy favorites to battle for the 1931 championship Saturday.

In a see-saw contest over the water-soaked fair ways and greens of the Fircrest golf course, Dr. Willing finally nosed out Johnny Shields, Seattle, in their 34 hole match, 3 and 2.

The other three quarter-final matches were more or less of a walkaway for the winners, with Duncan eliminating Bill Yost, Tacoma, 6 and 5; Wood conquering Jimmie Bushong, Portland, 3 and 1; and Dolp outting Harold Brynjolfsson, Victoria, 7 and 6.

The women contestants also advanced to the semi-finals today with Mrs. B. E. Eva, Portland; Mrs. Brent Potter, San Francisco; Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Vancouver, B. C., defending champion, and Miss Hilda McAuslin, Seattle, turning in victories.

WHERE SCHMELING AND STRIBLING WILL CLASH

The current "Battle of the Century," the exchange of fistcuffs to be indulged in by the German batter, Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion of the world, and the Georgia Peach, "Young" Stribling, challenger, will be fought in the expansive stadium shown above, on July 8, at Cleveland. Thousands are expected to fill the concrete stands to overflow as the two heavies clash in the squared circle for title and purse. Both fighters, excellent likeliness of which are shown above, are confident Lady Luck is with them.

"Editors to pour into Salem," says Oregon Journal headline. Let us know where the pouring is going on, fellows:

But after all, the governor and treasurer have hearts. They fired all the state's printers just when all the editors were coming to town so there was some chance for them to grab jobs elsewhere.

Stayton high gets a new athletic coach, Harold L. Gordon, of Portland, who was formerly assistant coach at University high in Eugene. Maybe Stayton will come to the front among the class B schools of the county.

Frank Nelson, business manager of the Salem Senators, is a golfer but he had occasion to follow the golf news closely a few days ago when his nephew, Eldred Zimmerman of Portland, was a leader in the northwest open tournament at Tacoma. Young Zimmerman came through and won the championship after a tie in the finals with Neil Christian, also of Portland. Nelson says his nephew has been caddying and playing golf since he was big enough to tote a bag of clubs. Zimmerman is assistant pro at the Multnomah club now.

The baseball fans may not know what to do the next couple of Sundays, for the Senators will be idle, next Sunday to let the other teams straighten out the schedule after falling to play last Sunday, and July 5 because of the celebration. They had a chance to play the Portland Buckaroos here or to assist in some other city's celebration. But they decided to take another Sunday of well-earned rest.

DAIRY STERILIZERS WILL BE EXHIBITED

A demonstration of various dairy sterilizers available in Salem will be held Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at the garage building on the alley directly behind the old Kafoury store at 255 Liberty street, it was announced last night.

The various machines that will be on exhibit will include those using electricity, gasoline, compressed gasoline and diesel oil. The exhibition will be in charge of Prof. F. E. Price of Oregon State college, who will talk on the merits of the different pieces of equipment. Representatives of the various companies will be on hand to give further information. Farmers and others interested are urged to attend.

Godfreys Move To Location on Nehalem River

A. L. Godfrey who for a number of years has been engaged in the plumbing and boiler business here, has moved with his family to Molen on the Nehalem river about two miles north of Wheeler. They expect to make their permanent home there. At present they are building a house boat, and are planning to erect a number of cottages at Nehalem park there.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payton, formerly of Salem, are interested in the new project also, and will be there for the summer. Mrs. Payton will be remembered as Dorothy Godfrey.

Fred Kurtz Godfrey has taken charge of his father's plumbing business at the same location in Salem.

Attendance was not as large as usual. The next meeting will be held July 28 at the home of Mrs. T. T. Palmer.

ACCOUNT FILED IN DON MILES ESTATE

When preferred claims in estate of Donald W. Miles are paid, there will be about $6,000 on hand to be distributed pro rata among the holders unpaid claims totaling $27,311.35, the final account of James G. Heltzel discloses. The administrator filed his account with the probate court yesterday, and hearing has been set for Monday, July 27.

The account shows that the administrator handles $7,094.45, all the estate save personal property set aside for the widow. Claims amounting to $381.45 have been paid, leaving cash on hand of $6,212.98. Preferred claims unpaid total $159.70, and other unpaid claims total $27,311.35.

The account shows that three claims representing $7,220.03 have been disallowed. They were: claim of Myrtle Miles for $5609 alleged advanced by her to Miles for investment; claim of Hugh McMaster for $500 alleged advanced by her to Miles for investment; and claim of Tribune company, Chicago, for $111.02.

Heltzel says the work of administration has been unusually heavy and has necessitated several consultations with some of the claimants. As a result, he asks for $200 additional administrative fees.

Hagen Moves Youngsters Up to Front Lines When Ryder Cup Matches Loom

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 25.—(AP)—Moved up to the front lines with mastery strokes of strategy, the golfing forces of Great Britain and America are ready for the call that sends them into battle once more tomorrow for the prized Ryder cup trophy.

The two rival captains, Charles Whitcombe of the British and Walter Hagen of the Americans, aligned their fighting forces today for the two-ball foursome matches, the feature of the two-day struggle, tomorrow.

Both studied the fighting qualities of their men after a test in the boiling sun over the Seoloto battle field and announced their lineups, in order of firing and starting at 10 a. m., tomorrow:

Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, America, vs. Archie Compston and W. H. Davis, England.

Walter Hagen and Denimore Shute, America, vs. George Duncan and Arthur Havers, England.

Leo Diegel and Al Espinosa, America, vs. Abe Mitchell and Fred Robeson, England.

Billy Burke and Wiffy Cox, America, vs. Syd Easterbrook and Ernest Whitcombe, England.

While Hagen created a mild surprise by trusting one of the two ball foursomes, fights to Burke and Cox, two players who were forced to qualify for the four non-picked places on his team instead of mixing up some of his big shot fighters with them, Captain Whitcombe countered by leaving himself completely out of the opening day's matches.

He was expected to lead off in regulation captain style tomorrow but decided that because of the intense heat and the showing of some of his mates that he would stay on the sidelines with the youthful Bert Hodson and shoot his game in the singles Saturday, a struggle involving eight matches and as many points. Tomorrow's two-ball foursomes are an English specialty but Captain Whitcombe loves his singles match play and has a reason for his liking.

He ranks as the champion singles match player of all England.

The two Americans left out of the opening day battle were Horrell, America, and Craig Wood. Both were expected to get into the singles matches, although Smith was a doubtful starter. The "Joplin ghost" was far off his famous game. Neither Sir Walter nor Captain Whitcombe, both trying to outguess the other, would reveal the singles lineup.

RING GOSSIP

FARGO EXPRESS KAYOES SUAREZ

Billy Petrolle Wins Right To Shot at Canzoneri For Lightie Crown

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, June 25.—(AP)—Billy Petrolle, the Fargo Express, knocked out Justo Suarez, pride of the Argentine, in the ninth round of a ten round bout here tonight, practically assuring himself a chance to meet Tony Canzoneri for the lightweight championship.

It was Petrolle's fight all the way. The Express from the northwest sent Suarez down twice in the opening round with left hooks, once for a count of one and again for a two count, and with the exception of the second round, when Suarez connected with a series of stiff blows to the head, had the better of things in every round. Centering his attack on the Argentine's body, Petrolle began to slow his man in the fourth, forcing him to cover and the end was only a question of time.

First Defeat for Argentine in U. S.

The defeat was Suarez' first in the United States and dealt a crushing blow to his hopes of a lightweight crown. In the early rounds he displayed flashes of the punch that enabled him to knock out opponents just before returning to this country, but he could not dent Petrolle's sturdy jaw.

The main bout, climaxed a series of uninteresting preliminaries, kept an estimated crowd of 9,000 in a constant uproar from the first knockdown to the final count of ten on Suarez. Several of the blows that prepared the Argentine for the finishing punches apparently landed low, but because of the no-foul rule of the New York state athletic commission, reacted only to Suarez' disadvantage.

In the eighth round semi-final, Billy McMahon, of Greenwich Village, fought a draw with Phil Rafferty of the west side. Each weighed 141.

Boat Fishing Law to Face Court Fight

Portland, Ore., June 25

(AP)—Operation of the act adopted by the recent state legislature prohibiting boat fishing on certain parts of the McKenzie river was suspended today by Federal Judge McNary's signing a temporary restraining order.

The order was directed to Marshall N. Dana, M. T. Corrigan, J. C. Vandever, Irving E. Vining and Carl D. Silven, of the state game commission, and Charles H. McCles, state game supervisor.

Hearing of the case was set for July 6 when Circuit Judge Sattell will be in Portland to sit with District Judges McNary and Fee.

The suit was filed by Dayton C. Thompson, Milo Thompson and Carey Thompson, Jr., doing business as Thompson's resort, which is located 35 miles up the McKenzie river.

The complaint recites that after June 15 much of the resort's attraction for tourists is the fishing in the McKenzie river above the mouth of the Blue river. It said a fleet of boats was maintained for the use of guests and that if the law is upheld this advantage would be lost.

The complaint further alleges the law is discriminatory in that it allows boat fishing below the mouth of the Blue river but prohibits it above that point.

Juniors Will Face Speedy Team Sunday

"Frisco" Edwards and Bill Garbarino, who pitted their American Legion Junior ball teams against each other in the state finals last year at Portland, will send similar teams into battle on Olinger field Sunday forenoon at 3:30.

Edwards' outfit this year however is the Salem team and Garbarino is heading the East Side Commercial club team of Portland, and Sunday's game is merely a practice affair. But Garbarino's team is leading the Portland league and Salem is champion of Marion county, which has produced a state finalist team for two years, so the outcome will be decidedly significant.

This forenoon ball game will be the only important contest in Salem Sunday so far as could be announced Thursday, as the Senators will be idle for two Sundays waiting for other clubs to catch up on the schedule. Word to this effect was received Thursday after the Senators had been planning to play Compton's Clothiers in the regularly scheduled Portland-Valley league game.
