Generally maintained prices are continued in the market for live chickens for the weekend. Demand for colored broilers is favorable for well-sized stock but others are in liberal offering.

Meats Hold Firm

With the exception of low grade beef, which is slow, market for country killed meats is holding well at the weekend. Top quality veal and hogs are especially well held.

General advance of a 50c case in the selling price of lemons here follows recent advances and strengthening of the primary as well as eastern market. Prices are reported strong at the advance with more to come.
