

Fighters Work Out Here for Big Fourth of July Scrap

MAXIE'S COUSIN GETS TELEGRAM

Champion Sends Best Wishes to Warneke; Dixon is Confident of win

George Dixon, who has never been knocked down in a lengthy ring career, and Frankie Warneke youngster who has never been knocked out, landed in Salem Thursday and set up training quarters in preparation for the big Fourth of July scrap which will bring them together for the first time, Saturday night at the fairgrounds stadium.

Dixon worked out at the armory, Warneke at the Club gymnasium and both drew a number of railbirds to watch them perform. Warneke, the big smiling German boy who suddenly grew out of the middleweight class in the last year and a half, will hold another light workout tonight at 7:30 at the Club.

Warneke, who is Max Schmeling's first cousin, received a telegram from the world champion yesterday wishing him the best of luck in his Fourth of July fight, and this morning Frankie responded in kind to his illustrious relative at Cleveland.

Both claim Best Condition Ever

Out of 65 fights Warneke has engaged in, he has won 20 by knockouts and has lost only eight, each by a decision. He declares he is in the best shape now that he ever has been.

Dixon worked out with Garve, who is here to meet Bobby Ambrose. Since his recent comeback after an illness which kept him out of the ring for a year, Dixon has not lost any of the nine fights he has engaged in, indicating that he has lost none of the old pepper.

His latest victory was a rather easy one over Johnny Walker in Portland. He beat Young Delaney the week before and recently knocked out Gene O'Grady, pride of southern Oregon, in Ashland. He stopped Romeo Lamond of Klamath Falls in Portland.

Each fighter was ready Thursday night to hand compliments to his opponent in Saturday night's main event, but at the same time each intimated that the other's record of no knockouts might be shattered on that occasion.

COURTHOUSE WINS IN UPSET CONTEST

The Courthouse ball team upset the dope in the industrial league Thursday night and defeated the Postoffice 4 to 3, by virtue of a rally in the fourth inning which accounted for all of its runs.

Judd and Casey led off in that stanza with singles, and Ford and Ferguson walked, Judd ambling home as a result. Hardcastle singled scoring Casey and Ferguson, and Hardcastle came home on a wild throw. In the other innings the deputy sheriffs were held hitless.

Postoffice scored in the second, third and fifth innings. The Postoffice boys staged a triple play to compensate them for the defeat. With Ford and Ferguson on bases, Hardcastle lined to the second baseman; the runners thought it was a safe hit and both were caught at the bags.

There will be no game tonight on account of the proximity of the glorious Fourth.

There's been a dearth of sport events in this neck of the woods for a few weeks, but there's none right around the Fourth. All kinds of races and contests at the fairgrounds that day, winding up with the big fight card at the horse show stadium.

Then on Sunday the Salem American Legion Juniors will plunge into action again with a game against the flying team of reserve officers from Pearson field, the group including Johnny Kitzmiller and Merle Hufford, who were the big lights in the biggest northwest football game last fall, and Johnny Londahl who teamed with Kitzmiller in the biggest play of that game.

Londahl is the only one of the trio who played college baseball but they're all reported to be good, and anyway a lot of fans don't care how good they are or aren't, they want to get a look at them anyway. Then on Monday night there's
