need not be proceeded with if the council did not wish court action. Compromise Mialo On Enforcement

A resolution submitted to Mayor Gregory by the woman's bible class of the First Methodist church here commending Chief of Police Minto for his stand for law enforcement and public morals was ordered given the chief for preservation.

Alderman Vandevort complained of trash accumulating on a lot at Church and Ferry street and secured permission to instruct the health officer to clean up the property.

Plans for street improvement on North Commercial from D to Belmont and on A street from Commercial to Belmont, as well as North Liberty from the city to Belburn, were referred to the street committee. Plans also prepared by City Engineer Rogers for a sanitary sewer on Oak street to Bellevue, were referred to this committee.

Dan J. Fry, Jr., entered a protest to the city for damage to a retaining wall at his home on Lefellie street alleged to have been done by a defective surface drain in the street. He asked the council to reimburse him $300. The city engineer was ordered to investigate the claim.

Propose Change In Street Name

An ordinance was introduced calling for changing the name of Walnut Park avenue on Rose street to 24th street to Hayden avenue.

A resolution was passed calling for the examination of the sewer south of the Liberty, Pulp & Paper company's plant with the view of determining how to eliminate bad odors arising from this slough. On the investigation committee will be the sanitary inspector, the health officer, the city engineer, and the council's committee on health and sanitation. The secretary and engineer of the state game commission will also be asked to assist in the investigation.

MANY SEEK ENTRY AT W. U. IN FALL

Willamette university to date has accepted 180 applications for admission to her freshman class this fall and 25 more applications are under consideration. In announcing this yesterday, H. M. Tenant, registrar, pointed out this number was 33 ahead of the mark this period of the summer last year. He said he expected the freshman class this fall to exceed 200.

Applications are coming in daily. An unusually high standard is being maintained for students entering, Tenant said. There have been a number of applications turned down.

Last fall 30 per cent of the applicants who had been accepted did not take up their work, due largely to inability to secure funds.

MRS. GRAY HURT DODGING BOULDER

Mrs. E. L. Gray, whose husband operates the new Farmers' Market, received a bad fracture of one ankle at Soda Falls, near Cascadia, last week when she jumped into the creek to avoid being hit by a large rock which was coming down a path on which she was walking.

Apparently the rock had been dislodged by afters. Mrs. Gray did not notice it until it was almost upon her. In jumping aside into the creek bed, her ankle was lodged between two zones and as she fell, two of the bones in the ankle were broken.

With the help of several men in the party, Mrs. Gray managed to get back to Cascadia, a distance of two miles. Her physician said here yesterday the fracture had been set and Mrs. Gray was resting comfortably.

WARNER BROS. ELISNORE Today—Bebe Daniels in "The Maltese Falcon."

Wednesday—Jack Oakie in "Dude Ranch."

Friday—Robert Woolsey in "Everything's Rosie."

THE GRAND Today—Warner Oland in "Charlie Chan Carries On."

Wednesday—Joe Frisco in "The Gorilla."

Friday—John Wayne in "Girls Demand Excitement."

THE HOLLYWOOD Today—"Rango."

Wednesday—Lawrence Tibbets in "New Moon."

Friday—Buck Jones in "Shadow Ranch."

Today for the last time will you be able to see the emotional play, "The Maltese Falcon," feature at Warner Bros. Elsinore, in which Bebe Daniels and Ricardo Cortez play opposite each other.

Miss Daniels appears as Miss Wonderly, an alluring adventuress who has the wiles known to femininity in order to win over the various men who are trying to find out whether she is, or is not, the head of the most baffling crime ring known to the police.

The clever star is able to keep audiences mystified as to her real personality to the last fade-out of the film.

Following "The Maltese Falcon" will be Jack Oakie in "Dude Ranch." With Oakie will be Stuart Edwin, Eugene Pallette, Milti Green and June Collyer, a group of people who have demonstrated before that they know how to play together to get the audience interested and keep the plot moving smoothly.

As might be expected with Jack Oakie in the group, the picture is a comedy. Both situations and dialogue are said to be very funny.

The film is based on the humorous novel, "The Lone Rider of the Mojave," by Milton Krims.

Frank Tuttle, who directed "No Limit" and "Pays to Advertise," headed "Dude Ranch." He was picked as one of the most important 10 directors in Hollywood by "Variety," leading magazine for the show trade.

The romantic interest is capably furnished by June Collyer, New York social registerite who turned cinematic a few years ago.

HOWE AGAIN HEAD OF MISSION BOARD

Rev. D. J. Howe, pastor of the First Christiana church here, was elected president of the Oregon state mission board for the third time at the annual convention which closed Sunday afternoon at Turner.

Large crowds attended the meetings Sunday, with the tabernacle well filled for the final service in the afternoon.

The young people's annual conference opened Sunday night, with one Salem young man, Howard Cole, participating in the program, for which Prof. Victor Morris of the University of Oregon was the main speaker.

The conference will last this week, with Prof. Morris, G. Moseley of Spokane, and Howard McDonnell of Corvallis the three main speakers. Moseley is leader of the sessions.

LIVESLEY IS SUED FOR LAD'S INJURY

Suit for $15,000 general damages and $150 special damages was filed against T. A. Livesley, hop grower, by Frank Kovens, as guardian ad litem of Andrew Kovens.

Plaintiff alleges that Andrew, 14, sustained permanent injuries to his power of speech, to his nervous system and to his mental system as result of injury sustained last September 8 while he was working in the Livesley hopyards. A hop pole fell on the boy.

Complaint states in effect that the owner of the yard failed to hire a man to handle the poles who was sufficiently responsible.

Watermelon is Accident Cause

When Fred Lang, passenger on a northbound stage, hurled a watermelon from the window where he was sitting Sunday he didn't notice that he was tossing the melon into the face of Mrs. Henry A. Cassidy of Corvallis, Kenneth Cassidy her brother, and two other persons. Mrs. Cassidy was treated here for a serious eye injury and her brother for a severe artery. Lang was allowed to continue to Portland after giving his address.

Monday 'PAY-DAY' IN COURT OF CITY

Monday was pay-day at the city hall. The offenses were minor; the payments in keeping with the charges ranged from $1 to $50.

W. W. Catherwood of Mill City relinquished $50 to Police Judge Poulson after pleading guilty to possession of liquor. Catherwood was arrested Saturday night. All day Sunday he languished in jail.

C. R. Burgess, 744 North Commercial street, switched his license plates and the plant worked until alert Salem policemen halted him into court. Burgess parted with $10.

Kenneth Nechter, 1585 Center street, drove too fast and admitted it. His fine was $5, paid yesterday to Police Judge Poulson.

Several young men in the city fired 'crackers' before the proper time arrived and yesterday they paid in full. Judge Poulson assessed a one dollar penalty against each of them.

The first session of the summer camp starts Monday, July 20, and lasts 12 days. Thirty-five boys are expected to attend camp. The second camp will last eight days and 55 boys will attend.

ALERTNESS SAVES BURNING BUILDING

Alertness and quick action of Earle DeKay, instructor at Parkers high school, Portland, probably saved the Palm confectionery and adjacent houses from destruction by fire early Sunday afternoon, when he and a companion noticed wisps of smoke coming out of the top of the vacant store building at 480 North Church street, across from the senior high school, and ran across the street to the Palm and telephoned the alarm to the fire department.

Chemical, pumper, and hook and ladder trucks were at the scene.

United States Steel, which closed Friday at 105 was down 3/4 at its lowest and was never quite able to make up its decline. The last sale was at 102 3/4. American Telephone, after fully recovering a 2 point drop, closed 1 T-8 lower. There were net declines of 1 to 5 in American Can, Bethlehem, Woolworth, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Sears Roebuck, Case, Consolidated Gas, International Telephone, Algonquin, Southern Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio.

BUILDING PERMIT ACTIVITY REVIVES

Something happened over the weekend—no one at the city hall knew just what—anyway when the building permits were counted Monday night, nine had been issued during the day, the largest number of any one day this year. Permits for alteration predominated but there was a considerable amount of changes included in the totals.

Chief of the permits in size went to H. C. Hummel for a $2300 new residence at 130 Superior street. V. Woodfield, 2010 Nebraska street, received permission to make a $500 alteration on his home.

Other permits issued during the day were:

H. Baker, 546 South 18th street, rear end, $40. A. B. and Gertrude Kelaya, 549 Market street, rear end, $50. William Roth, 779 Broya avenue, rear end, $45. Leo Childs, 138 South Cottage, rear end, $152.45.

PARTY LEAVING TO BUILD COOKHOUSE

Eight ardent backers of the Y. M. C. A. summer camp at Ocean-side will leave Saturday for that spot and for a week will busy themselves constructing a 20 by 30 foot cookhouse as a permanent addition to the camp. Robert Boardman, "Y" physical director, will be in charge of the party. The workers will receive their board at the expense of the "Y" and will work without other compensation. The Salem Rotary club is furnishing money for the materials for the camp.

Included in the working party will be Fred Smith, James Sehon, Phil Brownell, Donald Stockwell, Dave Hoos, Howard Adams, Howard Blunthorn, Mr. Boardman.

The first session of the summer camp starts Monday, July 20, and lasts 12 days. Thirty-five boys are expected to attend camp. The second camp will last eight days and 55 boys will attend.

TWO ESCAPE, ONE KILLED ON GLACIER

(AP)—Gothals Brad, 24, and Calvin P. Quintan, 23, returned to their homes here today with narrow escapes from injury or death on the south slope of Mount Rainier Sunday.

Brad and Quintan, climbing alone through a curtain of snow driven by a stiff wind, lost their footing and slid down the same slope where a short time before Robert K. Zinn, 30, Portland, slid and plunged to his death on Nisqually glacier.

A two-foot bank of snow stopped Quintan after he had slid about 1000 feet but Brady dropped into a 50-foot crevasse. A bed of soft snow broke his fall.

A party of Massamas, Portland hikers, saw the two men slide, and picked their way to their rescue.

Only the snowbank and the crevasse stopped Brady and Quintan from plunging over the 1,200-foot cliff to the ice and rocks where Zinn's body is believed to be. Instead they escaped with only minor bruises and scratches.

free wheeling started a trend that's now a stampede

TODAY all motordom is thanking Studebaker for introducing Free Wheeling a year ago. Starting as a trend under Studebaker sponsorship, Free Wheeling is today such a triumph in every State, and under every driving condition, that no car is truly modern without it.

The demand for Free Wheeling has grown to landslide proportions. Nine (9) makes of cars have followed Studebaker in offering Free Wheeling and more are getting ready to do so.

But Studebaker Free Wheeling remains Free Wheeling in its finest form—with positive gear control. It is integrally engineered into every Studebaker chassis at the factory.

Besides Free Wheeling, every Studebaker offers you these additional evidences of Studebaker engineering leadership:

World Champion Performance. More official records than all other makes combined. Safety insured by steel bodies, two-finger steering, etc. Silence of engine, body and chassis.

28 models—5 wheelbases—70 to 122 horsepower One-Price prices—$845 to $2550 at the factory 5-wire wheels without extra charge
