All Except Reichsbank Must Look Doors Today and Also Wednesday

The Reichsbank is the only credit institution in the nation exempt from the closing order.

The government also prohibited the banks and the post office from handling payments or transfers of money, either to points inside Germany or abroad.

This not only erects a wall against the flight of capital from the country, but it means practically a general moratorium within Germany until the banks reopen.

The stock exchanges throughout the country were also ordered closed all week.

Richardson Preyer, director in Worst Straits

The necessity for the president's action, it was said, arose not so much from the situation in Berlin where real bank runs did not develop although the withdrawals were heavy and the banks paid only a percentage of deposits, but out of what was said to be a much more serious outlook in the Rhineland, where runs developed quickly and authorities announced that municipal savings banks would be closed Tuesday and Wednesday without waiting for the president to act.

These drastic measures occupied the government while it was anxiously awaiting word from the bank for international settlements as Basel, upon the decision of which it was considered that Germany's financial future depends in large measure.

KIDNAPING OF ONE-YEAR-OLD CHILD CHARGED

PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—(AP)—William E. Chalk, arrested at Vancouver, Wash., today on a charge of kidnaping Betty Jean Forslund, one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Forslund, Portland, was in jail here tonight with bail set at $2000.

Meanwhile authorities were investigating the case in an effort to determine the child's parentage. Chalk told them the baby was his while Mrs. Forslund said she had received the child from a woman at a hazy party at Independence last summer. She said she did not know the woman's name.

FIRST LEG OF OCEAN FLIGHT MADE BY PAIR

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., July 13.—(AP)—Alexander Magyar and George Endros tonight completed the first leg of their projected flight from New York to Hungary, bringing down their low winged Lockheed here at 5:55 P.M., after a flight of more than seven hours from Roosevelt field, N. Y.

Despite the fact they waited almost two years for ideal conditions, they said they encountered considerable fog on the trip. They plan to refuel and check their craft "Justice to Hungary" and hop off early tomorrow for Budapest if weather conditions are favorable.

TAYLOR ESTATE UNDER PROBATE

Walter Taylor and Ada Steelhammer were named executors yesterday of the estate of W. A. Taylor who died and bequeathed the estimated value of his estate is $11,500 of which personal property is valued at $3700 and real property at $1100. There are ten heirs under a will and codicil drawn within the past year. Ed Taylor, Robert Gray and B. B. Herrick are named appraisers of the estate.

HEWITT PARTY REACHES JAPAN

Word was received by cablegram here Monday by Dr. George H. Alden, that the Epton Close tour party headed by Dean R. E. Hewitt of this city had reached Japan in safety. Friday—John Gilbert in "Gentleman's Fate"

Joan Crawford will be seen for the last time in "Laughing Sinners," feature at Warner Bros. Elsinore today. Following this picture will be "White Shoulders," a story by Rex Beach giving a version of "these moderns."

Mary Astor's performance in this story by Rex Beach has already received a high commendation from the critics. This star, who leaped to new prominence with her fine playing opposite Ann Harding in "Holiday," and later duplicated in such productions as "Behind Office Doors," "The Mighty," and other outstanding films, is seen in the principal female role in "White Shoulders."

Playing opposite her is Jack Holt, rugged two-fisted incarnation of the screen, whose acting in "Dirigible" and "Subway Express" are among current highlights.

Ricardo Cortez, suave screen villain, is again seen to advantage in a role sympathetically portrayed in spite of its character. Cortez, it is said, does the finest acting of his career in "White Shoulders."

BIG CROWD OUT AS OUR GEORGE ARRIVES HOME

PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—(AP)—Mayor George L. Baker, "our George" to thousands of Portlanders, arrived home today from a tour of France and other continental countries. Mayor Baker was chairman of the group of 28 mayors of American cities who recently went guests of the French government.

More than 5000 persons thronged the Union station and nearby streets when the train bringing Mayor and Mrs. Baker home arrived at 7:45 o'clock this morning.

A great parade formed at the station and moved uptown to the Masonic temple where the mayor was welcomed officially. A noon luncheon and several radio appearances during the day took up most of Mayor Baker's time.

BUD HOFFNELL TO COME FOR VISIT

Bud Hoffnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoffnell, will arrive in Seattle today and from there is expected to come to Salem to spend a week with his parents.

He is a cadet on the S. S. President Lincoln. He is expected to get this short vacation at home because of a change in the schedule of the steamer, which will now travel from Seattle to the orient and then through the Panama canal to New York.

GUTTING ROADS WORK SOLUTION

Twenty per Cent Reduction in County Taxes is not Possible Otherwise

The money for the bond retirements comes from the county's share of vehicle license receipts and while it does not constitute a direct tax it adds directly to taxes since it could be applied to lessen them were the funds not used for bond retirement.

Totalling our figures, therefore, the road expenditures of the county, directly and indirectly, will amount to $565,000 during this year.

Here indeed is the nubbin of the county tax situation and constitutes the Alps tax reductionists must scale if their efforts meet the Meier golden mean of 20 per cent lower costs without decreased efficiency.

Court is Opposed To More Slashing

What is the county court's attitude to a 20 per cent slash which would take $152,000 from the road outlay in Marion county?

The terse answer is that the court is decidedly unfavorable to any such cut. The reasons are: (1) Public demand for roads, (2) the fact that a definite county program has been determined upon which cannot be curtailed in fairness to all the county, (3) the long coveted North Santiam project which the court feels it must aid to the extent of $100,000 a year unless government aid be lost, (4) the increasing need for employment for winter relief, and (5) the outstanding market road bonds to the extent of $170,000 which must be met in the next two years.

There, as far as the county court is concerned, is the case against the reduction in road costs in Marion county.

But the court has an idea—a very definite one—of the way to kill geese and yet keep a steady supply of golden eggs available for road-building enthusiasts. Here it is as explained by James Smith, county commissioner, and one of the original 65 Meier nominees for a place among the embattled taxpayers who gathered last Wednesday to form the Oregon Taxpayers Equalization and Conservation League.

Increased Gasoline Tax Court's Idea
"What all members of the court favor for this road building program is another cent tax on gasoline with the money being returned to the counties by the state. That would put our tax at five cents, the same as Washington's, get away from the direct levy, reduce taxes on land and make the tax easily and equally paid."

Smith pointed out that such a tax might well be included in legislation enacted at any special session the governor might call.

He was emphatic in asserting the lack of wisdom in any general reduction of road building activities in Marion county in 1932.

"We have made a market road program for three years; how can we stop now when certain districts have benefited and others have not?" Smith inquired. He then showed that the North Santiam road must go on; if the federal government is to put its money into the project, Marion county must go on with her annual $100,000 outlay. Furthermore there is the matter of road upkeep; to suspend the county road work for a year would be to let valuable machinery stand idle, to let roads deteriorate, in short to put off the evil day of highly increased expenditure because of curtailed outlay.

KILLS FOUR

John J. Driscoll (above), of Jamaica Plain, Mass., has carved a record of tragedy with his automobile, according to authorities. Driscoll is said to have killed four persons in four accidents with his car in recent years. He is shown leaving court, where he appealed from a two months' jail sentence imposed for his latest fatal crash in which a woman was killed.

The court also is keenly conscious of the need of road work as a means of providing unemployment relief. Daily the demand for work for men with families who are in need come to the court. To suspend the road building program would be to turn a deaf ear to the greatest source of relief the county can provide.

Such is Marion county's tax levying body's view on tax reduction.

Salary cut Should Begin at the top

The matter of salary cuts was raised but members of the court were impatient with the suggestion. "The place to start these cuts is at the top. The big fellows in the statehouse—these are the men with the high salaries and they should be reduced," the court declared. The salary of the state budget officer at $6000 was suggested and the court indicated it was ludicrous to suggest docking a stenographer $10 a month to a starvation wage when such salaries were raised but members of the court were also pointed out as excessive under existing conditions.

As for minor expenses there are few which the court thinks may fall under the knife. One is the county health program, an $8000 county budget item which annually is the cause of more attack than a $507,000 item for roads. There is the much-mooted $500 for county advertising paid the state chamber. But all these aggregate little. It is in road construction—elimination, reduction or refinancing, that Marion county taxpayers can look for relief at the hands of the county court. Other expenditures are cutting out chewing gum to save a family from financial disaster; then are sensational but pay back no bank loans.

EMMONS FAMILY BACK FROM TOUR

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Emmons and daughter, Margaret Jane, returned to Salem Saturday from an 18-day motor trip to the mid-west and return. budgetary position in spite of the crisis provoked by the withdrawal of short-term capital invested in Germany.

"Having been given notice that the German government had addressed itself to divers governments for financial assistance on their respective markets, the board is convinced of the necessity for such assistance in the present circumstances and declares itself ready to collaborate thereto and to assist it by all means at the disposal of central banks.

ADVANCE STRIDES MADE IN AVIATION

Flying Boat Carrying 40 to Take air Soon; Ocean Travel due Soon

By W. W. CHAPLIN

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—In about three weeks a new 40-passenger flying boat will take the air in Connecticut and so another great stride will be taken toward the nearing day of regular trans-Atlantic air travel.

For this plans is to go into the Caribbean service of Pan-American Airways, which is the testing ground for commercial trans-Atlantic flights.

The new plane, the largest commercial plane ever built, will fly between Miami and Baranquilla, Colombia, a distance of 1350 miles, only 50 of which is over land. The hop from Jamaica to Baranquilla is approximately the same distance as from the Atlantic seaboard to Bermuda, the conditions are about the same, and almost all the way the pilot is out of sight of land.

Pan-American Airways is very definitely interested in participating in an Atlantic line and it looks on its Caribbean department as a practice ground on which to learn the lessons necessary to successful operation of a cross-ocean service.

The new giant flying boat, and a sister ship already begun, are constructed with an eye directly on Atlantic flying. They are built with a range of 1000 miles, which can easily be extended by sacrificing a small portion of the passenger space.

They are equipped as luxuriously as any ocean liner.

When an Atlantic line is inaugurated it probably will be operated jointly by American, English and French companies.

Pan-American Airways will certainly operate the leg from the eastern seaboard to Bermuda. Imperial Airways of Great Britain has flying monopolies at Bermuda and Aero Postale of France at the Azores, but because of its large over-water equipment Pan-American will probably also operate from Bermuda to the Azores.

From the latter point Imperial Airways probably will run a line to London and Aero Postale, another to France.

STEELE'S FUNERAL SCHEDULED TODAY

EUGENE, Ore., July 13.—(AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for A. F. S. Steele, secretary-manager of the Eugene chamber of commerce, who died Saturday night. The Rev. Milton S. gradweight cream price per pound butterfat shall be 55 cents.

When milk is $3 per hundredweight cream price per pound butterfat shall be 60 cents.

The present price in Salem wholesale is seven cents a quart and retail nine cents a quart which is not covered in the proposed contract. The price paid producers in the Salem district now averages around $1.50 per hundredweight for "B" milk less the stabilization deductions although the price here fluctuates. No provision is made in the proposed contract covering seven and nine-cent milk.

Provisions for annual compromise on the price schedule provides that on December 1 of any year if schedule for the following year and such a schedule may be mutually agreed on between the parties.

The producer, under the proposed contract, reserves the right to cease selling fluid milk to the distributor forthwith when the distributor fails to pay on designated dates and bi-monthly payments are to be made.

Gehlhar announced last week that the distributors had offered a price of $2.10 instead of the $2.30 asked by the producers, with the provision that producers take care of the surplus.

Producers have so far refused to accept these terms although they claimed that it was not entirely a matter of price that deterred them. Leaders in the producer group declared that if the distributors would make certain other concessions demanded by the proposed contract that they might accept the $2.10 offer. At a late hour last night the situation has reached an impasse with both sides "standing pat." The meeting today is conceded to be a last attempt to reach a peaceful agreement.

John T. Bailey, tennis player, writer and official for more than 40 years, had charge of the recent Arkansas State tennis meet.

IN LEAGUE WITH THE BABIES

WHEN LITTLE girls wore copper-toed boots and tight-waisted dresses, and little boys wore kilts—what of the babies? Swathed in yards of clothes. Scrubbed with unknown soaps. Few of them expected to live during the dreaded second summer. Many of them suffering countless ailments because nobody knew what to do.

A glance back only a generation or so is enough to reveal how fortunate babies are today. Now there are soft, cool soaps . . . every aid in food that care and knowledge can prepare . . . sensible, light little clothes . . . and such knowledge of sanitation and control of disease that every little baby should live and grow.

Mothers are indebted to advertisements for their news of these nursery aids . . . just as they are indebted for news of fascinating menus, fadeless curtains, sprightly dinnerware. Constantly, ways are being devised to make life happier, more comfortable for baby, the whole family. Laboratories clean and bright are scenes of goods being tested—being made safe and pure. When the testing is goods to you.

No longer marvel (the next time you buy something over, the perfecting done—advertisements hasten the widely known) at how fresh, immaculate, fine it is. These are qualities you can be sure of in buying advertised merchandise . . . qualities you must be sure of in buying for the health of babies, children, anyone.

It is surprising how timely and vital the news in advertisements can be! Read them regularly.
