

Oregon Golfers Steal Show in Western Qualifying Round

EIGHTEEN ARE CLOSE TO TOP

That Many Portlanders due To Qualify on Basis Of First 18 Holes

PORTLAND GOLF CLUB, Portland, Ore., July 13.—(AP)—The called it the western amateur golf tournament but after the first 18 holes today of the 36-hole qualifying round it looked more like the Portland city or Oregon state championships.

Led by their recently dethroned Pacific northwest champion, Eddie Hogan, 31-year-old stylist, who strangled his fellow Joe Par and made him like it with a course-burning 69, 18 Portland stars finished among the low 31 in the first half of the qualifying race.

The 32d position has already been awarded to Johnny Lehman, Chicago, who automatically qualified in the qualifying test. This is a privilege granted the defending titlist and Lehman took advantage of it, and probably wisely too, for he has been having trouble with his game of late.

Hogan flashed around the first nine in a par 35 without causing particular interest among the galleries, and then pranced home with a sensational 34, three under par, to post the best 18-hole score of the day. He played the game like a master, collecting birdies at the 10th, 13th and 15th holes and paring all the rest.

Arlo Kyle, veteran fellow-townsmen of Hogan, sprung the biggest surprise of the day when he clipped four strokes off perfect figures on the outward nine to score a remarkable 31. This with his 39 on the way home gave him a total of 70 to place second. He fell down on the last nine by taking a six at the par four 13th and a four at the par three 12th.

Territory Around 75 Badly Crowded
Jack Gaines, Glendale; Chuck Hunter, Tacoma, and Jimmy Bushong, Portland, tied with 71 each for third place honors. Johnny Robbins, Portland, followed with a par-72. Tab Boyer, Portland newspaper copy boy, posted a 73 to tie with Rudie Wilhelm of the same city, and Don Moe and Malcolm McNaughton, Portland, and H. Chandler Egan, Medford, Ore., scored 74 each.

Five contestants tied with 75 cards. They were H. W. Westbrook, Pasadena; Dr. O. F. Willing, Vincent Dolp and Johnny Mead, Portland, and Johnny Shields, Seattle.

Seventy-six was the favorite score of the day with 15 players—Joe Brown, Frank Dolp, Cliff Baker, Clayton Sharp, Arneland; man and J. H. Crockett, Portland; H. H. Thompson, Portland; Fay Coleman, Charles Seaver and Warren Johnson, Los Angeles; A. G. Sato, San Francisco Japanese; Dick Near, Eugene, Ore., and Stuart Pattulo, Dr. Joseph Aspray, and Howard Tustin, Spokane, coming in in that figure.

Visiting Stars in Precarious Position
Francis H. L. Brown, Honolulu; Forest Watson, Spokane, Phil Finlay, Redlands, Cal.; John Griswold, San Francisco, four of the favorites in the tournament, fell off their game and wound up outside the 31 leaders of today's play. Brown and Watson tied with 78 and Finlay and Griswold counted 80s which will force them to play the remainder of the tournament in 18 holes tomorrow to reach match play.

Jack Gaines made the greatest recovery of the day when he collected four birdies in succession and a par in the last five holes to finish the day under par. He was three over par going to the 14th and he birdied four in a row.

With the exception of a light rain for a few minutes this morning the weather was ideal for playing. The sky was cloudy most of the time and a cool breeze made the golfers feel like stepping out and playing their best.

Match play will begin Wednesday with two 18-hole elimination rounds. The quarter-finals will start Thursday over 36 holes and the champion will be crowned Saturday.

Frank Shafer, the only Salem entrant, scored 83 for the 18 holes Monday.

WOLGAST RETAINS FLYWEIGHT TITLE

CONY ISLAND STADIUM, New York, July 13.—(AP)—Midget Wolgast, recognized in New York state as the world's flyweight champion, easily defeated Ruby (Dark Cloud) Bradley of Holyoke, Mass., in a 15-round title bout tonight. Wolgast weighed 111½; Bradley 110½.

The negro mite from New England was courageous enough but he would not cope with the speed, skill and lightning left hand punching of the champion. In the first round Wolgast hooked his left to Bradley's chin, crossed the right, and the negro went down for a count of nine.

Trudging Comeback Trail

W HILE Tony Canzoneri, who looks like a miniature Babe Ruth, rules the lightweight roost as a true champion, two of his K. O. victims—Al Singer and Jackie "Kid" Berg—are attempting comebacks. Singer looked but fair in outpointing Lew Massey in a 10-rounder at New York City in June but Berg looked his old winning self in kayaking Tony Lambert at Newark recently.

A year tonight, Singer won the lightweight crown by stopping a sad looking Sammy Mandell in the opening round. Al simply tore into what was left of a once great boxer and knocked Mandell cold without being hit himself. Though many noted Sammy's washed-up form even in that brief showing, other applauded the popular Al as "another Benny Leonard," among those enthusiasts being the illustrious Leonard himself.

Dr. A. D. Woodmansee won the Bobby Jones cup in the Illahee club-Warner Bros. tournament, defeating Bertram Thompson one up in the final match Sunday. Thompson as runner-up gets the autographed photo of Bobby Jones.

Thompson had defeated W. G. Stacy and Woodmansee won from O. L. Fisher in the semi-finals.

THE CHAMP

Sporting a "shiner," one of the parting gifts of "Young" Strubling in their July 3 match at Cleveland, Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight champion, is shown as he called from New York for the Fatherland on the S. S. Europa.

Maxie was tingling with the thrill of his new-found popularity as this picture was taken, a great crowd of admirers having gathered at the dock to see the champ off.

CURT COMMENTS

ANDY PETERSON pitched better ball Sunday than he did the previous Monday. Of course the opposition was different, but all the same he had control Sunday where he lacked it against the barnstormers. Maybe he has found out that even a no-hit no-run hurler can do better if he throws a ball a couple of times four days.

There was a lot of hooting and booing out at the twilight game Monday night. We didn't attend so haven't any personal knowledge as to whether there was anything to hoot about except that the arbiter in question has been giving good satisfaction in other games, and we know he's conscientious about it.

Surely there's not enough at stake in a twilight ball game to cause any suspicions of intentional unfairness. There are moments when all red-blooded Americans think the umpire is a robber, but normally they pass away quickly.

Portland sport writers and sport headline artists have been doing their best to magnify Oregon's feeble showing in its own state tennis tournament, which saw all the cups awarded away by southerners.

The management, however, if it played true to form, tied itself in knots to get those California stars to come and was tickled to get them. So why weep now?

Fact is that Oregon is handicapped. Here in the valley tennis can't be started in the spring with any success until May. East of the mountains people could play the year around, most years, but they're too busy grubbing a living out of the sagebrush or sawing it out of the pine trees.

By the time Schmeling got around to speaking through the microphone, more floral tributes had been handed him than he could hold.

"I'm glad to be back home," he said, "and I'm glad I had a chance to prove myself a genuine champion. I'm home to visit mother and I'm going to take a good rest."

Handkerchiefs waved wildly as the plane was sighted and the crowd greeted Schmeling with a volley of "hoos" as he jumped out of the plane and ran into the arms of his mother.

Whitechapel section—had never been kayped until he met a series of Canzoneri's socks in Chicago last winter. The kid had won the junior welterweight crown from "Musby" Callahan at London early in 1930 and he'd beaten most of America's leading lightweights. But Tony took him in an early round with a K. O. as clean-cut as it was cold.

LEBANON DEFEATS TURNER'S TOSSERS

TURNER, July 13.—Lebanon augmented its prospects for a victory in the southern division of the Cascade league Sunday by defeating the Turner Gray Diggers 3 to 1.

Schmitz, Lebanon twirler, blanked Turner for six innings and struck out three men in the second and fourth each. He was nicked for the one run in the seventh and relieved by Keith in the eighth. Russell of Turner fanned four altogether.

STAYTON, July 13.—The rejuvenated Mill City ball team defeated Stayton here Sunday, 4 to 0. Muers and Libby were Mill City's battery and Kirsh pitched for Stayton, with Bradley and later Egilston behind the bat.

The Hill's Candy Factory team lost 6 to 3 to Mt. Angel in a non-league game. Wilson and Harvey each pitched part of the game and each was nicked for three runs. Bashor, regular catcher who was recently injured, was badly missed.

SCHMELING GIVEN OVATION AT HOME

BERLIN, July 13.—(AP)—Nothing was left undone in the way of speeches and ceremony today to assure Max Schmeling he was really welcome home as Germany's hero. The heavyweight champion landed at Tempelhof airdrome from Bremen today and a crowd of 3,000 turned out to greet the conqueror of Bill Stribling.

Handkerchiefs waved wildly as the plane was sighted and the crowd greeted Schmeling with a volley of "hoos" as he jumped out of the plane and ran into the arms of his mother.

CANZONERI IS STILL CHAMP

Smashes out Decision Over Cecil Payne to Retain Welterweight Crown

WRIGLEY FIELD, Los Angeles, July 13.—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, smashed his way to a decision over Cecil Payne, the Louisville Looper to hold safe his junior welterweight championship of the world here tonight before 20,000 persons.

Crossing a terrific right to the jaw in the first round, the swarthy Italian from New York floored Payne a short minute after the first round opened, but he seemed to tire at the finish as the Kentucky challenger crashed over swinging lefts and rights at long range to make up part of the rounds lost during the first part of the act.

At the most, the bout progressed at a tame pace, with the crowd calling for action during the closing stages. The Associated Press card gave Canzoneri six rounds, and Payne three.

After trailing through the first three stanzas, Payne, seeking to avenge a decision gained by Canzoneri two years ago at Detroit, started connecting with his sweeping lefts to the body and an occasional right to the head which kept Tony at bay and for a short time silenced his sturdy right hand.

Payne wobbled in a series of stinging short lefts in the sixth to again forge ahead, and then had Payne wobble in the seventh with another barrage of hard right.

Canzoneri, who did not take his lightweight championship into the ring, slowed a pace as the last two rounds moved slowly by to the tune of the crowd's razzing. Payne landed frequently with stinging lefts to the head and stayed off Canzoneri's infrequent rushes with left jabs.

Payne was bleeding at the nose after the disastrous first, but he weathered this and Canzoneri's seventh round with game rallies, standing off to swing at long range and regain his bearings.

Referee Abe Roth without hesitation lifted Canzoneri's hand in victory and the gesture met with the crowd's approval, although only a moment before they had called on Tony to open up and show his wares.

STEELE PREPARES TO GRAPPLE HINDU

In preparation for his match with Basanta Singh, champion of India, here Thursday night, Bob Steele will work out at the armory at 2:30 this afternoon and Wednesday, and fans are invited to watch him train, it was announced Monday.

Steele has just returned from Boise, where he disposed of Vito Dardanelli, 215-pound Italian, in straight falls. Steele says he is in good shape, but is not overconfident of beating the Hindu, who he says has met many of the leading light heavies in this country and also has a notable record abroad.

Pleased with his success in his last two bouts here, Steele is planning to make his home in Salem and continue to wrestle here.

"But if the fans are looking for a lot of somersaults and monkeyshines that have nothing to do with wrestling, they'll be disappointed. I'm no clown, and never had pretended to be. If I have to do that to get by as a wrestler, I'll not wrestle. Everything I do in that arena, is either in an effort to throw the other fellow or keep from being thrown myself."

HAPPY OVER GOLF TITLE

SENATORS TAKE SHUTOUT GAME

Salem's Scoring all Done In Second; Peterson Stops Compton's

While Portland rooters shouted for their "Ducky" pitcher, Drake, Salem fans hugged themselves with joy at the way young Andy Peterson missed the opposition with his speed and curves to shut out Compton's Clothiers Sunday, 4 to 0, in one of the Senators' best contests of the season on Olinger field.

The touted "Ducky" allowed only seven hits himself but Andy improved on that by stopping the opposition at three bingles.

In the first inning four Clothiers shook the stick, and three Senators dropped their clubs in rapid succession, with no score for either side.

Compton's plunged into the second, unwitting of the defeat that was to befall from it, first man walking, second getting put out, third and fourth fanning. For the Senators' lucky run, Olinger climbed first sack with a single, Messenger popped-out to pitcher, Louis Girod singled, advancing Olinger; Adolph was safe on first when Brown dropped his fly to center. Then the fatal ring of Compton's errors and the Senators' circuits began.

As Olinger ran for third, Brown threw in to Sandrock, third baseman, but he dropped it, and Olinger was safe. Foreman singled, Olinger scored. Catcher Pleskes flung the ball at the hot spot but hit Louis Girod, who was steaming into third. The ball bounced away and Girod, Adolph and Foreman dusted their feet on home plate and the score was Senators 4, Compton's 0.

Pitchers Battle From Second On
The rest of the game was a battle between hurlers. In the sixth, Girod got safe to third on Adolph's single, but retired the side when he was put out at the plate, after Adolph had been caught on second and Foreman flied out.

Compton's big threat was made by Peterson himself in the seventh, when he walked and, struck one out, then walked two more, to fill the bases. In the pinch, he tightened up in big league style and fanned 'em one and two.

The rest of the game, the crowd wondered if anyone would get on base. Three Senators went out at first; Compton's in the ninth struck out, walked, singled with a pinch hitter, got put out on first, and the last man to handle the club fanned.

SILVERTON, July 13.—Behind a tight pitching by Don Burch, ex-high school flinger, the Silverton Juveniles defeated the Dallas Fire department baseball team here Sunday, 6 to 1. Burch's speed and curve were nearly a little too much for the visitors, 14 of them returning to the bench via the strike out route. He yielded only four safe hits.
