DR. HILL'S MOVIES ACHIEVE PUBLICITY

Dr. David Bennett Hill of this city has brought Salem and western Oregon before a field of 500,000 readers who regularly receive the Cine-Kodak News, publication of the Eastman Kodak company. In a full-page article devoted to the doctor's photograph work, the magazine comments: "Dr. Hill's community reels have obviously acquired a more than strictly local renown."

The article is entitled "A Salute to Salem." It tells of the motion of western Oregon which the doctor has made to take his audiences over such points as the Columbia river highway, Mt. Hood loop, McKenzie highway, the Oregon Coast highway and the Siletz river. Such events as the Molalla Rodeo, Blossom day and winter sports on Mt. Hood are depicted in his films.

Illustrating this account is a reproduced photograph map made by the doctor, showing Salem as the hub of seven of the west's most scenic routes.

In a letter embodied in the article the doctor tells of the work done with his movie kodak. "I've had this about six years; it has had very rough usage but it is still working like a charm," the doctor recounts.

SCOUTS ENJOY LIFE IN CAMP

Santiam Program in Full Swing, Report; Three Tents are Filled

From the boy scout encampment on the Santiam river, the camp reporter, Wallace Sprague, writes to The Statesman that there are 20 boys there, enjoying the outing, and he adds at the end that the boys like the cook. His story of the first four days on the Santiam follows:

"Camp Santiam, official camp of the Cascade area council, Boy Scouts of America is in full swing. Most of the boys arrived Sunday morning, July 12. Three of the tents are filled.

"The officers are: O. P. West, Scout executive; F. H. Zinner, assistant camp director; Paul Hauser, canteen clerk and the only junior officer in camp, and Roy Brady of Silverton, junior assistant camp director.

"The advance guard went up to camp on Friday, July 10. Most of the boys began to arrive between 10 o'clock and 12 o'clock. After lunch most of the new boys explored around camp. Nothing special was done until after supper, July 13, when the tent leaders were chosen and the boys were assigned to their tents. The tent leaders chosen were: Tent I, Miller Sanford; Tent II, Wallace Sprague; Tent III, Harold Duncan; Tent IV, Loren Benjamin; Tent V, Irving Ulmer. These arrangements are to be temporary and other arrangements are being considered.

Camp Officially Opened by West

"About dark a campfire was lighted and the camp was officially opened by Chief West. At the campfire Johnny Peiters of Chemawa Indian school and leather work instructor, gave an Indian dance. Mr. Decorah, also of Chemawa, told some Indian legends. After campfire everyone went to bed.

"This morning July 14, reveille was blown at 6:30 a.m. by the camp bugler, Loren Benjamin, of Salem. Some of the boys took a dip. After breakfast all the tents got ready for inspection. The results of inspection will not be announced until the end of camp. This afternoon games will be played.

"Last night at camp the position of camp mayor (dumbest boy in camp) was given. The honored (1) person was Charles Robinson of Salem.

"The camp cook is R. G. Boyles. He is assisted by his wife and is a very able person in that capacity as all the boys will say."

PLAYGROUND WORK REMAINS POPULAR

Despite cooler weather, activities at the 14th street playground continue popular, Harold Hawk, director, reports. He estimates that yesterday there were about 200 children there during the day.

Swimming is not the leading sport, these cloudy days. Instead, the two horseshoe courts are kept busy, baseball games attract attention in the afternoons, and a game called bitball is well liked. Bitball is a cross between baseball and volleyball, played between two basketball standards, with a light soccer ball batted with the hands.

Work of changing the course of the mill stream to divert the main current from the swimming hole is expected to be completed this morning. When the boys finish building a gravel dam, the pool will be both deeper, and safer, with swift current done away with.

Jamieson Here For Food Firm

M. C. Jamieson has been transferred to Salem from Walla Walla by his employers, the General Foods Sales corporation. This is the first time this concern has had a resident representative. His territory includes the central valley and over to the Tillamook country.

PICNIC ENJOYED

WACONDA, July 14—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nusom, Mr. and Mrs. R. Nusom and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Nusom and family motored to Barlow Sunday where they joined a group of friends from Portland at Shady-B Acres picnic grounds. The day was most agreeably spent swimming, boating and enjoying the various sports.

TO VISIT SILVERTON

SILVERTON, July 14—Dr. L. D. LeGear of St. Louis, Mo., is expected here this week to visit his family. Mr. G. E. Bentson, and family, Dr. LeGear is considered an expert on poultry, and many of his articles are syndicated for newspapers. He visited here last summer, and is making the trip west by auto this year.

OHI TO BE A SENATOR!

It really must be a great life to be a Senator. At least, when you can go golfing by the air lines and have your sky chariot landed right at your "front door" for you. Here Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, one of the most air-minded solons in Washington, is shown boarding an autogiro plane which has just landed on the Capitol plaza to fly him 100 miles to the Burning Tree Club for a round of golf. Pilot James G. Ray is shown at right.

FINAL PLANS FOR OUTING ARE MADE

At a meeting of the Chemeketa held at the Y. M. C. A. last night final plans were made for the annual outing of the organization. C. W. Noble was elected camp governor for the outing, Gladys Miller chairman of the entertainment committee, and Richard Upjohn placed in charge of the various trips to be made.

According to J. Burton Cray, chairman of the committee, Rainier National park has been selected as the site for this year's camp from August 9 to August 25, the big event of the two weeks being the climb to the top of Mt. Rainier on the weekend of August 14, 15, and 16. This event is open to anyone desiring to make the trip, and it is hoped that a number of people from Salem will journey to the camp to accompany the hikers to the top.

The journey from Salem to the national park will be made in private cars, thence to the camp site, four miles distant, by pack horses in charge of R. C. Bennett, who by special arrangement has been made official guide for the party.

Dr. C. A. Downs will accompany the Chemeketans as official physician.

Huntington Park Still Busy Town Visitor Reports

Huntington Park, California, has a population of 30,000 people and keeps them busy in a hundred industries which have been developed in the locality.

"We are not having any real depression," Robert J. Shanahan, executive vice-president of the chamber of commerce, reported here this week when he paid a visit to the managers of the Warner Bros. theatres in Salem. "We have been finding jobs for our own people but business has been good and we're not complaining. Shanahan said it had been 15 years since he had been in Salem and expressed himself as well pleased with the progress of the city. "Salem always was a good town," he commented.

Reading Gains In June Noted Upon Reports

Book withdrawals at the Salem public library last month jumped to 1200 more than in June, 1930, although June is ordinarily a very quiet month, Miss Maud E. Covington, librarian, reported to the library board in session Monday night.

BESCHUTES COUNTY PLAN HELD ILLEGAL

Contract for Courthouse, City Hall Void due to Debt Limits

Because indebtedness to be incurred by Deschutes county and the city of Bend for a 17 1/2-year lease on a building for a courthouse and city hall exceeds the voluntary indebtedness for a county and city, the lease is illegal, the state supreme court decided yesterday in an opinion written by Judge Roseman and concurred in by Justices Kelly, Campbell, Brown and Chief Justice Bean. The argument of economy brought by the city and county, defendants, was not considered by the court, which dealt with the legality of the proposal.

Under a proposal made by Phil Brooks of Bend, the two governments were to use the building jointly for a rental of $750 a month with option to buy. The decree of Judge T. E. J. Duffy who dismissed an injunction against the lease was overruled.

Other opinions handed down by the court were:

The Universal community of Universal Brotherhood, Ltd., appellant, vs. Edward Graf and others, appeal from Lane county. Suit to cancel mortgage. Opinion by Justice Rand. Decree of Judge G. F. Skipworth affirmed and modified.

Hiram and Pauline Leader vs. Farmers Mutual Fire Relief association, appellants, appeal from Jackson county. Suit to recover on fire insurance policy. Opinion by Justice Kelly, Judge H. D. Norton affirmed.

Eagle Point Irrigation District, appellant, vs. G. E. Cowden and others, appeal from Jackson county. Suit to foreclose certain delinquent tax certificates. Opinion by Justice Roseman. Judge T. E. J. Duffy reversed.

Petition for rehearing denied in Cown vs. Oregon Electric Railway company and in Snel and vs. Barber. James H. Kane of Seattle, admitted to practice law in Oregon.

CHAMP SHOPS

Georgia Coleman (above), pretty national diving champion and holder of almost every diving title one can think of, may be all of that, but she's a girl anxious to do some shopping in New York in this picture. Georgia appeared thus when she arrived in the East from Seattle, Wash., weighed down with considerable evidence of shopping, even before she starts her tour of New York shops. She defends her title soon.

SIGNALS INSTALLED

SILVERTON, July 14—Workmen are busy this week installing two police signal lights here. One will be at the intersection of Water and Lewis streets, and the other at the intersection of Oak and First streets. Ames Hardware here was awarded the contract by the city council at last meeting. The fire siren signal for police at night will be discontinued.

Mrs. Willie Murphy, 86, of Savannah, Ga., wove, fashioned and sewed the last suit worn by Stonewall Jackson.

COUNTIES OUTLINE BRIDGE AGREEMENT

Bridges between Marion and Clackamas counties will be maintained hereafter under a joint agreement between the counties under which each accepts 50 per cent of the cost of such maintenance. The agreement was completed this week and filed with the county clerk.

Marion county agrees to keep in repair the Scotts Mills, Jack's, Ross and Monitor bridges over Butte creek. Clackamas county agrees to keep up the Morris and Killian bridges over Butte creek and the Whiskey Hill and Shady Acres bridges over Pudding river.

The agreement also includes a contract for the replacing of the old Morris bridge over Butte creek with a new bridge in 1932. For this work, as well as for the maintenance and repair work, each county will send to the other one a statement of costs incurred and the courts mutually promise to reimburse one another to the extent of one half of the cost.

So much more for your money

The quality you insist on— at a very low price*

The first time you drive a Pontiac you're due for a genuine surprise—especially if you have based your ideas on small cars costing just a little less. You'll find the whole "feel" of Pontiac different—you'll find it gives you a totally different kind of ride.

First is the feeling of power. You'll note pick-up, speed and a driving ease you never looked for at so low a price. If you like to get where you are going without being boxed in traffic or shifting too much on hills, you'll certainly call Pontiac a smart performer after your own heart.

Then there's comfort—deep seats, flexible springs, four hydraulic shock absorbers and enough weight and length. And, even if you know very little about mechanics, you'll readily see how rubber cushions at 43 points in Pontiac's chassis take up road shocks and vibrations.

On sizzling summer days, and in wet weather, you'll marvel at how well Pontiac's insulated Fisher body shuts out heat and dampness. And when you run a critical eye over the interior fittings and finish, you'll see why Pontiac owners are so glad to have their friends ride with them... genuine mohair or whipcord upholstery, for one thing! (Fine leathers in open models.)

The graceful body lines, the broad one-piece fenders with neat built-in fender lamps, the deep V-radiator with its chrome screen—these and many other fine-car features will help make you proud to own a Pontiac... an outstanding General Motors value. You'll like the very low price, too—for what a satisfaction it is to get so much more for your money!

Any Oakland-Pontiac dealer will gladly arrange a demonstration of the Pontiac at your convenience.
