

RIGGS CLAN REUNION HELD

Rickreall Park Scene of Meeting of Members of Pioneer Family

FERRYDALE, July 21—The Riggs clan held their 15th reunion Sunday in the Rickreall park with 32 present. Officers of the past year were re-elected: Zadore Riggs of Portland, president; Lieb Riggs of Hillsboro, vice president; Silas Starr of Portland, secretary and Lois Riggs, historian who read a very interesting letter from a distant relative in Washington; L. Riggs of Clatsop, Ariz., who imparted an interesting bit of history about the Riggs family.

There has been one death the past year to mar the reunion that of Mrs. Nellie Cronice.

Next year on the third Sunday in July the Riggs will meet at the McMinnville country club instead of the Rickreall park.

Gift Presented
A beautiful hand made sofa pillow was presented to Mrs. Adella Riggs, the oldest one present, the pillow was made by Mrs. R. L. Conner of McMinnville.

At noon a lunch was spread with Ralph Riggs, expert coffee maker taking care of that part of the dinner.

Present were, Mrs. Adelia Riggs, Mrs. Fannie Mulkey Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riggs and daughter Lois, Mr. and Mrs. Lavoy Thompson, Harry Cronice, Dave Sears, Mrs. Ida Uery, all of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Zadore Riggs, Mrs. Waller, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Starr of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Lieb Riggs of Hillsboro; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Conner and Mrs. Lydia Conner of McMinnville; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Woodard of Astoria; Mrs. Arthur, Lewis and Robert, Mrs. Robert Mitchell and Robert of Perrydale, Mr. and Mrs. George Starr and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Starr of Dallas.

STAYTON SCHOOLS HAVE NEW STAFF

STAYTON, July 21—Stayton schools will open in about two months. Several new teachers will be here this year, among them Harold Gordonier, of Portland, who will be athletic instructor and also teach in the high school. Theo Norby will be grade school principal and his wife, Margaret McCoy Norby, will have charge of home economics and teach science in the high school. The Norby's come highly spoken of from Mossy Rock, Washington. Willa R. Hull, of Portland, is also a new teacher, as is Faye Mack Lyons, who will teach the primary grades.

Prof. H. E. Tobie who has been with the school the past four years, Dave M. John, who has been teaching commercial the past two years, Miss Margaret Ireland, of Corvallis and Miss Martha Jindra, of Portland, both of whom were here last year will compose the high school faculty in addition to the two new members mentioned above.

Miss Helen Patton and Miss Frances Lillis, both of Portland are coming back for the third year to teach the eighth and third grades. Mrs. Mae L. Hull, of Oregon City will again teach the fifth grade.

Quantities of school supplies are already being received. Considerable repair was done on the building just before school opened last year, so they are still in good shape.

Bids Are Opened On Pavilion For Dalles Hospital

Bids for the construction of an open air pavilion and dining room wing addition to the main building at the Eastern Oregon tuberculosis hospital at The Dalles, were opened by the state board of control Tuesday. The awards will not be announced until later in the week.

C. D. Hedges of The Dalles submitted the low bid of $2,384 on the general contract for the two projects. L. D. Horn of Portland was second low bidder. The Knight Electric company of Portland was low bidder for electrical work at $1625 and the Northwestern Plumbing and Heating company of Portland low on plumbing and heating at $5740.

The 1931 legislature appropriated $32,000 for this work.

Kuschinek Gets Sixty Days For Beer Possession

SILVERTON, July 21—Joe Kuschinek, charged with the possession and manufacturing of beer, was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail by Justice of Peace P. L. Brown here Monday. Henry Kuschinek and Guy Monroe, taken with Kuschinek in a raid on his apartment on First street Saturday, were dismissed.

Joe Kuschinek has lived here about four months. City, county and state officers took part in the raid. Besides many bottles of beer and several jugs of wine, considerable beer mash was found.

West Pleases Monmouth Guests

MONMOUTH, July 21—Mr. and Mrs. Willis Widmeyer and daughter, Miss Ann, of Washington, D. C., accompanied by Mr. Jo Davis and Richard Sargent of the same city, were guests over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Barnes. The eastern folk came here from San Francisco, where they went as delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention. They left Washington the latter part of June and will visit Mt. Ranier national park and Yellowstone park on the return trip.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and their guests went to Falls City to visit Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Warner (Ruth Barnes).

Mrs. Widmeyer is a niece of Mr. Barnes. Miss Ann Widmeyer is a library assistant in the naval academy at Washington. They all expressed delight over Oregon, having seen nothing in California to equal the beauties of the Willamette valley, on this, their first western trip.

GRAIN YIELDS WELL IN SUNNYSIDE AREA

SUNNYSIDE, July 21—Berry picking is over in this vicinity and the grain cutting almost completed. Twenty acres of wheat cut last week gave a heavy yield, with 30 acres of oats giving a light yield on the Taylor farm. A heavy drop in the prune orchards will cut down the tonnage in many places.

A new well has been put down by R. W. West, well driller, on the Crawford service station at Sunnyside. The well shows a flow of about 40 feet of water. Commodore Langdon, the worker who was pulled out of the old well unconscious from gas, was discharged from the hospital the 16th and brought back to Sunnyside by Paul Taylor. Langdon is getting along well but still is in plaster casts.

Miller, building contractor of Forest Grove, is building a house on the property of the Copeland Investment company, situated on Jackson hill, formerly known as the old Dr. Cusick place. They expect to have the house ready for occupancy by the middle of August. The house will have four rooms and bath, and will be modern.

TWO IN HOSPITAL
SPRING VALLEY, July 21—Mrs. Ralph Sohn of this neighborhood is at the Salem general hospital, where she recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. At last reports Mrs. Sohn's recovery is satisfactory. Her sister is also in the hospital, having been operated upon the following day for the same ailment.

OPERATION NEEDED
SILVERTON, July 21—Because of adhesions, Lloyd Kercher of Silverton, who tore ligaments in both knees in an accident at West Fir some weeks ago, will have to undergo one or two operations. Since leaving the Eugene hospital, he has been convalescing at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kercher.

An 80-year-old pear tree at Lake Village, Ark., still bears an annual crop of three bushels of pears.

At both meetings, plans were discussed for the annual Legion picnic to be held in the city park here on August 17. The supper table was set under the trees on the Murray lawn, where the bonfire was lighted after the meetings. Commander Charles J. Johnson gave a short talk; Mrs. C. J. Towe entertained with a reading, and group singing was enjoyed with Mrs. C. V. Murray playing a ukulele accompaniment. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Towe and Mrs. C. V. Murray had charge of the arrangements.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

LEGION, AUXILIARY HOLD JOINT PICNIC

Crowd of Over 80 Attends; Officers Elected by Women's Group

SILVERTON, July 21—More than 80 persons attended the joint picnic supper and meetings of the Delbert Reeves post, American Legion, and the auxiliary, Monday night at the C. V. Murray home in Silverton hills. The auxiliary met at the Murray home and the Legion at the community hall across the road.

Mrs. Harry Wilson was elected president of the auxiliary during the business session. Other new officers elected are Mrs. Glen Kirkwood, Molalla, first vice president; Mrs. Eva Humphries, Stayton, second vice president; Mrs. William Grauer, Silverton, secretary; Mrs. T. P. Heidenstrom, Silverton, treasurer. Mrs. E. E. Jackson, Molalla, historian, and Mrs. Claire Jarvis, Silverton, sergeant at arms. Those named on the executive committee include Mrs. Heidenstrom, Mrs. Del Barber, and Mrs. A. J. McCauley.

The retiring officers are Mrs. Heidenstrom, president; Mrs. Wilson, vice president; Miss Ruth Lorenzen, secretary; Mrs. Del Barber, treasurer; Mrs. Larry Austin, historian; Mrs. Fred Merrill, sergeant at arms; and Mrs. C. J. Towe, Mrs. Nellie Titus, and Mrs. Dewey Allen, executive committee.

Auxiliary Women Turn in "Earnings"
Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

At both meetings, plans were discussed for the annual Legion picnic to be held in the city park here on August 17. The supper table was set under the trees on the Murray lawn, where the bonfire was lighted after the meetings. Commander Charles J. Johnson gave a short talk; Mrs. C. J. Towe entertained with a reading, and group singing was enjoyed with Mrs. C. V. Murray playing a ukulele accompaniment. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Towe and Mrs. C. V. Murray had charge of the arrangements.

An 80-year-old pear tree at Lake Village, Ark., still bears an annual crop of three bushels of pears.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire, at the request of the Legionnaires.

Members of the Auxiliary contributed $14.50 at the meeting, donated in dollar lots. Each member earned the money herself, and in a short poem described the means by which it was earned. The poems were later read to the assembled Auxiliary and Legion, around the bonfire