a Recordak machine which takes a picture of every check put through the machine. The picture is recorded on narrow film, like moving pictures, and then it may be run through a projector and each check shown.

Tespective claims, with proper vouchers, duly verified, to the undersigned executor, at the office of John Bayne, Attorney at law, 341 State street, Salem, Oregon, within six months from the date of this notice. Dated July 10th, 1921 and each check shown.

The bank is using the machine on its out-of-town checks. Formerly it was necessary to list the checks, transcribing the amount, the names of drawer and payee. Now it is necessary only to tran-scribe the amount, the photograph machine giving a complete record of the face of the check. While used now only on out-oftown checks, it may be extended to photograph checks on their own institution.

The advantage asserted for the machine is accuracy and dependability. In case of loss there is the photographic record which is accepted by the government. The roll file occupies small space and is filed away for future reference. The machine also substitutes for two high-priced machines and can be operated by one person. Only one other bank, the First National in Portland, used the ma-
