Pattern

For the woman of larger figure, choosing a new frock often means choosing between what is stylish and what is complimentary to her own individual contour. Both style and flattering effect are happily combined in this frock. Nothing can be more flattering than vertical lines that run straight from the shoulder to the hemline in a seam, and are continued in inverted pleats in the skirt. And nothing can be smarter than the jacket lines suggested by the seams, and the loose belt marking the waist. Pattern 2180 makes up delightfully in percale, dimity, broadcloth, swiss or wash silk.

Obtainable only in sizes 36, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given. No dressmaking experience necessary to make this model with our pattern.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given. Send fifteen cents for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

The new spring and summer pattern catalog features an excellent assortment of afternoon, sports and home dresses, lingerie, pajamas and children's clothes, also delightful accessories patterns. Price of catalog fifteen cents. Catalog with pattern, twenty-five cents. Address all orders and orders to Statesman Pattern Department, 243 West 17th street, New York City.

P.E.O. Convention Event of Fall Season

Local members of P. E. O., including chapters G and AB, the two Salem chapters, are awaiting with interest the 30th biennial session of the supreme chapter of the P. E. O. sisterhood, which will be held in Portland for four days, beginning September 15. The Oregon state chapter, of which Mrs. Grace Kent Magruder of Clatskanie is president, will be the hostess group for the convention, which will bring to Portland more than 700 delegates, representing the more than 60,000 members of the sisterhood, in 24 state chapters and in Canada and Hawaii.

The two Salem chapters have joined with other members of the order in Oregon, numbering about 1200 women, in making preparations for this 1931 session, for the past eight years, the invitation to hold a biennial meeting in Portland having been extended during the Seattle convention in 1923, and they have assisted in raising the entire amount of money necessary to pay all expenses incurred by the delegates during their stay in Portland. P. E. O. is believed to be the only organization that manages its conventions with the business chapter assuming all financial obligations for the delegates during the convention to which it has invited them.

The P. E. O. Sisterhood, which was organized in 1869 at Iowa Wesleyan college, about the same time Greek-letter sororities were being first formed, was the first organization of women to establish a loan fund to provide higher education and specialized training for deserving girls, and the maintenance of the fund now constitutes one of the major projects of the supreme chapter. Over 3000 girls have been aided by the fund, which has reached $600,000 during the past year.

Of equal importance on the national program is the maintenance of a memorial library in honor of the founders of the sisterhood at Iowa Wesleyan college in Mount Pleasant, Ia., also where central offices of the organization are located, and, finally, the sisterhood is sponsor for the Cotter junior college for women at Nevada, Mo., which is formally accepted as its charge in 1927. At present, concerted effort of P. E. O.'s throughout their organization leans toward raising an endowment fund for the standardization of the institution. Mrs. George Todd of Portland is one of the many western women who have attended Cotter college.

Among distinguished guests at the 1931 convention in Portland will be Dr. Virginia A. C. Stockard, president emeritus, and Dr. Mary Forster, president of Cotter college, Mrs. Lulu Corbick Williams of Chicago, one of the '69s, the first members of the sisterhood, will be an honored guest for the convention.

Mrs. Edith Markham Wallace of Seattle is supreme president and will preside at the convention sessions, which will be held in the Masonic temple. B. I. L.'s, as husbands of P. E. O.'s are called, throughout the state are assisting in convention plans and will aid in taking the visitors on sight-seeing trips and in many other ways during the conference.

Miss Kathryn Young Announces Betrothal

To compliment her daughter, Miss Kathryn Young, Mrs. E. Drake entertained at dinner in her home Friday evening. Clever place cards in the shape of golden keys revealed that she had chosen October 17 as the date of her marriage to Elwood Hewitt of Bremerton, Washington.

Guests for the dinner were, Miss Louvera Horn, Miss Wilma Horn and Mrs. Thelma Ross. A number of pre-nuptial affairs are being arranged to honor the bride-elect.

Jefferson—Miss Lorraine Hixson was the inspiration for a surprise party recently, given by her mother, at her home on Third and Church street; the occasion being her thirteenth birthday anniversary.

Dancing and games were enjoyed until a late hour, when a buffet luncheon was served by the hostess. The table was adorned with a beautiful birthday cake and Lorraine was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Present besides the honor guest, Lorraine Hixson, were Jean McKee, Mervine Thurston, Keith Smith, Jessie Hart, Lucille and Calista Pratt, Ralph Beach, Noel Davis, Melvin Morris, Francis Gatchell, Bob Hart, Gilbert Looney, Lester Stephensen, and Milo Harris.

Weekend guests at the home of Miss Dorothy Steusloff were Miss Mildred Croust of Portland and Miss Bertha Davis of Los Angeles, Calif. Miss Davis is affiliated with Occidental college in Los Angeles. Both guests returned to their respective homes Sunday evening.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Poisel on South Commercial street are Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Norris of Whittier, Cal., who arrived Friday by motor. A number of interesting motor trips and informal social affairs are being planned in compliment to the out-of-town travelers.

Epworth League Institute Closes

The Sunday afternoon service brought to a close the annual Epworth League institute which has been in session at T. L. City for the past week. About 400 of the younger people of the Salem and Portland districts attended the meetings which were interestingly planned and executed throughout the entire week's program. Special music for each session was one of the features of the institute with the First Methodist church of Salem winning the honor of first place in the glee contest which was held at the last session.

A number of prominent speakers were on the programs while some were included as members of the faculty. Rev. Hugh Fouke, pastor of Jason Lee church, gave an interesting talk to the group as did Dr. M. A. Marcy, superintendent of the Salem District Methodist church. Rev. S. Darlow Johnson was scheduled to talk but was unable to fill the appointment.

Among those from Salem who attended the institute were, Faith Friday, Margaret Marsh, Lorraine Robbins, Ellen Jean Moody, Roberta Johnson, Carol Johnson, Ercel Donaldson, Albert French, Felix French, Marvin Ritchie, Norris Kemp and Mrs. J. B. Ulrich.

Mrs. Clifford Parker, who underwent an operation recently for the removal of a portion of a needle which became embedded in her foot some 18 years ago, is now convalescing at her home. Attending physicians report her condition as satisfactory with no signs of the foot becoming infected.

Mrs. H. M. Carter of Portland was a guest over the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Carter of Sunnyside.

Miss Genevieve Morgan, valley editor for The Oregon Statesman, is back in the office, after having undergone a major operation nearly a month ago.

After a vacation of the past two weeks spent at Newport, Mr. and Mrs. David O'Hara have returned to their Salem home.

STANDARD RATING SCALE for Electric Refrigeration

- Is the refrigerator manufactured by a reliable company with proper experience in the electric refrigeration field?
- Has it plenty of food and shelf space?
- Is the cabinet itself well designed, sturdily built and properly insulated?
- Is there provision for the freezing of an adequate supply of ice cubes? (Quantity of ice rather than number of cubes, which may be of large or small size, should be taken into consideration.)
- Will the refrigerator constantly maintain a proper temperature for the preservation of foods?
- Can the freezing of ice cubes and desserts be speeded up when the need arises?
- Can this extra freezing speed for ice cubes be had without affecting the temperature on the food shelves? (Too low a temperature on the shelves will, of course, injure food.)
- Is there a place to keep ice cream, meat, fish, game, "quick frozen" foods or extra ice cubes indefinitely at a below freezing temperature?
- Are these various temperatures (a. extra fast freezing; b. fast freezing; c. below freezing for storage; and d. normal food preservation temperature) automatically maintained without any attention from the owner?
- Does the refrigerating unit operate often or infrequently? (The fewer "stops" and "starts" the longer the unit will last and the less it costs to run.)
- How long will the cooling unit continue to cool the refrigerator even though the current is shut off? (Refrigeration should continue for 10 or 12 hours.)
- Can the back parts of all shelves, even the lowest, be reached without kneeling or sitting down?
- Has provision been made for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp?
- Can the refrigerator top be used to "set things down for a moment" while the contents of the cabinet are being rearranged?
- Will the refrigerator add to the attractiveness of the kitchen?
- Has the experience of users over a long period of years proved the refrigerator long-lived and dependable?
