Kamchatka Reached by Lindberghs

Petropavlovsk is now Stopping Place of Flying Pair

Will Stay There for Day is Forecast; Japan Next

TOKYO, Aug. 16.—(AP)—(Sunday)—The Ochilshi wireless station intercepted a message from the plane of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh stating they arrived at Petropavlovsk, Kamchatka Peninsula at 3 p. m., Tokyo time (1 a. m. E.S.T.). It was believed Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh would not continue their flight to Japan today. Their schedule calls for a flight next to Nemuro, Japan, a distance of 897 miles from Petropavlovsk. They could not possibly complete a flight to Nemuro before darkness. Night flying along the Kurile chain of island between the southern tip of the Kamchatka Peninsula and Nemuro would be extremely hazardous, hence it was assumed the flying couple would remain at Petropavlovsk at least until Monday.

Prior to 1856, Petropavlovsk, which has a population of 400, was one of the chief stations of the Russian fleet, but naval headquarters were removed to another port after the successful Anglo-French attack during the Crimean war. It is the principal commercial depot for Kamchatka. The Lindberghs reached Kataru Island at 5:49 p. m., Saturday (10:49 p. m., Friday P.S.T.). The time difference is caused by the international date line, an imaginary line down the middle of Bering Sea, which makes today in America tomorrow in Siberia. The 1067 mile jump from Nome, Alaska, was made in 19 hours and 49 minutes, with Mrs. Lindbergh in communication with the St. Paul Island naval radio station, in the Probfors, most of the time.

CLAIMS WAR DEBT WON'T BE REVISED

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The New York Evening Post today attributed the high "war debt" extension beyond the closing date of the moratorium. The view that the final agreement reached this week on the Hoover moratorium indicates an end of war debts on the basis formerly existing.

No encouragement was found from the Post's sources for the belief that Germany would resume her schedule of payments at the end of the holiday. The opinion was advanced that the least the world may expect in that Germany will ask two or three years' extension beyond the closing date of the moratorium. What was described as of greater probability is that the reparations question would be attacked from an entirely new angle. Having instructed his negotiators to discuss the high "war debt" extension beyond the closing date of the moratorium. NOTED CLUB WORKER PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Mrs. C. J. Frankel, widely known Portland woman, died at her home here today. She had been ill for several months. Mrs. Frankel was prominently identified with women's club work for many years and in the spring of 1930 was instrumental in organizing women throughout the state in behalf of Governor Norblad reelection. STRUCK BY AUTO ALBANY, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Josephine Smith, 70, of Halsey, suffered a broken arm, cuts and bruises today when she was struck by an automobile driven by Seth T. Matthews, Roseburg. Reports said Mrs. Smith was watching another automobile and stepped backward into the path of the Matthews' machine. Her cuts resulted principally from a jelly glass she was carrying and which was shattered when she fell.

HOP SEASON ON HERE BUT JOBS NOT AVAILABLE

Around 15,000 Pickers are Signed up; Residents of Oregon Mostly

No Employment of Filipino Or Japanese Labor, Growers Claim

"Please, please, tell the world we have all the hop pickers we will possibly need; in fact, more than we can handle." Not one man, but every hop grower to whom a Statesman reporter talked made the statement in one form or another. Which means around 15,000 people already are lined up to work in hop yards in this section. With scattering yards already working on or through with the fuggles and picking of the clusters to start the forepart of next week in other yards, the hop harvest will be well launched in a few days more. The season is a week ahead of last year.

Picking in the Lake Brook yards, Livelysey company holdings near here, is scheduled to start Thursday morning, and will give employment to 1000 pickers. The Lake Brook yards contain about 400 acres of hops. Most of pickers are Oregon residents. Even for this big yard there has been no difficulty in getting more than enough pickers, virtually all of whom are Oregon residents and most of whom come from territory between Portland and Eugene. Pay to pickers this year is the lowest in years in some yards, with a range of from 50 cents a hundred to $1 a hundred. Some growers are paying 40 cents a box, some 45 cents a box, which is about equivalent to a cent a pound. Others are paying 90 cents a hundred. In a few yards bonuses are being offered, the prevailing price being 80 cents a hundred, with a bonus of 30 cents. Aurora and Donald yards are reported to be working on this basis. Crop is short of hops. Last Year's Mark The crop this year is estimated now at 75,000 bales or 150,000 pounds. This is 5000 bales under last year. The red spider has made some inroads into hops, although no yards will have to be abandoned here. In some instances picking is being started before hops are mature in order to save the crop from the spider. About a third of this season's crop is already contracted, according to James A. Byers, with the Livelysey company. Those who have been contracted and recently sold for 14 and 15 cents, in the main. A few growers with carry-over contracts, most of which end this year. NEW WHEAT BURNED IN STUBBLE BLAZE

PERRYDALE, Aug. 15.—Fire which started from sparks from a small fire set in the Clarence McCrow pasture this afternoon swept over McCrow's stubble field, and lapped up the stubble in fields on the Hamilton and Henry Key farms. Key lost 98 sacks of wheat in the blaze, which burned over about 75 acres. McCrow lost his dairy barns and machinery in the heavy winds of last winter. The farms are located 10 miles west of Perrydale.

Mrs. C. J. Frankel Dies Halsey Woman Injured Grain Crop Destroyed Pendleton Roundup on

THRESHER BLAMED ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 15.—Fire today destroyed the entire grain crop on the W. L. Cobb farm. The crop was estimated at 2500 bushels. A threshing outfit had just moved onto the field and it was believed a spark from the engine started the fire. PARADE IS OPENER PENDLETON, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—The Pendleton Round-up season opened here tonight with a dance and the annual "dress-up" parade in Happy Canyon. A large number of floats were entered in the parade. KNIFE WOUNDS LAD PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Mike Kovito, 15, Italian, suffered a deep wound in his hip tonight when his brother Joe, 13, hurled a butcher knife at him during an argument. The injured boy was taken to the police emergency hospital while Joe was held for investigation by juvenile authorities.

Baptist Pastor Is Recovering

Rev. William H. Robins, pastor of the First Baptist church, who underwent a major operation Friday night at Salem General hospital, was reported last night to be doing well. He continues to gain from his present good condition, he should be recovered within three or four weeks, it was said there. GETS SCHOLARSHIP COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Leston L. Love, Corvallis, Ore., a graduate of Oregon State college, has been awarded a scholarship in practical arts and vocational education at Ohio State university, it was announced here today.

Storm Centers in Cuban Uprising

Despite the arrest of General Menocal, shows at lower right, and other leaders of the Cuban revolution, the rebels are still refusing to cease fighting until President Machado (lower left) abdicates. Some victories in clashes with loyal troops are credited to the insurrectionists in later dispatches from Havana.

FILIPINO WORKERS OUSTED BY FORCE

Hop Pickers Removed After Ranch Owner Protests No Whites Available

LAKEPORT, Cal., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Filipino field workers were fleeing Lake county today as the aftermath of a forcible deportation of 35 hop-pickers by a crowd of approximately 150 white men in Scott's Valley last night. The crowd of white men called at the ranch owned by O. A. Sanford, where they smashed through a heavy gate, and when Sanford, 70 years of age and white haired, demanded to know what they wanted, they replied they were there to "take these Filipinos."

Eckleman is New Head of Sourdoughs

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Albert J. Eckleman, Portland, was elected president of the Alaskan-Yukon Pioneers Reunion, Inc., which was formed here today. Calgary, Canada, was named the 1932 convention city. The new organization in the future will endeavor to bring Alaskans from all parts of the United States and Canada together for annual reunions. Sponsors of the movement pointed out Alaskan societies exist in nearly every part of the continent but that they have not yet made any serious effort to unite. Frank Lowe, Vancouver, B. C., chairman at the convention, appointed a committee which drew up a general plan for the reorganization of the Alaskan-Yukon pioneers reunion under the laws of the state of Washington and the province of British Columbia.

PLAN TO DESTROY COTTON REJECTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—What method the farm board finally will adopt to assist the southern cotton farmer in his low-price dilemma tonight held the close interest of Washington. Hope has been virtually abandoned for its proposal that a third of the current crop be destroyed and stabilization supplies held off the market for a year. At least five actual rejections have been received from the 14 governors who were asked to join in the program. There apparently is no immediate prospect of concerted state action although many suggestions to that end have gone out. The disposition seems to be to leave the actual formulation of an acceptable workable plan squarely up to the board to be worked out from the many counter proposals put forward by governors, senators and planters.

F. SHAFER SUFFERS PARALYTIC STROKE

F. E. Shafer, proprietor of the Shafer Leather Goods store, was taken to Salem General hospital at 9 o'clock last night, in serious condition as the result of a paralytic stroke which he suffered about 7 o'clock while he was driving his car in West Salem. The attending physician reported two hours later that Shafer was practically helpless but whether his condition was critical could not be ascertained so soon after the stroke. Friends of Mr. Shafer noticed that he was driving erratically. They immediately took him to his home, 1246 State street, to which the physician was called. When his ailment was diagnosed, he was taken by ambulance to the hospital.

RATE BOOST WOULD CLOSE PAPER MILL

Such is Declaration Made At Portland Hearing Closed Saturday

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Manufacturers of woolen goods, nurserymen, fish canners and pulp manufacturers appeared today at the regional interstate commerce commission hearing here to voice final protests against the 15 per cent freight rate increase asked by the railroads. The four-day hearing was concluded shortly after noon. Commissioners William E. Lee and E. I. Lewis, and Examiners G. H. Mattingly and Myron Witters will go next to San Francisco where another regional hearing will be held. J. M. Devers, attorney for the Oregon state highway commission, appeared as a witness and declared the rate increase would divert tonnage to truck lines. Such results would increase highway maintenance costs to the people of the state, he said. Charles H. Carter, vice-president of the Portland Woolen Mills, said present freight rates discriminate against the Pacific northwest woolen manufacturers and an increase would be intolerable. Representatives of northwest nurserymen testified they would lose their entire eastern market if the rate boost were allowed, while a representative of an Oregon pulp and paper company said his plant would close down were the rates increased.

SILVERTON PICNIC IS GREAT SUCCESS

SILVERTON, Aug. 15.—The annual community picnic which was held in the Silverton city park last night and sponsored by the chamber of commerce turned out to be a big success as far as the Silverton residents and the visitors were concerned. Approximately 1500 people representing grange, lodge and parent-teacher associations were gathered together to enjoy the entertainment provided by various groups and the chamber of commerce. The program presented by the North Howell grange was adjudged the best and in recognition that organization was presented with a large silver cup by Earl J. Adams, president of the Silverton chamber of commerce. The group enjoyed water and land sports during the afternoon and a talk by Judge McMahon of Salem in the evening.

MARRIAGE LICENSE BUSINESS BOOMING

Business in marriage licenses was booming at the county clerk's office yesterday. Apparently undisturbed by business depression, five couples sought and obtained license to wed during the day. John Lindemann, 25, 470 North Church street, Salem, obtained permit to wed Mildred Lentz, 26, 470 North Church street, Salem. He is a spinner by trade; she is a confectioner's clerk. Gordon D. Thompson, 27, 1945 East Nob Hill, Salem, obtained permission to marry Dorelle Lainsan, 25, 1945 East Nob Hill, Salem. Thompson, a postal clerk, stated that he had his second marriage while his bride-to-be who gave her occupation at domestic, is entering upon her third marriage. Ray DeMerit, sales manager for the McKay Chevrolet Co., obtained permission to marry Abbey Tomseth of Springfield, Oregon. DeMerit gave his age as 35 and his bride-to-be at 24. For both parties the marriage is their second. Both parties gave their ages as legal.

Music Teacher Dies After Hit By Street Bus

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—T. E. Lawson, 51, a music teacher, was injured fatally here tonight when a bus knocked him to the pavement. He died en route to a hospital. Police investigators exonerated Roscoe E. Austin, driver of the bus, of responsibility. Witnesses said Lawson was walking diagonally across the street and when he saw the bus he jumped directly in its path. Little was known here of Lawson but the coroner said he was believed to have relatives in Canada.

MACHADO FAILS IN EFFORTS TO SOOTHE REBELS

Alleged Bomb Plot Against Havana Police Center Causes Arrest

Revolt Sympathizers From U. S. Join in Struggle Is Latest Rumor

HAVANA, Aug. 15.—(AP)—President Gerardo Machado continued today his efforts to halt further fighting in Cuba while General Mario G. Menocal and Col. Carlos Mendila, the two men said to be the chief support of the revolt, were on their way back to Havana on a gunboat under arrest. Insurgent quarters said however, there would be no compromise but based on President Machado's resignation. Three men were arrested by the secret police today and charged with having been members of an alleged plot to bomb the Havana police headquarters where hundreds of police reserves have been housed, in readiness for an emergency, since the outbreak of the revolution. A dispatch said a battle was going on near Ranchuelo, a little more than ten miles from Santa Clara. Sympathizers From U. S. Said Arriving Newspaper dispatches from the north coast of Santa Clara province reported a group of rebel sympathizers from the United States had landed between Ganza and Mendendez beaches. It was near this place that eight men were killed and several wounded in a stubborn battle yesterday. The towns of Corralillo and Sierra Morena were in rebel hands, dispatches said. Both towns were reported burning and all means of communication with them was severed. The stubborn resistance in that province was credited in dispatches to the state federation introduced by the alleged arrival of the group from the United States. This group was said to be headed by Col. Rosendo Collazo, retired army officer. No confirmation of these reports (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Johnson Notes Need of Safety Zones in Salem

The majority of California cities visited by O. F. Johnson, local merchant, on a trip there the last fortnight have safety zones for school children during school hours, Johnson reported when he returned during the past week. He is anxious that Salem provide similar safeguards for its school children as they cross congested streets going to and from school. Johnson has suggested that special police protection be afforded the school children during the hours of school. Others have proposed that the city erect stop or slow signs on arterial highways where lanes could be provided for the children to use in making their daily pilgrimages to the school houses.

PLAN TO ENTERTAIN LABOR DELEGATIONS

Over 150 to Attend; Ways To aid Employment Situation Topic

From 150 to 200 delegates are expected to attend the 29th annual convention of the Oregon State Federation of Labor which will convene in Salem the week of September 14. The Salem trade and labor council, with Clifford Mornihan chairman of the commission, is making plans for the local entertainment of the visitors. Sessions will be held in the Masonic temple instead of the hall of representatives in the statehouse, where the session was originally to be held. Plans for holding the meetings there were abandoned when a special session of the legislature was under consideration. Unemployment probably will be the outstanding issue to be discussed at this year's convention. Ben T. Osborne, executive secretary of the state federation, declared that between 35,000 and 40,000 Oregon men were without employment, and that some action would have to be taken to provide work for these men during the winter months. Many of the unemployed are property owners, Osborne said, and they are badly in need of funds with which to meet their current obligations. In many instances they are paying for (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

ABANDONING CHILD CHARGED TO PAIR

PENDLETON, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hartwig, arrested here last Wednesday on a charge of child abandonment, pleaded guilty to the charge in court here today. Hartwig was fined $100 and sentenced to 60 days in jail, while his wife was sentenced to 25 days in jail. The couple admitted, officers said, they had abandoned one of their children in Eureka, Calif., and another in Eugene, Ore. The child abandoned in Eugene was a three-month-old girl. Officers said Hartwig was armed with a .32 calibre automatic pistol when arrested. They expressed the opinion the Hartwigs would be released to return to Eureka, via Eugene, on the condition they would provide a home for their children.

Siegmund, Slade and Sisson are Named For Marion

Possible Methods of Providing Work Pointed out

County Judge John C. Siegmund, E. F. Slade, president of the First National bank and B. E. Sisson, manager of Miller's store, were named yesterday by Governor Julius L. Meier as the Marion county members of a committee to cooperate with similar committees in each county in the state to provide employment for thousands of Oregon men and women who probably will be out of work during the fall and winter months. In making the announcement Governor Meier named no members for Multnomah county which already has its own unemployment organization. The Polk county committee includes Judge G. L. Hawkins and P. A. Finseth of Dallas and Ira C. Powell of Monmouth. That for Yamhill is Judge R. J. Kennedy, C. E. Apperson and Del Wheeler, all of McMinnville. Governor Meier stressed the necessity of proceeding with the construction of public projects which, under more favorable conditions, would not be undertaken until some time in the future. He also suggested that labor saving machinery be reduced to a minimum in order that work may be found for a maximum number of men.

NO TOOTHBRUSHES FOR PROLETARIAT

MOSCOW, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Russia today is facing two new crises—a shortage of knives, forks and spoons in public eating places and a tooth brush shortage. The newspaper Evening Moscow today called the situation acute and complained that patrons in restaurants were forced to stand in line waiting their turn for a tooth brush. The newspaper demanded that suitable measures be taken immediately to relieve this condition. It was estimated that Moscow's 62 restaurants, 135 buffets and 37 canteens had needed 700,000 knives and forks and 1,000,000 spoons, besides 1,200,000 plates and 1,800,000 glasses. A writer in the same paper demands measures be taken against those responsible for "depriving the proletariat of Moscow of toothbrushes."

Beach Sees His Sister After 27 Years Interval

Twenty-seven years have rolled on since Mrs. Charles M. Hald and E. A. Beach, superintendent of the Y. M. C. A. building here, met, but they are brother and sister and when they met again this weekend, Beach's Hald was moment and knew Mrs. Hald was his sister. She was only 10 when the two parted but both have similar eyes which are plain identification of relationship. Mr. Hald and their son are visiting here with Mr. Beach and his sister. Hald is an insurance adjuster and has his headquarters in Phoenix, Arizona. Prior to going there 16 months ago, he made his business headquarters in New York City and lived in northern New Jersey. Mrs. Hald after a preliminary view about six months yesterday, expressed herself as very pleased with the city to which she was making her first visit.

Wage Reduction Said Inevitable

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Malcolm C. Rorty, of New York, consulting engineer and former vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph company, told members of the institute of politics tonight that wage reductions in industry must take place. He said many reductions already had been made. Pray declared that incendiary fires are most numerous during business depressions. Incendiary Fires Serious Problem of State Police

The problem of incendiary fires, reported in various sections of Oregon, is one of the most serious now confronting Charles Pray, superintendent of state police. Pray declared that more than 100 of these incendiary fires have been reported to his department, exclusive of those referred to Portland fire officials.

Previous to the creation of the state police department all incendiary fires were investigated by the state fire marshal. This work now devolves upon the superintendent of state police and his investigators. As a result of the increasing number of suspicious fires Pray has assigned two of his most experienced operators to arson investigations. These investigations are now in progress of several sections of the state. Other arson investigators will be employed as the occasion demands, Pray announced.
