Development of mildew during July was extremely variable causing a total failure in a few yards and almost entirely absent in other yards which reported rather serious amount of mildew a month previous. Generally mostly 75c. speaking there is no serious amount of hop lice in Oregon vineyards and red spider is not causing any apprehension.

The season has been most unusual and the development of the crop has been extremely variable. Picking was under way in the earlier yards the second week of August and the September report should contain indications of the cumulative effect of the unusual conditions this season on hop

Lettuce Growers now Getting low Price Dollar a Crate

Oats and barley took the first decline in some days yesterday, with the lower quotation to the producer from $22 to $24 on the former and $15 to $16 on barley. Wheat climbed a half cent yesterday to 39 cents on red and 35 cents on white.

Lettuce growers are receiving only a dollar a crate now, 50 cents under the price to them which has prevailed heretofore. Quantities of lettuce are coming in from Labish now, and all excellent quality. Celery growers are getting 60 to 75 cents a dozen, with movement still helding strong.

Butterfat continues at 29 cents.

Locally grown cantaloupes were commanding only two and a half cents for the grower yesterday. Few prunes are moving in the down town stores, and local peaches were reported about done

Demand is Stimulated With All Lines Included: But-- ter is Steady

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 25. (AP)-Fight for control of the local chicken market continues unabated here. In fact a greater demand for offerings in the California trade started another rumous in the buying price here. Some of the packers were inclined to grab the big profits offered by the increased California price by holding down the local price but others appeared with a higher price for buying here and spilled the Demand for chickens includes all lines. There is at the moment a very keen call for all sorts and especially so for the young stuff. All brotlers are in call and at full prices. Best demand is for light weights, which are scarce and find southern favor at an opening price.

Graham's Residence Nearing Completion; Threshers in Field

LYONS, Aug. 20 — Thomas Graham has his new house well under way to completion. Ed. Burnett is assisting with the building work.

Mr. Neal and Rolland Berry left early Monday with the tractor and grain separator to go to the Weasel Flat district for a short time and from there they will go to Jordan and Scio to finish several jobs awaiting them. There are also two places here to be threshed when they return. Lyons seems to be a rather deserted place, what with so many residents away picking hops, berries, beans or heukleberries.
