

Creamery in Operation 25 Years to Close Next Month

TURNER PLANT TO SHUT DOORS

Board Gets Patrons two Weeks' Time to Make New Arrangements

TURNER, Aug. 26—The creamery at Turner has been ordered closed by the middle of September in the interests of economy. The community will regret very much to see the fine plant idle. The townspeople have become accustomed to seeing the farmers drive in each day for 25 years with their dairy products, and it will seem odd without the morning's traffic to the creamery.

D. S. Riches has been the local manager for the last two years. The first building was put up and used by the Hamwood company. Some time later the Portland Pure Milk and Cream company took it over, finally it was merged into the Portland Damascus company with A. M. Work as head manager. During the last year it was taken over by the Carnation company.

A local dairy association has functioned for 15 years. I. D. Roberts, president, Robert Schaefer, secretary and S. A. Riches and C. A. Bear, members of the board, were called to Portland Monday to confer with Mr. Work, who announced that the plant would have to close by the first of the month.

The Turner men were instrumental in having the plant put out for two weeks so the patrons will have ample time to make other arrangements for their dairy product.

While in Portland the local men were shown through the Carnation company's big plant which has every device known for the speedy handling of milk.

MUSICIANS PROTEST BAND CONCERT IDEA

Protesting against departing from the old custom of hiring a band for regular service at the state fair, the Salem local of the American federation of musicians, through its secretary, Ivan G. Martin, has addressed a letter to Max Gehlar, director of the state department of agriculture. Gehlar's plan is to hang up $2000 in prizes for community bands to compete for.

The Salem organized musicians argue that the entertainment calls for a trained band to serve all during the programs of the fair, and that good music will not be assured if bands are not definitely engaged for the job. They suggest the use of the smaller community bands in the horse show, and the continued employment of some official band for the regular program.

The letter also urges the re-establishment of a feature which was abandoned several years ago, namely having a real band concert in a music pavilion.

CREDIT MEN WORK ON REPORT SYSTEM

Completions of reports on 42 individuals, the largest yet handled by the group, were disposed of with dispatch at the regular Wednesday noon session of the Salem Retail Credit association. This was the second time the association has used the new reporting system, which gives not only a check on the debtor but the combined amount he or she owes to the business houses represented at the association.

L. R. Schoettler won the award offered for bringing the most new or old members out to yesterday's meeting. He brought three.

President Philip H. Holmes announced that beginning next week he will call upon various members to occupy the chair at each meeting.

Depositors Getting First Distribution From Farmers' Bank

INDEPENDENCE, Aug. 26—A distribution of about $55,000 to depositors of the Farmers State bank is being made. This is going to help in this city and district, owing to the fact that a number were hit pretty hard when the bank was put into the banking examiners hand about six months ago.

The savings account at this time is paying a dividend of about 50 per cent and the general deposits about 25 per cent. This is the first to be distributed and other amounts will follow in time.

EDWARDS TO BUILD TURNER, Aug. 26—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bear and two children drove to Monument Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Neal Edwards, at the T. J. Edwards home. Mr. and Mrs. Neal Edwards have recently purchased a farm which is located a short distance east of Monument. Mr. Edwards is preparing to build a modern dairy barn for 30 cows. They will take possession of the farm September 15. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards were residents of Turner for two years, leaving in June after school closed. She was the intermediate teacher here.

SPRING VALLEY, Aug. 26—Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Crawford entertained at their weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. N. Fritchard and family of Corvallis and Bobby Zinsler of Salem.

SHE'S GOING TO SWIM CHANNEL AGAIN

Who doesn't remember that day in August, 1926, when Gertrude Ederle conquered the English Channel—the first woman to accomplish that feat? And when she came back to receive the acclaim of her country—what celebration and outpouring of pride in Trudie! Miss Ederle, now teaching swimming in a New York pool, has the ambition to swim the treacherous channel again, this time from England to France. If her ambition is realized, she will have conquered it both ways. Trudie is shown (upper right) enjoying a swim, teaching her niece to swim (lower right), swimming the channel in 1926 (lower left), and Miss Ederle, herself (upper left). Go to it, Trudie, good luck!

LEAGUE SETS FREE HUNDRED PHEASANTS

SILVERTOWN, Aug. 26—One hundred China pheasant roosters were liberated near here Monday by members of the local Isaac Walton league. The birds were raised in the league's pens on the Ed Overland farm. A like number of hens will be freed following the closing of the hunting season this fall.

Replacement is expected soon from the state game farm near Corvallis. The local league hopes to keep its pens full to capacity. Care was taken in releasing the

MORE PLEASURE LESS COST TRAVELING THE GREYHOUND WAY

Greyhound patrons often go out of their way to tell us how much they have enjoyed their trip. They speak of the comfort of the new buses, the unfailing courtesy of the drivers—and invariably they mention the added scenic pleasure of traveling this modern way. Yet Greyhound travel costs less.

GRANGE HOLDS ISLAND PICNIC

Tompkins Brothers Finding Ready Market for Large Melon Acreages

GRAND ISLAND, Aug. 26—The Milwaukee Grange association held a delightful picnic on the island Sunday. Among those present were George Palmiter, past state master of the grange and M. S. Shrock, Pomona master of Clackamas county. Mr. Shrock especially enjoyed being present since he was a former county agricultural agent of Yamhill county. Morton Tompkins headed the group of some 25 people on a sight seeing tour of the island during the afternoon which they all very much enjoyed and appreciated.

The Tompkins brothers are displaying new signs on their muskmelons and cantaloupes. J. H. Tompkins has 35 acres of these two varieties, while Morton Tompkins is picking from patches totaling 60 acres. The producers are finding a ready market for the melons, and each day large truck loads of the fruit leave here for all parts of the Willamette valley. Merlin Harding began picking in his 45 acre yard of hops Monday morning. Over a hundred pickers are now employed and due to the lack of hop baskets nearly 50 people were turned away the first morning.
