ROUNDUP GETS OLDEST TWINS

Man Coming all way From Iowa to Join Brother At Albany Event

ALBANY, Sept. 4—Twins of all sizes and descriptions will pass in review before thousands of interested spectators in the third biennial Albany twin roundup on Labor day, Sept. 7. Likewise they will compete in the program of games that has been prepared by the arrangements committee and at night they will give an entertainment of their own beneath the canopy of the giant chautauqua building in Bryant park.

The oldest twins in the world will be there. One of them has come from Iowa to meet his Oregon brother and join with him in lending interest to the occasion. There will be tiny mites, also, who still need their mother's care and between the extremes will be an army of twins that will assemble from many widely separated states, some of whom will come from as far east as Iowa and Nebraska.

Special arrangements are being made this year for the comfort of the crowd. The great chautauqua canopy which covers thousands of people will be filled with seats, so that nobody will be compelled to stand. The review and judging will be held on a stage erected at the front and in full view of the crowd.

The day's events will begin at 10:30 o'clock with a concert by Albany's American Legion band. After that the twins will compete in a program of games and sports.

At noon will come the big community dinner, which will be provided by the housewives of Albany under the leadership of the women's organizations of eight churches. Twins and members of their immediate families will receive their dinner free of charge.

At 1:30 the parade of the hundreds of sets of twins will start and the sets will be introduced by Senator W. L. Marks, president of the Oregon senate. Prominent women of the state will officiate as judges; one will be Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, widow of Oregon's late governor, who has never missed serving in that capacity.

The evening program will start at 7:30 o'clock and will last for about an hour and a half. This will be given entirely by volunteer twin talent and will be of excellent merit. Following the evening program will be the official round-up dance sponsored by the Loyal Order of Moose.

Former Silverton Man and Family on Visit From Alaska

SILVERTON, Sept. 4—Mr. and Mrs. Nickoli Nelson and small son are visiting at the home of Mr. Nelson's parents here at the present time. They expect to go to Seattle some time toward the close of this month.

Mr. Nelson is a graduate of the Silverton schools, finishing in 1917. Since then he has spent some of his time in Alaska and much of it along the Atlantic coast.

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 5—(AP)—Suffering hemorrhages of the brain, Mrs. Nora Wilson, St. Louis, Mo., hitch-hiker, collapsed on the Palific highway near here Friday. She told a doctor the last she remembered was being in Red Bluff, Calif.
