

COUNTIES NEED NOT PAY STATE

Control Board Waives Law In That Respect When Meier Recommends

considerable merit," Governor Meier's letter read. "The state levy of taxes for 1931, made prior to the enactment of the law, contains amounts for the maintenance of our state hospitals for the insane. The placing of these charges on the counties amounts, in a sense, to an additional tax on the part of the state for the service or purpose, so far as the year 1931 is concerned. Had No Opportunity To Place in Budget

"Furthermore, the counties did not have an opportunity to make provision for these charges in their budgets and tax levies for 1931, and the laws of the state prohibit the use of moneys budgeted and appropriated for specific purposes from being applied to other and different purposes. In view of the apparent injustice of attempting to impose on the counties, during the year 1931, charges for the support of non-violent insane, I recommend that the state board of control waive and cancel all such charges against the counties for each month this year. Thereafter all counties should fully meet the requirements of the law with respect to their non-violent insane.

"Collections from the estates and relatives of both violent and non-violent insane have reached approximately $4500 for the month of August. This part of the law must be actively administered to the end that direct charges on taxpayers for the maintenance of these institutions may be held down to the lowest possible amount consistent with the state's obligation for the proper care of its unfortunate insane and feeble minded wards.

Governor Meier was unable to attend Thursday's meeting because of illness. Hal E. Hoos, secretary of state, presided. Rufus C. Holman, state treasurer, is the third member of the board.

Vote Cooperation in Roseburg Affair

The board also voted to cooperate with the federal government and the city of Roseburg, in connection with surrendering the state soldiers home there to the federal authorities. A law of the 1931 legislature provided that in case the northwest veterans hospital was located at Roseburg the existing state soldiers home would be turned over to the government and combined with the new institution. Roseburg recently was designated by the government as the site for the federal soldiers home.

A report from Dr. Roy Byrd, superintendent of the state home for the feeble minded, indicated that approximately 18 patients at the institution had been released during the past month under a new parole policy. It was said that several of these patients have obtained jobs and returned to parts of the state. Other patients were paroled to their parents in relatives.

The state training school for boys reported its lowest population in history, with 80 wards in the institution.

Both Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, superintendent of the Oregon state hospital, and W. H. Baillie, head of the boys school, reported a surplus of money, when compared with their estimated budget requirements.

James Lewis, warden of the state penitentiary, reported that funds for the new cell block had arrived, and that the cell block would be ready for occupancy within another month. The new cell block will accommodate approximately 325 prisoners, and will relieve congested conditions in the prison.

Fishing Vessels Continue Search For Lost Fliers

(AP)—All fishing vessels and other craft off the coast of Hokkaido Island and along the Kurile archipelago, north of here, continued yesterday and today their search for Don Moyle and C. A. Allen, along the possible route of the two California aviators flew in their intended trip from Sanaburo beach to Seattle.

No trace of the aviators has been found.

UCLA Students Give up Hazing

(AP)—Upper classmen of the University of California at Los Angeles today decided to abandon hazing of freshmen in the coming term. Leaders announced that instead of the traditional paddling and ducking on the corners, 2,000 of them, will be welcomed with luncheons, dances and sightseeing tours after registration tomorrow and Saturday.

Modern Piracy Story Baffles Eastern Police

SYOSSET, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(AP)—An amazing narrative of a midnight invasion of a yacht in Long Island sound by two men who either threw the wealthy owner overboard or east him adrift and then mistreated his wife baffled the police tonight.

The strange tale of modern piracy was told by Mrs. Benjamin P. Collins, who said that after her husband was seized the invaders carried her in a canoe to a motorboat nine miles distant from here about six miles per hour. She said she attracted attention early today.

The Collins' five-year-old daughter Barbara was left unharmed aboard her parents' drifting yacht, Penguin, which was found by a boating party just before daybreak.

Car Demolishes Parked Bicycle

MILLARD B. DOUGHTON, 1820 North 19th street, mail carrier for the central district south of the postoffice, reported to the police that a Portland motorist driving his car with two wheels in the parking, demolished his bicycle which was lying on the curbing at 1055 North Church street yesterday afternoon. Doughton stated that the Portland man, William G. Trapp, drove his car onto the parking in front of 1055 North Church, while going 30 miles per hour, and continued along until he ran over the bicycle.

Pocatello Paper Under New Head

POCATELLO, Idaho, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Announcement of the sale of the Idaho State Journal, Pocatello morning paper, to Arthur N. Sakerkrup of Columbus, Ind., was made late today by I. H. Masters. The new publisher took immediate charge and announced the democratic policy of the paper would be continued. He said no change in the staff was contemplated at this time.

Three Cars in Traffic Mixup

When a motorist drove his car in front of him at the intersection of Court and North Commercial streets at 9 o'clock last night, Kenneth W. Bayne, route 9, was unable to stop in time and drove his machine into one operated by Samuel Toews, 275 North 20th street. Bayne reported to the police last night. He did not state the name of the offender.

Mrs. Church to Wed New York

MRS. CHURCH TO WED NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Church, whose friendship with Henry Dufield Phelps first came to public notice at the fashionable horse shows of the spring season, will be married to the Provencence, R. I. bond salesman tomorrow in a quiet, civil ceremony at her mother's Long Island estate.

Fire in Rubbish

Central station firemen were called out at 7:15 o'clock last night to put out a fire in a pile of rubbish at 710 North High street. It was presumed the rubbish was the remains of a woodpile and the owners had set it afire.

Today—Richard Arlen and Peggy Shannon in "The Secret Call."
THE GRAND
Today—Loretta Young and Ronald Colman in "The Devil to Pay."
THE HOLLYWOOD
Today—Mabel Green, Edna May Oliver in "Forbidden Adventure."

Today will be the last time for "The Night Angel" with Nancy Carroll and Fredric March in the title roles. A play with rather an unusual dramatic pull, and one in which the unexpected occurs. It holds the interest to the end—which is a happy one.

Beginning Saturday will be "The Secret Call" with Peggy Shannon and Richard Arlen. To Richard Arlen fell the happy lot of playing the role of leading man opposite Peggy Shannon, Hollywood's latest "lucky girl."

Miss Shannon was thrust into film-fame when she was cast in the principal romantic part of "The Secret Call" after the part was vacated by the sudden illness of Clara Bow.

The story deals with the events which take place in a big city during the progress of an electioneering campaign. Miss Shannon, whose father dies a victim of the persecution of the "big boss" of the political machine which runs the city, gets a job as a telephone operator in a big hotel.

As such she learns many of the secrets of the politicians, and is in a position to damage the "big boss" so much with scandal that he will lose his grip on the voters. But she learns that Arlen, her sweetheart, is the son of the "big boss."

Thus the plot brings together a number of thrilling dramatic forces, which end pleasingly in a romantic climax.

LAD NOT KIDNAPED; JOBLESS MEN FIND

about 200 men hunted him today, aided by an aerial observer. It was the dogs that led Dale away from home, he said. He had a fine time following them away over the brush-covered hills and nothing worried him until night came.

The county reward and an additional $50 offered by the News and Herald, on which the child's father is forerun, was divided among the six unemployed men who found Dale.

RUMORS PROVE OF LITTLE AID

Airplane Possibly That of Allen and Moyle Seen Far Toward North

macks were that of Moyle and Allen it would indicate they were forced north of their chartered route. They must have landed somewhere enroute to take on additional fuel, but many small settlements in Alaska unequipped with a radio station have ample supplies of airplane gasoline.

Meanwhile coast guard vessels and ships of private companies kept watch for the plane. In Alaska, cable and radio stations, government and private, were alert to flash the news, should the Clasing Mudge or her pilots be discovered.

The coast guard cutter Haida, about 10 miles off the south end of Vancouver island and the cutter McLaugh, about half way across the Pacific between Unalaska and San Francisco, were assisting in the search. Canadian authorities had instructed all points to be on the lookout.

"I believe they went down somewhere south of the Aleutians and will never be found," said Captain H. D. Hinchey, navy Pacific division commander of the coast guard. "There is one chance in a million of finding them."

year, which estimate must be published, as provided in Section 7.

Under the sections of the budget law above mentioned, the budget committee acts as an advisory body only, and the common council, which is the levying board, has the right under Section 9 to make such corrections or alterations in the proposed estimate as the common council may deem advisable, so long as these changes are made prior to the actual making of the tax levy. This levy by the city of Salem is made by the adoption of an ordinance.

In the case of the appropriation of the county health demonstration the item was cut from $8,000 to $6,000 at the meeting held with the budget committee, the levying board amended the estimate and placed the item back at $8,000 before the ordinance was passed.

In my opinion the acts of the common council were in all respects legal, and the levying of $8,000.00 made by the ordinance, as adopted, is a legal and valid levy.

Very truly,
WILLIAM H. TRINDLE,
City Attorney.

Mickey Mouse NOTES

Everything is set for "The Big Parade". All Mickey Mice have your dogs, cats, rabbits, or your and ready to parade Saturday, September 19.

"Doll up" your bicycles, tricycles, doll buggies, every favorite pet dressed things goes.

This is going to be the biggest parade ever held by the children of the city of Salem. Sponsored by Warner Bros. Elsinore, Oregon Statesman, and the prominent business houses of Salem.

Western Dairy Products are giving Sunfree ice cream to every one participating in this parade.

Prizes are as follows: Sea Horses, Mickey Mouse Dolls, Bows of Gold Fish, Rabbits, Marbles, Dresser Sets, Corduroy Pants, Story Book, Pocket Watches, Fishing Poles, and many others too numerous to mention.

Don't forget Mickey—you have to watch The Oregon Statesman for further details. There will be some announcements about the parade and costume contest—so watch The Statesman every day—and look all through the paper. We just know this will be the greatest even ever had in Salem—and it's up to you—and you and you. So let's all get together.

Last Saturday we had the usual good program in which Joan Fregard, Aileen Arnessen, Ray Elliott (our new harmonica instructor), Geraldine Fregard and Joyce Chambers in a novelty dance.

Those winning prizes were Richard Barton, Walter Nelson, Marjorie Simmons, Irene Wolf, Margaret Yaden, Laura Selbous, Frances Wilson and Beulah Brooks.

But don't forget this Saturday—still another great show—more of your Mickey Mice members in a greater stage show.

Not only that but we have the last thrilling, smashing chapter in the best serial we've ever had—"The Mystery Trooper." Don't forget—your answers to whom the mystery trooper is—must be in BEFORE the show starts—all names given in after the last chapter is shown will not be counted.

This week also marks the closing of the Movie Star button contest. All those having the 10 different buttons should see the Mickey Mouse secretary and get the pass good for one month to all Mickey Mouse meetings.

And say kids—what a treat for you. The world's greatest circus bareback rider will be seen on the screen for the first time and he'll show you all the tricks he used to do in the big circuses—none other than the great Poodles Hannaford. Not only that—but you'll see a Tom and Jerry cartoon and for the feature you'll see Richard Arlen and the new girl that took Clara Bow's place—Peggy Shannon in the mystery picture—"The Secret Call." Who placed the secret call—do you know?—well let's find out at the Mickey Mouse meeting Saturday at 1 p. m. at Warner Bros. Elsinore—let's us all attend!

JURY FAILS TO INDICT CAPONE

Tries to Report Progress But Judge Refuses to Read Communiqué

the defense motion to quash the indictment.

Had Judge Wilkerson not informed the gang leader in July that he must take the witness stand himself if he expected leniency, Capone might now be serving time with some of his henchmen in Leavenworth prison. But Capone, manifestly disturbed at the prospect of public questioning, an unheard-of proceeding for him, protested through his attorneys that the government had promised leniency. The court refused to be bound by any such agreement, the gangster moved to withdraw his guilty pleas and stand trial instead.

The court let Capone change the plea on the tax fraud count and has since fixed October 9 as the date for the trial opening.

SALES TAX TALKED BY G. O. P. LEADERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Two administration republicans today called for tax revision at the next congress.

Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, high ranking republican on the finance committee, advocated a general sales tax of one-half of one per cent upon all commodities sold to the public.

Representative Bacharach, of New Jersey, second ranking republican on the house ways and means committee, which originates all revenue legislation, proposed a sales tax on "luxuries and non-essentials"; an increase in rates on incomes of more than $100,000; restriction of the gift tax and a boost in the estate tax levies.

The simultaneous declarations, coming from administration leadership in fiscal affairs, assumed added significance in view of the recent word from the White House that President Hoover is studying means of balancing the budget without another billion dollar deficit impending.

GANGSTER BULLETS GET THREE VICTIMS

Clothing Cutters' Squabble Blamed for One Death; Children Rescue Man

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Gangster sprayed bullets along three fronts in New York City today, each time taking the life of the man they sought.

James Lepor, alias James Marino, slain in a barber shop in the Bronx, was felled by bullets which whizzed in from the street as he was paying the barber for cutting the hair of his two children. Neither of the children was hurt.

Police said Lepor was believed to have been contacted with the wine grape and alcohol rackets in the Bronx.

Salvatore Maranzano, 47, died in what police said was a bootleggers' rendezvous in the New York Central building.

Boys playing in a vacant lot in Long Island City rescued a man who gave his name as Charles McGovern, 36, and who police said apparently had been left to die in a pile of burning rubbish. They pulled him from the fire when they saw his leg protruding beneath the flames.
