Plank-Fuhrer Nuptials Told

ONE of the most beautiful weddings of the season was that solemnized Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, which united Miss Claudia Plank, daughter of Mrs. Edith Plank of Portland and Walter Fuhrer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fuhrer of Salem.

The church was beautifully arranged with palms, and other greenery with here and there a combination of gladioli in pastel shades of tinted pink. Cathedral tapers burned on the altar which was banked with fern and greenery.

Just before the wedding procession was played by Prof. Frank Churchill, Miss Nancy Thielson sang, "Calm as the Night." As the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding march sounded the wedding party appeared and marched in colorful beauty to the altar where the best man and the groom waited. Miss Plank entered on the arm of her uncle, William Walton.

A chanel gown of broadened silk, simply made with clinging lines, a full length veil caught with orange blossoms into a cap effect, and a bride's bouquet of lavender orchids, lilies of the valley, and butterfly roses completed the lovely appearance of the bride.

Miss Rachel Holloway and Miss Faye Montgomery of Portland were bridesmaids and they were dressed similarly to the bride, one in blue satin and the other in pastel yellow.

Ward Davis was best man. Ushers were John Heitzel, James Heitzel, Jr., Luke Shields, and Reed Rowland.

A reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. William S. Walton, followed. Gladioli, roses, Michaelmas daisies and asters in soft pinks, blues and yellows were used about the living room. Mrs. Walton introduced to the bride party.

Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. David Eyre, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. William H. Little, Mrs. E. V. McMechen, Miss Martha Fuhrer, Miss Maude Hargrove and Mrs. C. C. Hargrove of Portland and Mrs. E. M. Smith of Corvallis.

Presiding at the tea urn and cutting loaves were Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. T. A. Roberts and Mrs. W. Connel Dyer.

Assisting in the serving were Miss Rovena Eyre, Miss Ethel Wynne Murtin, Miss Margaret Bailey, Miss Virginia Best, Mrs. Raymond Bonesteel, Mrs. Luke Shields and Mrs. Don Pritchett. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Fuhrer left for a wedding trip. They will be at home after September 20 at their apartments in the Royal Court.

Society Will be Busy-This Week

The week ahead has some real social appeal. Clubs will start meeting. Among these will be the Tuesday club, which will meet with Mrs. Prince Byrd; the U. D. club, with Mrs. Eugene Eckert, Sr.; Tuesday the Etokita club, Tuesday with Mrs. S. B. Gilette, and the Social Card club of which Mrs. Palmer MacDonald is a member and who will be hostess Thursday afternoon.

Then there will be entertaining for Mrs. Milton Steiner, who with Dr. Steiner will leave for Philadelphia October 1. Mrs. Kenneth Power, Mrs. Frank Chapman and Mrs. John Coughlin, Jr., will be hostesses in compliment to Mrs. Steiner Tuesday night. Several tables of bridge will be in play.

A bridge tea is being planned for Mrs. Steiner later in the week and Mrs. Frank Decker of Portland will be hostesses to Mrs. Steiner's club members and their friends Saturday night in Portland.

Guests for Saturday night will be Mr. and Mrs. George Weiler, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Adolph, Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Backstrand, Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott Buren, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carson, Mr. and Mrs. John Coughlin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Power, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson and Dr. and Mrs. Steiner. Bridge and a buffet supper will be enjoyed.

Other interesting events are being planned to be announced later in the week, all of which shows that fall is here and people are home from vacations.

Mrs. Charles H. Breck of San Francisco is expected to arrive in Salem Monday to be the guest of Mrs. D. J. McLeellan and Mrs. Wallace Carson. Mrs. Breck is well known in Salem where she formerly made her home and she will be welcomed by many people.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Marshall and Miss Jean Marshall have returned from a tour through Washington, and British Columbia. En route the travelers visited with friends and relatives in Tacoma, Seattle, and Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. C. K. Merriam of Spokane, mother of Mrs. Richard Stoltz, will leave for her home tonight after having been the guest of her daughter for the past week.

The Salem W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday in the Union hall on South Commercial street at 2 o'clock. Reports of directors will take up the main part of the afternoon program.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carson, Mr. and Mrs. John Carson, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan McLeellan are spending the weekend at Reskewin.

Miss Moore Gives Miss Young Farewell

AMONG the many departing school people this fall will be Miss Thelma Young who will leave this week for San Jose, Cal., where she will enter the California state college.

In compliment to Miss Young, Miss Ruth Moore entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore, Saturday night. An evening of bridge was enjoyed and at a late hour Mrs. Eugene F. Hubbard assisted Miss Moore in serving.

Guests in compliment to Miss Young were Mrs. Vincent Ahern of Portland, Mrs. Eugene F. Hubbard of Corvallis, Miss Gene Bellie, Miss Doris Neptune, Margaret Livesley, Mrs. Walter Oldenburg, Miss Velma Rominger and Miss Marian Zinner.

The guest rooms were attractively arranged with fall flowers which carried out a purple and gold scheme.

Line Party Planned For Tuesday

An anticipated event for a group of the younger maids of Salem will be the line party for which Miss Helen Purvine will be hostess Tuesday evening. Following the line party bridge and a late supper will be enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ellis Purvine. Miss Margaret Purvine will assist in serving.

Guests for the evening will be Miss Julia Johnson, Miss Eleanor Trindle, Miss Margaret Doege, Miss Helen Trindle, Miss Jean McElhinney, and Miss Martha Sprague.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil F. Wright, Miss Nell Long and Eugene Meritton who have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wright, left Saturday for their home in Chicago, Ill. They will go by way of San Diego, Cal., and New Orleans. The two Mr. Wrights are brothers.

Among those people to enjoy a long and picturesque drive during the past week was Miss Alice Brown and party of Miss Alice Moore of Nevada City, Cal., Mrs. Herald Hughes and Mrs. R. W. Hans Seltz. Waldport and adjoining beaches were visited.

Miss Myrtle Williams and brother Frank Williams, left Salem Friday for Los Angeles where they will make their home this winter.

Tooze-Tibbit Wedding Impressive Home Ceremony

A BEAUTIFULLY quiet but impressive wedding was that which united Miss Ruth Tibbit, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Tibbit and Fred J. Tooze, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Tooze, at the Tibbit home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Tibbit read the wedding service for his daughter.

Following Miss Thelma Sampson's solo, "Love Never Faleth" and a solo by Miss Doris Clarke, Miss Gussie Niles played the procession and Miss Tibbit entered the room on the arm of her father. They met the groom before the fireplace which had been banked with flowers in a lovely altar. Little Jane Huston as flower girl led the way.

The bride wore a charming afternoon gown of soft blue crepe and carried an arm bouquet of yellow gladioli combined with asters in soft shades of purple.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held to greet the bride and groom. Mrs. Tibbit was assisted by Miss Doris Clarke, Miss Annabelle Tooze and Mrs. Frank Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Tooze left immediately following this reception for a wedding trip after which they will be at home at 1130 Lee street.

Guests for the wedding were Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Tibbit, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tooze Sr., Miss Annabelle Tooze, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Saucy, Mrs. Nellie Mische of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nebelgar of Portland, Miss Gussie Niles, Mrs. Ida Niles, Mrs. Carrie Fowler, Miss Thelma Sampson, Mrs. Marian Smith, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Huston and daughter Jane, Mrs. M. E. Hulbert and Miss Doris Clarke.

Central Howell.—Miss Edith Lacy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lighty, and Ralph Herr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Herr, were united in marriage at the Pratum Menonite church Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The bride was lovely in a white and georgette gown. Miss Elda Herr, her only attendant, was charming in a peach-colored dress. Rufus Franz accompanied the groom. Little Carmen Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Roth, acted as flower girl, and Rev. J. M. Franz performed the ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Will Roth sang "I Love You Truly," and following the ceremony Mrs. Ernest Roth and Mrs. Homer Leisy sang a duet. Mrs. Clarence Herr played the wedding march and the accompaniment for the songs.

A reception for relatives and intimate friends was held in the church following the wedding ceremony. The bride and groom will live on the Elvin Herr place.

West Salem.—Mrs. D. H. Gilliland entertained Monday evening with a handkerchief shower honoring Mrs. G. D. Linsey who left Wednesday for Bemidji, Minn., where she expects to make her home. Following a social evening, refreshments were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sandusky, Mrs. William Radkey, Mrs. G. E. Tandy, Mrs. J. H. Bower, Miss Ellen Sykes, Miss Jennie Best, Miss Margaret Kaster, Miss Beckie Best, Charles Bower, Donald Bower, Clem Russell and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Gilliland.

Mrs. Will May has again returned to her home after having spent the past six weeks visiting in Washington and southern Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Low were dinner guests in Portland Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bryson.

Style Happenings Are Discussed By Maid

(Editor's note—This feature will run each day in The Statesman for the next few weeks.)

SKIRTS will be longer this fall, "Skirts will not be longer," "Satin is the leading material for formal," "Velvet is the most popular material for formal wear." What is the poor woman of simply ordinary intelligence to do about her fall wardrobe when so many conflicting rumors have been going out from Fashion Centers. Now, fortunately enough, styles are beginning to settle down to an established mode, and from the tangle we have separated these notes about Fall fashion.

The colors for fall this year reflect the rich shades of the harvest season—warm dark red, brown and rich dark green, but along with them is shown our ever-present favorite, black. What kind of a season would it be without that smartest of shades?

Sports clothes are receiving their share of the designers' attention this fall, and have gained an importance. This new idea of combining pique with wool lends a jaunty air to the very soberest of wool dresses! Never has a fall season shown such an abundance of clever street and sport frocks!

Necklines are doing the most unique things. Scarfs appear on one side, wind themselves around the neck, disappear on one side of the front and appear again in the most interesting manner. Collars begin and cease for no apparent reason, but with a most delightful effect. Then sometimes buttons begin at the neckline and march right down the front of a frock. Everything has a side front emphasis that is oh so very flattering to the more stout than stylish figure.

Skirts are behaving in a most satisfactory manner, in that you can't go wrong with either pleats or flares. Of course, pleats are preferred for sports and flares for formal, but either are quite correct. Flares differ only in that they are mainly diagonal, this season.

And now for the biggest question of all—the length of skirts. For daytime wear, 12 inches is the accepted length, with maybe a two inch concession to the young things who insist on a slightly shorter skirt. Formal gowns are still at ankle length.

The question of skirt lengths naturally brings us to the discussion of shades of fall hose and shoes, which, dear lady, is quite a story in itself.

Miss Francis Hodge to Be Complimented

Mrs. Gardner Knapp and Mrs. Earl Clark will entertain Monday night in compliment to Miss Frances Hodge who will leave this week for Portland where she will enter training in the technical laboratory of the Good Samaritan hospital.

Miss Hodge is a graduate of Willamette university and following two years of teaching has been connected with the Salem Clinic in technical work.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held to greet the bride and groom. Mrs. Tibbit was assisted by Miss Doris Clarke, Miss Annabelle Tooze and Mrs. Frank Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Tooze left immediately following this reception for a wedding trip after which they will be at home at 1130 Lee street.

Guests for the wedding were Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Tibbit, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tooze Sr., Miss Annabelle Tooze, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Saucy, Mrs. Nellie Mische of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nebelgar of Portland, Miss Gussie Niles, Mrs. Ida Niles, Mrs. Carrie Fowler, Miss Thelma Sampson, Mrs. Marian Smith, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Huston and daughter Jane, Mrs. M. E. Hulbert and Miss Doris Clarke.

Mrs. Will May has again returned to her home after having spent the past six weeks visiting in Washington and southern Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Low were dinner guests in Portland Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bryson.

Music and Club People Will Be Well Represented At State Fair

ONE of the most interesting announcements to come from musical circles for some time is that which has been released through state fair channels concerning the part to be played by the Oregon Federation of Music clubs this year at the state fair.

Plans were materialized in Portland Wednesday when a committee appointed by Miss Helen Calbreath met in conference and formulated the outline of activities for the federation program at the fair.

Mrs. Walter Denton of Salem is chairman of the committee and her assistants are Mrs. John Huxtable, Mrs. Andre Wolfe, and Miss Eda Trotter all of Portland.

A booth has been provided in the liberal arts building. Here each day a group of prominent women will be hostesses and outstanding programs will be presented by Oregon artists and students alike all in the name of better music. Musical organizations, outstanding choruses, choirs and professional artists as well as student entertainers will give programs of outstanding merit.

The Portland council of churches will sponsor a concert in the stadium Sunday afternoon, October 4. This is the only part of the program which is ready for release but the other will follow shortly.

Another interesting announcement comes from the same source that the Oregon Writers will be represented with a booth in the state fair this year. The Oregon state library through the efforts of Miss Harriett Long, librarian, will have on exhibit the books of producing Oregon writers.

This will be the first time that either organization has been given such attention and will no doubt prove a popular contribution to the interest of the state fair visitors.

The night horse show is also a thing which attracts all society. Salem has the delightful prospect of being host to some of the prominent exhibitors from the east who will arrive by special train the opening day of the fair with their splendid horse shows.

Because of the cancellation of the Seattle horshow, most of these eastern exhibitors will stop over in Salem after the Pacific Northwest exposition and the Pacific International. Thus for nearly a month the capital city will be host to some of the best known horshow exhibitors and society folk of eastern states.

Although expecting to go up against this new and strong competition, Pacific northwest exhibitors are delighted at the prospect for the Salem show. Harvey Dick of Portland, when in Salem Friday, reported the competition will be keener and of a higher class than any he has seen in his several years of experience as an expert horseman.

General approbation arises at the prospect of leaving the formal horshow program with two features, the old-fashioned buggy parade with prominent citizens driving, and the exhibition hitching horse ride by Frank E. Studnicka of Stayton, world champion.

The new exhibitors who plan to make the long stop-over in Salem include Mrs. A. C. Thompson of Chicago, W. E. Alexander of Bloomington, Ill., E. Phillip Shandlen of Milwaukee, W. A. Cooper of Buffalo, Ill., Mrs. Floyd Hart of Sacramento, Glen Sadder of Edinburgh, Ill.; J. B. Brown of Sacramento, Nathan L. Jones of Salina, Kansas; M. E. Mogensen of San Francisco, Leslie Taaffe of San Francisco, and F. W. Robinson of San Francisco.

The Ben Meyer stables from Beverly Hills will be in charge of James Gilchrist, who presents three new horses recently purchased in England for $50,000. The Meyer stables suffered heavily in the Oakland fire last year.

Other familiar exhibitors who will return to the Salem tanbark are D. G. Welty of Nevada, Iowa;

Local P. E. O. to Portland This Week

ONE of the outstanding conventions of the year to be held in Oregon is the national P. E. O. session which will convene in Portland this week following Tuesday and continuing through to Friday. At this time close to 1000 women from all parts of the United States will arrive in Portland for the meetings, and visit Oregon scenic spots during leisure time. Elaborate plans for the entertainment of the guests have been made by the hostess chapters of Oregon.

Today the supreme board is a guest of the past presidents for a drive around the Mt. Hood loop. Wednesday the Portland chapter of B. I. L., order of husbands of P. E. O. members, will be hosts for a scenic drive about Portland and vicinity during the afternoon hours. The weekend following the convention sessions each day a full of plans for beach and inland trips which will acquaint the visitors with the splendors of Oregon.

Tuesday will be given over to registration at the Masonic temple, to the memorial service at the First Presbyterian church and to the banquet in the evening. The latter will be the outstanding social event of the convention.

Business sessions in the morning and scenic drives for the afternoon will take up Wednesday, and Thursday will be another business session with the election of officers as one of the most important events. A large delegation from Chapter AB and Chapter G of Salem plan to attend the Thursday session.

Friday morning officers will be installed and final business will be taken care of.

An interesting event of Wednesday night will be the program concerning Cotter college, a junior college for girls at Nevada, Mo., which is maintained by the national P. E. O. Sisterhood. Dr. Virginia A. C. Stockard, donor of the college and former president, and Dr. Mary Porsner, present president, will both be in attendance for the evening.

Mrs. C. A. Sprague, first vice-president for Oregon P. E. O., will leave Salem Monday for Portland. She will attend a meeting of the Oregon state board which is being called by Mrs. Grace Kent Macgruder, president, Monday evening in the Heathman hotel. Mrs. Sprague will remain for the week's sessions.

Mrs. C. K. Logan, president of Chapter G of the local sisterhood, will also be in attendance at the convention during the week. Mrs. Logan will act as a guard during the sessions.

Other members of the local chapters will attend the sessions for a day at a time and a large delegation is expected to go from Salem Thursday.

Greater Oregon Club To Hear E. C. Hobbs

E. C. Hobbs, state printer, will be the speaker at the Monday night meeting of the Woman's Greater Oregon association. The gathering will be held at the chamber of commerce, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The business period will be devoted largely to the association's proposed work at the state fair.

Miss Alice Moore of Nevada City, Cal., will leave today for her home after having been a house guest of Miss Sally Bush for the past week.

Other members of the local chapters will attend the sessions for a day at a time and a large delegation is expected to go from Salem Thursday.

Mrs. C. K. Logan, president of Chapter G of the local sisterhood, will also be in attendance at the convention during the week. Mrs. Logan will act as a guard during the sessions.

Other members of the local chapters will attend the sessions for a day at a time and a large delegation is expected to go from Salem Thursday.
