"No Favor Sways Us; No Fear Shall Awe" From First Statesman, March 28, 1851

THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO. CHARLES A. SPEAGUE, SHELDON P. SACKETT, Publishers CHARLES A. SPRAGUE - - - - Editor-Manager SHELDON F. SACKETT - - - Managing Editor

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in his paper, Member of the Associated Press Pacific Coast Advertising Representatives:

Arthur W. Stypes, Inc., Portland, Security Bidg. San Francisco, Sharon Bidg.: Los Angeles, W. Pac. Bidg. Eastern Advertising Representatives: Ford-Parsons-Stecher, Inc., New York, 271 Madison Ave. : Chicago, 360 N Michigan Ave.

Entered at the Postoffice at Salem, Oregon, as Second-Class Matter. Published every morning except Monday. Business office, 219 S. Commercial Street.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

Mail Subscription Rates, in Advance. Within Oregon: Daily a.s. Sunday, 1 Me. 56 cents; 2 Mo. $1,25; 6 Mo. $2.25; 1 year $4.00. Elsewhere 56 cents per Mo., or $5.06 for 1 year in advance. By City Carrier: 45 cents a month; $5.00 a year in advance. Per Copy 2 cents. On trains and News Stands 5 cents.

The Old Scout

THAT was in 1905 when "The Old Scout" chugged its way tiply on books; they need moist, through Salem en route to Portland to win the transcon- and furthermore, they would furtinental automobile race. Now the same old Oldsmobile and nish no food on which the germs the same drivers are repeating the trip over virtually the could exist. Only a few disease " same route. But not over the same roads. No, indeed. Twenty- germs resist drying and these six years have seen marvelous changes in the highway system of Oregon, and of the states to the east.

"The Old Scout" is due in Albany today noon and then This applies particularly to the will come on to Salem this afternoon and thence to its destination at Portland. Huss and Wigle, who are repeating the journey of 1905, insisted on coming over the Santiam pass ing almost indefinitely. instead of the McKenzie, because they made their original trip over the Santiam. They will probably find a part of this of cases of scarlet fever that have road about the only one in virtually the same condition as 26 supposedly developed by using a years ago. While road gangs are steadily gnawing at both ends, the road over Seven Mile mountain and on to the sum- ness. These accounts often relate mit is still the primitive highway built many years ago as a how books or toys have been laid

This Seven Mile mountain gave Huss and Wigle their wildest thrill but modern cars do not hesitate much in making instances are very hard to sub- tion for that. The president's it. However it is to be eliminated in the new Santiam high-

"The Old Scout" will take every adult back to the time when he saw his first automobile and when he had his first in a dry place for a long time. 'ter or sister kept house for him of Maine, whose hald head often telephone now?" automobile ride. Quite a thrill, wasn't it? Now when aloft in an airplane and you look down on the black bugs crawling along the highways you think how ancient the automobile has developed, because competent has become.

Community Blood-Letting

THERE is nothing like a good neighborhood row to get people's minds off the notes they owe the banks. Here we there will be no danger in allowhad a full-sized one for a week in the country from Junction ing their child to use a book City where the pupils "struck" because the schoolboard fired formerly used by a child in an- Power of the Universe, that they the teacher and hired a new one. Just a neighborhood row, but it rated columns in the Portland and upstate press. Members of the schoolboard made naughty charges against the teacher they deposed and her supporters claimed she was fired because she put the directors' cows out of her pasture.

A perfect setting, as one may easily see, for a large-sized should be signed, but will not be used in the got into the senate he wonder-A perfect setting, as one may easily see, for a large-sized feud. Now the old teacher is back on the job when the parents installed her in-the school room; but many a tongue will be sharpened on the whetstone of gossip before the last is heard of the fuss. -

Then Rainier is having another of its periodical bloodletting excursions. This time it is a recall election against the schoolboard. The brief news item says charges are being hurled back and forth "in reckless abandon". It must be quite an enjoyable hatefest with neighbors cussing each other out and relating all their past sins.

Fear, prejudice, passion,—we are all the victims of our emotions. Little things may get the village or the city astir. yesterday. G. E. Hatch, Salem, life just alike, and somebody Gossip travels like swift lightning, and before one knows it was unanimously elected treasur- must fill every condition and be the community is split wide open, often over very trivial mat- er, and F. A. Baker to the executers. Mass ignorance and emotionalism make our self-government a treacherous "right".

Good Luck, Drum Corps

MONIGHT the Salem Drum Corps leaves for Detroit. They I go to represent the Department of Oregon at the American legion national drum corps contest. They go also as representatives of Capitol Post No. 9 and of the city of Salem. It goes without saying that they have back of them the cordial and united support of Salem and of the state. Thousands will listen with eagerness to hear the result of the contest tion Army held forth bravely with dent. Wednesday night, Sept. 23rd and Oregonians are confident their singing and preaching, urgthat the Salem corps will finish in the top ranks.

These men ought to win. Anyone living in the vicinity of spielers strenuously endeavored to North Fourteenth street will testify how continuously they draw and hold the crowd. have rehearsed. Night after night, until late at night, the men have marched and counter-marched on Olinger field and played their music and received the criticism of the director in the effort to make the performance absolutely perfect. So the neighbors "out our way" are convinced that the Salem drum corps will be perfectly fit for the big event next week.

So goodbye and good-luck to the Salem drum corps as it swings aboard the train for Detroit,

A dog and a cat on a boat save the title to $180,000 in gold as well as other valuable property. That's Mexican law. Still the captain, who had left the animals aboard the wrecked liner Colombia, rushed back when he heard another vessel was hastening toward the liner. A ship abandoned becomes salvage,—the property of anyone who seizes it. That gold would quickly lure a lot of cat and dog

The Portland Journal will have to find something else to quaver about. The supreme court has denied the petition for rehearing so James Kingsley, murderer, must hang. Perhaps if it had been Vansace or Moonings the Journal would have insisted on every technicality to defer the execution, instead of berating courts for delays as in e case of Kingsley.

Eugene is facing a milk-spilling episode. That's the trouble with esort to violence, even when it may seem warranted by the circumstances: it leads others to become lawless, which in the end proves demoralizing. We hope the Eugene mfikmen can carry on their fight without clashing with constitutional rights.

Reseburg dentists, says the News-Review, report an increase of susiness because the people there have "loosened up" now that they know the soldiers' home is coming. Well, if the presperity is as long deferred as that from posteffice construction the Roseburgers might place their orders for false teeth.

Ata boy Hutten. Dave Hutton says he will smack on the nose anybody who makes a bad crack about Mrs. Hutton, nee Aimee Me-Pherson. There's 220 lbs. back of his threat too, so that ought to dry

So a glacier has "rings" like a tree. Eliot glacier on Mt. Hood revealed 210 "snow rings" this summer. That puts the age of the earliest ring to 11 years before Washington was born. Quite a lot of snow has gone down the ridges in two centuries.

Gev. Ritchie must not figure on carrying Oregon. He has come out strong against government ownership of utilities. Doesn't he know that Oregon voted for free power "without cost to the taxpayers"?

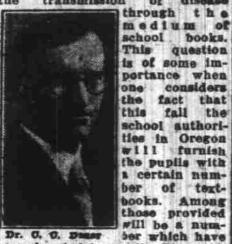

The president of the Washington federation of labor teld the convention here that wage cuts are no cure for a degree of the contest, and Oregon convention here that wage cuts are no cure for a depression. gon-Washington Water Service unselfish act is now a perfumed success of Mitchell. I sent letters received frequent replies."

Company: "I don't know much flower."—Ingersoil.

Continued tomorrow.)

School Books

By C. C. DAUER, M. D. Marion County Dept. of Health A question was asked recently concerning the possibility of the transmission of disease of disease been donated by pupils. These donated volumes have been used before and so the question arises. "Can they be the means of transferting disease?

Germs Cannot Live The possibility of catching lisease from a book is very remote, so much so that we can say that there is no danger. Disease germs do not grow and mulwarm places. Books are dry, troduced deep into the tissues in order to grow in the human body. organism which causes lockjaw or tetanus, which is a spore forming germ and resists ordinary dry-

One frequently hears or reads book which a scarlet fever patient had handled during his illaway for years and, when resurrected, promptly cause another child to have the disease. These stantiate; as a matter of fact the quickly on a book as any other who was the president's daughgerm if the book has been kept ter or sister and another daughbooks when they have been in a tions. home where a contagious disease authorities have stated that there is no danger of transferring the infection if a reasonable length of time has been allowed to elapse after the patient has handled the ministration. They are hedged in book and the book is missued. So parents may rest assured that other family.

Y est erdays . Of Old Salem

Town Talks from The Statesman of Earlier Days

September 16, 1906 The third annual convention of the Oregon State Association of Letter Carriers was held in Salem no two positions or conditions in tive board.

rivers arrived here last night, bout half of which are to be manufactured at once into lumber by their Salem mill.

ave presented an animated and ively appearance both day and night during the past state fair week. On the one side the Salvaing the sinners to repentence. Around the corner the barkers and

September 16, 1921 Work is progressing to such an extent on the Salem hospital, that plans are already being made for the laying of the cornerstone and an appropriate observance of the event in which civic and fraternal bodies of the city, and also the churches, will be asked to participate. H. S. Gile, president of the Salem Hospital association, has appointed a committee on the program of which August Huckestein is chairman, and to serve with him, G. F. Deckebach and butt in, there was usually a row Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger.

The problem of whipping into shape within only 15 days a grid- and any colleague of the same iron team that will be able to defeat the famed cohorts of Coach "Shy" Huntington's Oregon warriors, is the difficult task which Roy Bohler found upon his arrival yesterday to take command the Willamette Bearcats.

WEST SALEM, Sept. 15-The building committee of the West Salem Methodist church is formulating plans for erecting a new $12,000 church building, which to pick a young man." will serve as a community church.

"How do you like Aimee's new Ha. Ha." husband?" This was the ques-tion inquiring Statesman reporters propounded yesterday.

Miss Maud Covington, city li-brarian: "I think he is laugh-

Lillie Madsen, staff correspon dent: "I'm glad he isn't mine."

Helen Louise Crosby, attorney:

By EDSON

Tomorrow: Catching Fish by Electricity!

BITS for BREAKFAST

Kincaid's reminiscences:

5 5 5 (Continuing from yesterday:) Johnson had a son in an inebriate asylum. I do not know whether there was any foundawife had died, and the wife of scarlet fever germ dies just as Senator Patterson of Tennessee, Libraries no longer destroy and helped him with his recep-

HERE'S HOW

"Lincoln said he had not much influence with his administration. In fact, no king, president, governor or other important officer has much influence with his adwith so many circumstances over which they have no control, and which must be controlled by other human power, or by the Supreme are seldom free to do as they ed how he got there. After he had been there a little while he wondered how the other fellows got "Andrew Johnson was not the only man-the world is full of them-who have held important positions and no doubt have wondered what evil influence ever put them into positions which brought so much trouble upon them. But if they would reflect they might are no two people just alike, and of a statesman. in every position, whether he is see. I sat on a sofa a few feet from of his administration as president. Commercial and State streets The senators did not give him much attention. He did not seem to have any more influence in the senate than he had with his administration when he was presi-

> * * * "There was more or less rivalry and jealousy between the senators of nearly every state when there were two belonging to the same party. When there was one republican and one democrat they got along all right, because one could not interfere with the appointments or party affairs of the other. The one belonging to the party in power was sole monarch of all he surveyed, and, like the devil in olden time, could take a constituent up on a high mountain and show him that he owned the whole world with a fence around it. But if there was another senator of the same party to in the family or a feeling that one was superior to the other, Morton was the great man from Indiana, party who would have had the temerity . to interfere with the great 'war governor' would have been reprimanded. Conkling of New York was the unquestioned republican boss of New York. Edmunds of Vermont did not have to worry about old Morrill of Vermont, who usually kept quiet, about him, but evidently Aimee has learned on her third marriage

A. F. Homyer, real estate agent: Aimee and her crowd have a hard time, don't they? There was "What-a-Man" and Ma Kennedy. Now Hutton and Aimee.

Madalene Callin, school principal: "Just another piece of publicity for Aimee."

Silas Michael, visitor: "Humph. Poor man; poor woman!"

Daily I hought

but sometimes read or spoke a nearly everything and jumped on your telephone, Dr. Martell?" it with both feet. "Lot M. Merrill rose when, in a loud voice, he laid down the law to his fellow senators, did not seem to disturb or with his host. He had half expectworry old Hannibal Hamlin, who ed a recurrence of the swimming, away?" had been in office nearly 50 dizzy weakness with the mere ex-anything to say, and then only in It was amazing how fit and well a few words, in a conversational he felt for a man who had crashtone, in reply to a question or ex- ed down a flight of stairs and had plaining something, never any-thing like a 'speech.' But he al-within the last 12 hours. What health problems nave you? If the above article raises any question in no influence with his administraments to get an appointment, or order, or recommendation for his state or for a constituent, and take off his old batterel hat, and that old hat would never be put around the senate that every president and every secretary for generations had learned from ex-on again until he got what he went for. It was current rumor perience that when that old stovepipe hat made its appearance and was set down on the floor or desk, there would be something doing before it would ever be tak-4 5 5 greatest Roman of them all. He called Alexander, Caesar, Napol-started out like Ben Franklin as eon, Kaiser, Lincoln, Grant or An- a poor printer boy. When he got Fifteen million feet of logs for drew Johnson. Why is it so? I do into politics his party was in a the Spaulding Lumber company not know. After Johnson went out minority in the legislature. He from the Santiam and McKenzie of the office of president he was pulled over two or three of the elected a senator from Tennes- majority party and elected ffimself senator. It was never known him and heard him speak in the just how he did it. But it gave senate about one hour in defense him a great reputation all his life as a worker of wonders. For 40 years or more he controlled the politics of the great state of Pennsylvania, and made and unmade presidents, and was a senator, a cabinet officer or foreign Editor Statesman minister for nearly half a century. He said he had been called a leader of the people but he never was. He found out what way the people were going and marched right along with them in the front ranks. He could not have a rival, and did not need to be jealous of any other senator. They might or- tion, how could they hope to regate all day, or two or three days at a time, as Conkling did in favor | much more difficult to detect the of the electoral commission bill to violators! settle the dispute between Hayes funny trying to determine the and Tilden for the presidency in percent of alcoholic content pre-1877, but that did not disturb or viously imbibed by a suspect? arouse the envy of Simon Cameron, who had then perhaps lived 80 years, and had been used to hear- among young people is caused by ing outbursts of eloquence all his prohibition. What about the life. He never made speeches. He greatly increased prevalence of knew better. He would sometimes smoking? That has not been protake a string and pull it with his hibited. Quite the reverse. fingers, and say a few words in 3rd: While it is true that the favor of an appropriation to im-rackateer or gangster is usually prove some Pennsylvania harbor a trafficker in liquor, still the on Lake Erie, and ridicule the removal of restrictions would not outlandish names of Ohio towns prevent the operations of rival in which old Ben Wade and John gangs, would it? If bootlegging Sherman were interested, such as 'Sandusky' and 'Ashtabula.' When plenty of other opportunities to he wanted anything he did not make violence and intimidation blow a trumpet or make a loud profitable. noise, but went around quietly > mained in Salem during the entire would help by furnishing jars. session, working for the election versity of Oregon at Eugene, and ranged where the farmers could the act to build the locks at the bring the things they could not falls of the Willamette at Oregon | sell. Or is the Associated Chari-City. Personally I had the most ties equipped to take care of such friendly feeling for Senator Cor- work? ett, whose successor was to be At any rate, such an activity lected, but I believed that Mitchell would make the best senator many women would do extra canthat could b elected, and I wished to help my personal and political friend, Attorney General Wil- organized. Through sufficient liams, who had often helped me in | urging, a lot of expense could be securing appointments for my friends in Oregon and in many

"The Czarina's Rubies" By SIDNE WARWICK

READ THIS FIRST At Monksilver, a country place outside London, Paul Federoff is siain after carrying the Czacina rubies from Russia. The murderers fail to find the gems, which therefore must be hidden in the house. Frank Severn, who en-trusted the rubies to Federoff in Russia, returns to England, is ablucted and carried unconscious to Meanwhile his friend, Jim Wyn-ter, meets beautiful Katharine Faring, rightful owner of the rubles as heiress to the Russian prince who lost his life saving them from a mob. Once a concert violinist, she has been reduced to penury by an injury to her wrist.

Katharine suggests to Wynter that Severn may be imprisoned at Monksilver and he goes there at night, to find Severn's servant, Creyke, dead from a stab wound in a car inside the grounds. Hearing a groan within the house, he steals in, is attacked and falls downstairs. Hours later he regains consciousness in the house of a Dr. Martell, whose stepdaughter. Helen, attends him. Martell impresses him favorably at first, but later a faint suspicion of him stirs in Wynter's mind. NOW GO ON

CHAPTER XIX "Bad luck that," said Martell sympathetically. "One can only that some clue will be forthcoming yet."

"Oh, a clue's going to be found -both to Creyke's murderers and to the whereabouts of that man in their power, before we're hrough." Jim Wynter's voice was grimly determined.

For a moment he paused. "But what puzzles me is why these men should have troubled tell's address and rang off; then to bring me all the way from telephoned to Felix Sant at Linpiece, slowly in a kind of stutter- Richmond, leave me in a doctor's coln's Inn Fields. From a clerk ing voice, which senators had hands, instead of letting me strug- he learned that the solicitor was The gossips said President heard for 30 years until they had gle back to my senses in that in and presently the familiar, become used to it. He did not in- empty house. What had they to breezy voice floated over the wire terfere with Edmunds, the great, gain by it? Queer that," he said to him. tall, stoop shouldered, bald head-thoughtfully. "Well I mustn't lose ed lawyer who tore to pieces ev- any time now in getting into ery measure he failed to approve, touch with the police. You were and he usually disapproved of kind enough to say I might use ways delivered the goods. When It was not a large house, but he went hunting he nearly always evidently from the way it was furbrought in meat. While his col- nished that of a man of wealth as last night I traced Severn to side the house.

"Of course. You would like to With a dressing gown over his pajamas, Wynter went downstairs years, part of the time as vice ertion of rising; but the doctor's president. Hamlin seldom had pick-me-up savored of wizardry.

subsequently been drugged, all

Reassurance Wynter rang up the Graysons self who answered the telephone

"Hello, old man. Yes, it's me all right," Wynter said cheerfully to an evidently much relieved Bill. "Couldn't get in touch with you before, Sorry if you've been worried, and give all sorts of apologies from me to Milly, please Rather hectic things have been happening, Bill. I've just-wakened up in the house of a complete come to the conclusion that there en up again to orgament the head stranger, after being knocked out and drugged-oh, yes, I'm all right now, honest Injun' old chap! "Then there was old Simon I want you to come along at once Cameron of Pennsylvania, the and bring me some clothes. I'm sort of marooned here in the ## house of a good Samaritan called The Safety Letters from

Statesman Readers

Salem, Oregon. Dear Sir:

Regretting that your otherwise excellent paper is rather wabbly on its prohibition legs, I submit the following. 1st: If our officers find it difficult to prohibit under prohibiulate under regulation? Wouldn't they look 2nd: Many people, due to wet propaganda, think the drinking becomes unprofitable, there are

As a means of helping the and talked to senators privately, needy this winter, I wish your and usually got what he wanted. paper would sponsor a canning campaign. Through your col-"In 1872 the legislature of Ore- umns, urge every housewife to gon met in the summer or fall fill every available far with the when congress was not in session. fruit and vegetables now going to came home to Oregon and re- waste. Perhaps the merchants They could easily be stored at of John H. Mitchell for U. S. sen- home until needed. Perhaps a ator, for the act to locate the Uni- canning kitchen could be arneeds wide publicity. I feel sure ning if the matter was called to their attention and the campaign saved and waste products utilized. ONE INTERESTED.

Dr. Martell, with only my evening stracted as he sipped his coffee, will come at once? Good man." with the police

"Hello, Wynter! Thought something must have happened to you. Has Grayson ringing me up this morning asking if I could give him any news of you-"

"Yes, I've been a worry to Bill

"Well, I am rather busy, but I say, Wynter, is something wrong?" Sant asked abruptly. "I've got some queer news, very startling news. Yes, about Frank night, quite certainly he would Severn. I saw him last night-" "I say, you don't mean that! 'hen you've found him?' Startled

"Monksilver? Good Lord, Wynter ... " began an evidently startled Sant. "I'm going to Monksilver with house. It was Bill Grayson him- the police, and I want you to come along too.'

"Why, of course. You're phoning from the Grayson's?" "No. Dr. Martell's house in Staines." And Wynter gave the address.

"Right, I'll come at once Dr. Martell had interviewed that morning concerning his drugged patient, Wynter left the library, to find coffee and sandwiches awaiting him in an adjoining

If his dressing-gown, rather flamboyantly Chinese in pattern, looked a little incongruous in a lady's drawing-room, Wynter accepted the situation without embarrassment, with the airlest of humorous apologies that brought smile to his hostess' face.

"My friend, Bill Grayson, ought to be well on his way by this time with a car full of clothes," he said. "And by the way, I have Mr. Felix Sant to meet me herethe missing man's solicitor, you know.

"I shouldn't be surprised if I know him," Dr. Martell remarked. "I remember meeting a Mr. Sant out at dinner somewhere, and I fancy he was a solicitor Big, breezy, amusing man." Oh, must be the same chap. I Gideon Stolz to wanted him with me when I go to Monksilver this afternoon with the police. The subject of Monksliver was not referred to again as the three sat talking in the long, low, charming drawing-room. Wynter was not surprised after Martell's warning hintthough certainly Helen Blair, with her quiet voice and grave sympa- commerce at a meeting of the thetic eyes, would not have struck new board of directors here Monhim as likely to suffer from any day. dangerously morbid tendency, as Other officers elected were: her stepfather seemed to fear. Genial kit. Got some pretty startling excellent coffee, and wondered news for you when I see you. You how soon Bill and Sant would turn up. He was feeling an in-He gave Bill Grayson Dr. Mar- tense impatience to get into touch

It was Dr. Martell who did most ter's thoughts were a little ab- Haberlach, Tillamook.

With last night's tragic happenings at Monksilver the mystery sufrounding Frank Severn had grown more baffling stilland what part had Creyke played in that mystery?

Why should Creyke, if not in league with Severn's have been driving the missing man-unconscious and probably drugged, as Wynter was convinced from that passing glimpse of him-to that deserted house in-But I haven't time to go into that stead of straight to his friends? now. I've rung you up because I And yet, on the other hand, the must see you urgently. Can you man had driven to Monksliver to run over to Staines straight meet his own death there. The more his mind revolved it the more impenetrable the mystery

> And where was Severn? Though he had been at Monksilver last not be there now.

"This will be one of your friends, I expect," his host said suddenly, crossing to the window, as a car drew up in the road out-

There were two people in tile ear; Milly had insisted on accompanying Bill, Jim Wynter's news over the telephone had made her anxious and she had been impatient to see for herself that he was really as little the worse for his exciting experience as he had professed over the telephone Milly would have waited outside in the car, leaving Bill to stagger up to the house with a bulky suitcase, but that Dr. Mar-After speaking over the tele- tell, as Wynter introduced his phone to the local police, whom friend, insisted that Mrs. Bill should come in too. (To be continued)

West Point is Quarantined as One Cadet III

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 15. -(AP)-A one-way quarant was in force today at the United States military academy as a rasult of the illness of Waldemar J. Thinnes of St. Paul, Minn., taken the liberty, too, of asking who is suffering from infantile paralysis. The quarantine, which does not prevent cadets from leaving the academy grounds and returning at will but which stops all tourists and visitors entering, was established a week ago.

Be Director of State Chamber

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.— (AP)—Ralph S. Hamilton, Port-land, was re-elected president of the Oregon state chamber

Vice-President, Eugene Courtney, Woodburn; treasurer, John A. Thornburg, Forest Grove. Five of the talking; there was an un- directors at large were chosen; deniable attractiveness about his S. E. Notson, Heppner; John genial personality, and he talked Daly and Mr. Hamilton, Portland; easily and amusingly. But Wyn- Gideon Stolz, Salem; and Carl

FREE!

A Companion Set (Pen, Pencil and 6-inch Ruler in case) with purchase of

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Amounting to 75c or more

BUY ALL YOUR SCHOOL SUPPLIES HERE AND GET THIS SET FREE

> Headquarters for SCHOOL BOOKS

Commercial Book Store 168 N. Commercial Street

A. A. Gueffrey