ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16—(AP)—St. Louis tonight celebrated the winning of its fourth national baseball pennant, but not in the boisterous noisy manner of 1926 when the Cardinals brought the first flag to St. Louis in 39 years.

With the clinching of the 1931 pennant, accomplished this afternoon when Cincinnati defeated the Giants of New York in the first game of a double header fans gleefully grinned and said "they're in." Manager Gabby Street said he had known the team would win and predicted victory for the Cardinals in the world series with the Philadelphia Athletics, starting here October 1.

There wasn't much celebrating downtown this afternoon but tonight the fans turned out with horns, noisemakers and confetti.

The Red Birds were playing the last of a six game series with Philadelphia when the news came of the Giants' defeat. There was quiet celebration of the pennant winning in the Cards' dugout. There wasn't any cheering but the boys exchanged handshakes and each congratulated Manager Street. Then they went out and beat the Phillies for the sixth straight game, 4 to 3.

"I knew my club would win," Street said. "I have a great club, a game ball club, and I'm proud of it. I've never been worried, but I'm glad its all over and we can turn our attention to the big series."

In winning their fourth pennant in the last six years, the Cardinals followed closely on the heels of the Athletics, who yesterday clinched the American league flag.

Staters Get In Shape for Bearcat Tilt

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Sept. 16.—Two practice sessions a day are on the schedule for the 59 football players who reported for the opening practice here Tuesday. So anxious is Coach Paul John Schissler to get his men into condition for the opening game with Willamette here Saturday night that he sent the boys through a tough scrimmage for half an hour.

Players working on the first string today were Keith Davis and Everett Davis, ends; Bluejacket Schwammel and Harry Kent, tackles; Gilbert Bergerson and Jack Cox, guards; Buck Hammer, center; Tommy Ward, quarterback; Hal Moe and Harold Joslin, halfbacks, and Frank Little, fullback.

Lions, Kiwanians To Clash Sunday

Six-man golf teams of the Lions and Kiwanis clubs will engage in competition on the Salem Golf club course Sunday afternoon. The Kiwanians, with a number of men to select from who play in the low eighties, are listed as favorites to win. Frank Lynch is directing the Lions' team and U. S. Page the Kiwanis aggregation.

One of Big Maulers Here Friday

Wild Bill Donovan of Chicago, billed to wrestle Bob Kruse of Oswego here at the armory Friday night. Donovan is said to be just as tough and rough as Kruse, who had a run-in with a referee in San Francisco Tuesday night.

Coast League Hurler Will Oppose Senators in Sunday Game; Southeast is Threat

When the Salem Senators go into battle against Southeast Portland Sunday afternoon on Olinger field in a second round game of the fall tournament, they will step to the plate to puzzle over the offerings of Brauer, former Portland Beaver who still belongs to that club and will be back in the Coast league next spring.

Other luminaries coming here with the Southeast team include Stump, leading hitter of the City league this season, and Garlick, the runner-up. Garlick was here with the Portland All-Stars a few weeks ago and Stump was scheduled to come but didn't. Stump plays in left field and Garlick in center.

Nearly all of the Southeast players are familiar to local fans having appeared here with Portland semi-pro teams in past seasons. They include Cox on first base, Calkins at shortstop and Buono, right fielder, all of whom played with Mr. Scott in the Oregon-Washington league two years ago; and P. LaMear, third base, and C. LaMear, catcher, who have played with Montavilla for a number of seasons. Russell is slated to play second base.

The Senators have added Gardner, pitcher, and "Frisco" Edwards, catcher, to their roster for the fall tournament, but there is a possibility that Erickson and Foreman may not be available Sunday, this depending on how much and how strenuous action they see in the Willamette-O. S. C. football game at Corvallis Saturday night. Harold Olinger who was unable to go to Portland last Sunday, will probably be back at his regular position, third base.

CURT COMMENTS
CURTIS

Better get in shape, Matt Mathey. Big Boy Bob Kruse is said to be tough on referees, and he's apparent eating raw meat right now, judging from his performance in San Francisco Tuesday night. He took a good healthy poke at Referee Andrew down there, being miffed over several warnings handed out for his benefit. The referee took Bob to the mat with a headlock, but it's more than likely Bob didn't expect it or he wouldn't have gone down.

There's no telling how a wrestling match will turn out but certainly this one for Friday night, with Kruse matched against Wild Bill Donovan, is one of the most promising scheduled here in many moons. These big boys are always in shape and there's no reason visible why they shouldn't step lively.

Harry Plant's charity programs show his heart is in the right place—which nobody has ever doubted. Bring along the groceries for the hungry and get a rebate on the price of admission.

Did you notice the other day that the White Sox pulled another triple play? Well, Billy Sullivan started that one, as he did the one earlier in the season. That boy is making good without any help from his daddy's reputation.

Don't know why, but more Salem people are taking up golf. It's getting so there isn't any quiet portion of the day out at the Salem Golf club.

FOOTBALL SCHOOL
Answer to Wednesday's question: The playing field proper is 100 yards long and 160 feet wide, with end zones extending 10 yards farther at each end. The rules provide for marking the field with lines every five yards parallel to the goal lines, but the usual practice is to run the lines 10 yards apart so that fulfills the practical needs. The goal posts are 18 feet 8 inches apart and the crossbar 10 feet above the ground, and they are placed in the middle of the end lines, or in other words, 10 yards back of the goal lines. Each goal post is 70 feet 9 inches from the nearest sideline.

Today's Question—What's the difference between a touchback and a safety, and how many points does each count? This is a simple matter—generally—but one on which a good many fans are not enlightened.

Sarazen and Armour Eyed As Favorites

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 16—(AP)—The exciting competition for the Professional Golfers' association championship today drew a step nearer to the apparently inevitable clash between the defending titlist, Tommy Armour of Detroit, and Gene Sarazen of Great Neck, L. I., who has supplied the tourney with its best golf.

The six others who, with more or less difficulty, accompanied this pair of stars into the quarter-final 36-hole matches were Billy Burke, the open champion, young Horton Smith of Detroit, Abe Espinosa, Chicago veteran, Cyril Walker of Ridgewood, N. J., and two of the youngest professionals, Tom Creavy of Albany, N. Y., and Denny Shute of Hudson, Ohio.

Armour, shooting a 73 this morning on the Breezy 70-par Wannamoisett course, was able to finish his first round with only a one hole lead on Walter Murray of Valparaiso, Ind. The latter, however, was unable to stand the pressure, for the "Black Scot" annexed four more holes on his second outward nine and coasted in to end the match on the 33rd green.

Sarazen's victory over Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., was even more decisive. Gene had another 72 on his morning round and went to four up on Runyan, who carded a 76. Sarazen's second trip out was a par 35 performance, during which he gained four more holes to two for Runyan. Sarazen's par four gave him the 29th, and he concluded the match by halving the next hole to win by the top-heavy margin of 7 and 6.

Dempsey Lands Few Hard Ones In Logan Show

LOGAN, Utah, Sept. 16—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, mauled four opponents one round each in an exhibition here tonight. Except for two blows which sent Del Baxter, 197, Cornish, Utah, to the canvas, the former titleholder landed few hard punches.

Battling Lamoreaux, 195, Logan; Cyclone Workman, 200, Richmond, Utah; and George Nelson, 210, Logan, each stayed a round with Jack. Baxter was the only one of the four to suffer from heavy punches.

NO SCRIMMAGE FOR BEARCATS

First Combat Will Come on Saturday Night Under Corvallis Lights

When the Willamette university football team goes into action against Oregon State's eleven at Corvallis Saturday night, the Bearcats will be indulging in their first taste of real gridiron combat for the season. No scrimmage practice is to be indulged in by Coach Keene's squad this week.

Some "dummy" scrimmages, necessary to the working out of the few simple plays which will be the Bearcat repertoire Saturday night, was held Wednesday but there will be nothing more strenuous.

Players on the larger schools' squads started scrimmages work the first day out, this being possible because nearly all of them have done some conditioning work previously and were ready for it. The Willamette men, on the other hand, with a few exceptions have been unable to timber up prior to the start of practice this week.

Nearly all Will Get Into Game
Going into Saturday night's game at Corvallis the Bearcats will be handicapped by lack of condition but will be more fortunate than on similar occasions in the past, in that the squad is larger and more frequent replacements will be possible. Coach Keene says he will use practically all of his men in this game.

The squad numbered a little over 60 Wednesday, and may gain a few more members before the end of the week. Wednesday's arrivals included Mohr from last year's reserves; Gretchell and Deuser, freshmen.
