on Dried Prunes first year of operation at the West Salem plant, finished prunes a week ago yesterday, but are now working on a few dried prunes. The prune pack, as already reported, was much larger than at first estimated. Oregon Packing's output for the year dropped 25 per cent below last year's total, largely because neither beans or pumpkins were handled this year. The prune pack here exceeded that of last year. So far the dried prune market is decidedly weak, with a flurry for the dried fruit.
