

Local News Briefs

Legion Election Postponed—The election of officers of Capital Post No. 3, American Legion, which was scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until September 29, in order that members of the drum corps and delegates who are attending the national convention in Detroit, Mich., may be present to vote. As Irl McSherry is the only nominee for the office of post commander, he will be elected to succeed E. M. "Max" Page. Contacts are developing for the place of post adjutant and members of the executive committee. Maintaining that because he has an office in the business district, he would be easily accessible at all times, William Eblein is seeking the office of post adjutant.

County Employment Groups Asked to Make Lists of Available Jobs

Immediate action on the part of the county employment committee to determine what work will be available during the fall and winter months, was urged in a letter prepared Monday by J. M. Devers, attorney for the state highway commission, for the consideration of the county agencies. Devers has been appointed by Governor Meier to make a tour of the state and confer with the county committees.

"It has been urged," Devers letter read, "that the committees in the several communities get in touch with all private and public agencies and suggest that every effort be made to provide all possible work during the coming fall and winter. A little study no doubt will reveal much public work in the cities and towns that it greatly needed. Since such work can be done at less cost now than during normal times a savings to the taxpayers can be accomplished by promoting these activities without delay.

"There are many persons in each community who this winter will be without fuel. In many counties there is land which the owner has taken over for delinquent taxes, on which there is timber suitable for wood. Provision should be made whereby men who are unemployed could cut their own fuel, and at the same time get some for the county for future use. The county could provide the transportation for the men and it could likewise transport the wood to the places where it would be used. Much needed relief could be provided in this way.

"In many communities there are great quantities of unused vegetables and fruit. These food-stuffs could be gathered by boy scouts or other organizations and transported to the local canneries by the county. No doubt some of the canneries would donate their equipment while individuals could contribute their labor. In this way much valuable food stuff could be preserved at the cost of sugar and containers.

"Governor Meier is deeply concerned in this matter and is anxious that every possible effort be put forth for the handling of the unemployment situation. The situation demands the thoughtful consideration of all concerned.

Frank Johnson, county roadmaster, and Jim Smith, county commissioner, spent yesterday afternoon inspecting road work in the neighborhood of St. Lewis. The grading crew working near Hall Prairie will soon be through with its work there, they reported. The paving crew will finish probably tomorrow with its work of paving several curves on the Gervais-St. Lewis road. Considerable patching will be done on roads in that vicinity.

Work of paving the five unfinished corners on the road between Salem and Silvertown will start tomorrow, according to Johnson. The crew, from the Silvertown plant, will finish on Tuesday widening nine-foot strips of pavement between Jack's bridge and Silvertown. It will then be set to work paving some uncompleted corners between Mt. Angel and Woodburn, which were graded two years ago.

October 24 is to be the big day for the new George Washington Memorial Bridge which spans the Hudson River and links New York with New Jersey. On that day the structure will be officially dedicated and opened by Vice-President Charles Curtis, assisted by Governor Roosevelt of New York and Governor Larrabie of New Jersey. Above is a new picture of the bridge from the air.

Under the Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

The state police added another speed mark to its laurels in the apprehension of three men who assaulted and robbed a party here Sunday night. By 4 o'clock yesterday all three had been arrested and were on their way to the penitentiary to serve three year sentences. Nice going Charles Pray and gang.

A. H. Averill, state insurance commissioner, and his assistants are back at work after attending the national convention of state insurance officials in Portland last week. Averill said the convention was a success in every way and visitors to Oregon for the meet were sold on the state.

Charles M. Thomas is in San Francisco and Jerrold Owen is in Detroit. The purpose of divulging this piece of news is to inform that the two house warnings of recent arrivals in Salem are apparently delayed. It has been a long time since there has been a good house warming here and when these state officials return, lost time should be made up.

Thomas went south to look over the books of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company preparatory to hearings on the rates and service of the company in Oregon. Owen went to Detroit to bring the 1932 convention of the American Legion to Oregon. From all reports it looks like Portland will be the next host to the national legion meet.

Once in a while someone really comments favorably about items in this column and actually agrees with them. State Banking Superintendent A. A. Schramm said yesterday he concurred with the item about Governor Julius L. Meier's nurse being attractive. He said he had an interesting visit with her while waiting to see the governor. Well, he has an additional advantage.

The statehouse is getting football minded, and already many inquiries are coming in as to when the press room radio will be installed. Well, there will be one, just as soon as Oregon State college and Oregon get to going. Press dispatches note that although Oregon State defeated Willamette 76 to 0, it lost its beaver mascot.

James Mott, state corporation commissioner, has made his own opinions on the financial situation in England and Germany. He left Saturday for Oklahoma City where he will attend the convention of the national securities commissioners this week.

The Salem public schools and the Willamette university opened simultaneously yesterday, and from all reports it looks like a banner year for both big institutions of learning. Two things have been noted. During school hours there are fewer children seen on the streets, and on the other hand there are more young people around Salem.
