

ENDEAVOR MEET- OPENS TONIGHT

Sessions Will be Held at First Christian Church in Silvertown

SILVERTOWN, Oct. 1—Christian Endeavor of the Madison county will gather here late today for their annual three-day convention, meetings of which will be held at the First Christian church.

The Rev. Dr. Grover C. Birtchett, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Salem, and the Rev. Chester P. Gates, pastor-counselor of the Oregon Endeavor union, are the principal speakers.

Dr. Birtchett's address at the opening session tonight will be "Youth's Advancing with Christ." Saturday's session will be devoted to business conferences, and reports, with the banquet at 6 o'clock. During the banquet a symposium will be presented, with three young people speaking on "Give Us a Chance," "Youth's Response to a Challenge," and "Our Relation to our Elders."

The Rev. Gates' address at 8:30 Saturday evening is entitled "The Secret of a Successful Advance." Sunday morning Mr. Gates will speak on "The Assurance of Victory" at the closing session.

1000 VISIT SUNDAY SCHOOL FAIR BOOTH

HAZEL GREEN, Oct. 1—The Sunday school booth sponsored by Hazel Green district is very popular. More than a 1000 visited it during the first four days of state fair.

Sunday morning groups from among the campers came to the booth for a quiet time not knowing where to find churches in town.

Visitors are interested very much in the miniature Jewish tabernacle, made by Verne McCabern. The sand table showing story of the baby Moses made by children of T. B. Tricks, superintendent of Rosedale S. S., the class from Brooks, show an action study table and posters, birds of the Bible, and the Japanese school have two parables, "The Lost Coin" and "The Return of the Prodigal" in modeling clay.

The illustrations of Homer Leahy of Pratum Mennonites are attracting many.

The posters, work books and many other interesting and helpful exhibits are to be seen. Pastors grown by the Hazel Green district are being given to all visitors.

Cloverdale Section Has Many Guests as Autumn Spell Opens

CLOVERDALE, Oct. 1—Mr. and Mrs. George Garner of Clearlake visited at the home of the former's father, John Garner Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Davis and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Gott of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson spent the weekend with friends near Tillamook.

Kathryn Schampier is unable to attend classes this week in the Turner high school where she is a student on account of an attack of sinusitis.

Monitor Hunters Bring Home Five Bucks From Seneca

MONITOR, Oct. 2—Five fine bucks were the hunting bounty of a party from here who spent 10 days in the Seneca country. The hunters included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. VanCleave and sons Howard and Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Dimick and sons Stan and Clifford, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olson and daughter Marion, the latter family of Portland.

Dimick's truck caught fire at The Dalles, the fire department being called to put out the blaze. O. L. Jensen, local taxidermist, is busy these days mounting quite a number of specimens of deer brought in by local hunters.

190-Acre Farm Sold For $6000 at Scio; Finks New Owners

SCIO, Oct. 1—M. M. Fink and wife, formerly of Oregon City, are located in the former Clyde Thomas land about eight miles east of Scio on Jordan creek which they recently purchased for a consideration reported as $6000. The farm consists of 190 acres and includes land formerly owned by Mrs. Clyde Thomas.

Linn county men are to be registered at Albany October 10 for work in clearing a 9-mile strip of the South Santiam right of way east of Cascade. The work will start in December, it is believed.

CAR TOURNEY PLANNED MOLALLA, Oct. 1—A card tournament will be started on October 9, in the I. O. O. F. hall, by the social club of the Orchard chapter. Order of the Eastern Star, both bridge and "500" will be played. A novelty will be tried out during the tournament this winter. Parties will start promptly at 8:30. The committee first in charge is Mrs. F. M. Henrikson, Mrs. Gladys Kirkwood and Mrs. B. R. Wallace.

ANNE GRABS THE SPOTLIGHT

HER FIRST MEDAL PRESENTED BY JAPANESE AERO SOCIETY.

ANNE LINDBERGH - FLIER

AS GUEST AT TOKIO.

Making her first appearance in the public spotlight as the sweetheart of the "Lone Eagle," Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh was admired by the world because she in turn was loved by the world's most famous individual. Today, however, the young wife occupies a different place in the hearts of millions at home and abroad. She has been out a niche all her own in the affections of a host of admirers. Her sweetness of disposition, her unbounded courage and her success in overcoming the aversion of her famous husband's social intercourse being factors that contributed to her triumphal march to world popularity.

During the Lindberghs' tour in the Orient, Anne Lindbergh is receiving even warmer acclaim than the Colonel himself, and he it understood that no one is more proud of the esteem in which she is held than the husband that she has—mayhap—outshined from the spotlight.

Specialties To be Given By Teachers

AURORA, Oct. 1—After adjustments, the routine of the Aurora school is well established. Each of the four teachers besides taking care of his or her own room is teaching special subjects to the entire school.

Miss Ray Davis, first grade teacher, has charge of both the music and the girls' athletics. Miss Yost, of the third and fourth grade room, is giving instructions in art and 4-H club cooking. Miss Doris Harader, fifth and sixth grade teacher, is teaching penmanship and will act as leader in 4-H club sewing. E. F. Morrison, principal, directs boys' athletics and will act as leader of the 4-H handwork club. Also his Tuesday language class will be given over to the writing of news items. More than 100 pupils are now enrolled.

Polk County Landmark is Being Razed

LINCOLN, Oct. 2—One of the old landmarks of Polk county, the flouring mill at Lincoln which was built in 1868, is being razed to the ground by the new owner of the mill property, J. R. Sturgeon.

Joshua Witten, old Oregon pioneer, built the mill and also the adjoining saw mill which was torn down some few years ago.

Of the Witten family only one daughter, Mrs. Tryphosa Abrams is living. Mrs. Abrams resides in Salem at the home of her son Carlis Abrams.

Free Methodists Hold Conferences For First Quarter

FALLS CITY, Oct. 2—The first quarterly meeting at the Falls City Free Methodist church started Wednesday and will continue through the rest of this week, with Rev. M. C. Clarke, of Salem, district elder, in charge. There will be preaching Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights and Sunday morning. Communion will be given Sunday.

J. E. McDonald is the regular pastor.

LYONS, Oct. 1—William Elder was able to be out and on the streets today for the first time since September 20, when he was struck by a car. He was painfully but not seriously injured.

MRS. M'DONALD IS W. C. T. U. HEAD

DALLAS, Oct. 1—The county institute of the Polk County W. C. T. U. was held at the Evangelical church in Monmouth on Monday. Mrs. Lucille McDonald, county president, presided.

The morning devotionals were conducted by the members of the Monmouth union. The morning session was taken up with routine business and the closing of reports for the year's work. A covered dish luncheon was served by the ladies of the church.

The afternoon devotionals were: Bible story by Mrs. McDonald; prayer by Mrs. Carnes; song, "Some Glad Day." The program consisted of the following: piano solos, Miss Lafayette; recitation, "The College Oil Can," Mrs. Smiley; address, Mrs. Clara Ingham, health director of Portland.

New officers elected at this institute were: president, Mrs. Lucille McDonald, Falls City; vice president, Mrs. W. P. Miller, Dallas; secretary, Mrs. L. A. Tallman, Dallas; treasurer, Mrs. Esther Morgan, Independence.

Stayton High To Hold Old Linn Route

STAYTON, Oct. 1—W. H. Hobson, clerk of the Stayton school board, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Edna Geer, Linn county school superintendent. In which she states: "The matter of transportation route referred to the boundary board and referred to the district attorney. He advises us that in his opinion a transportation route once established, remains permanent and no readjustment for the coming year must be made before July 15." Mrs. Geer says that applications of Scio, July 18; Stayton, July 20, and Albany, September 5, are all out of order.

Under this ruling Stayton retains her route in Linn county, established in 1928.

Car Cranking Almost Leads to Bad Smash In Lyons Territory

LYONS, Oct. 1—William Holtzhus was the center of excitement in Lyons Sunday night. He and another man came to town in his truck and had left it standing at the store. When they were ready to go home, Holtzhus proceeded to crank the truck which was in gear. The machine leaped forward toward a coupe belonging to James Curran, which was parked a few feet away.

Holtzhus did some quick moving and narrowly escaped being wedged between the two machines. The truck smashed into the coupe, tearing off a fender and otherwise disfiguring it.

Prolific Crops Give Grand Island Fame in Short Time; Flood of 1890 Disastrous to Three Early Families

By MRS. C. A. FERGUSON

4000 Acres Large We find the beautiful Willamette river winding its way down through the valley to enter the grandeur and splendor of the mighty waters of the Columbia. Located in this river is Grand Island, a garden spot in this vast Willamette valley with an elevation of only 45 feet above sea level. It is comprised of 4000 acres of the most fertile river bottom soil of which approximately one-third is in cultivation. The island was named by a vote of the people in a community club which was organized in the year 1913.

The only and only highway entrance to this beauty spot is between 14 and 15 miles northwest of Salem on the river market road.

Flood is Recalled As far back as records are available the first settlers came to the island in the early eighties when nearly all species of wild animals could be found. Among these settlers were the William Newton Miller, Roger Tompkins and George Lefley families, the only three residing on the island during the flood of 1890. Had the buildings been on high ground and the people more prepared for such an event their loss would not have been so extensive. One of the most thrilling incidents of this flood was the removing through the roof of the house of Mrs. Mercy Tompkins' brother, Percy Miller, when but fourteen hours old.

Residents Longest The William Miller family came to the island from Oregon City in the fall of 1887 when their daughter, now Mrs. Mercy Tompkins, was only one and one-half years old. Mrs. Tompkins has spent over 43 years here. She and her brother, Newton Miller and E. A. Lefley, son of the late George Lefley, are the only three direct descendants of the early settlers who are now living on the island.

Eggs For 7 Cents The William Miller family came to the island from Oregon City in the fall of 1887 when their daughter, now Mrs. Mercy Tompkins, was only one and one-half years old. Mrs. Tompkins has spent over 43 years here. She and her brother, Newton Miller and E. A. Lefley, son of the late George Lefley, are the only three direct descendants of the early settlers who are now living on the island.

Schoolhouse Built The number of families gradually increased until 1912 when the island was becoming more like a small neighborhood. Up until this time all of the children had been attending the grade school in the adjoining school district, Unionvale. Since a sufficient number now resided in the community, enthusiastic parents worked together and in 1912 erected a modern school building in their own private school district.

Bridge is Secured With added population the demands for a bridge across the Willamette slough became more insistent. Until now all crossing had to be done on an inconvenient ferry boat, where a party might wait an entire day on one bank for someone who desired to come across to bring the ferry over. During the 1915 state legislature assembly, Morton Tompkins, resident of this island, stayed constantly on the job working for a bridge across to the island. He was successful and in the fall of 1915 people from far and near came to celebrate the opening of the new bridge.

Grand Island is now a very diversified section of country with market gardening, dairying and hog raising the three outstanding industries. Tompkins brothers deliver large truck loads of the choicest melons practically the entire length of the state. Asparagus, hops, cherries, walnuts, filberts and peaches are also grown to advantage.

children of the Hopewell Sunday school a talk on the home life of the Chinese. Clifford Stephens, Margus Wiley and Ralph Wood went deer hunting in the middle of last week. Clifford bagged a deer.

TALK FIRE PREVENTION MOLALLA, Oct. 1—Next week, October 4 to October 10, has been proclaimed as Fire Prevention week. Fire Chief Emory Worth, of the Molalla Volunteer Fire department, will appoint two members of the department to go before the pupils of the grade and high school to speak on this subject.

TURNER FINDS ITS SCHOOLS GROWING

TURNER, Oct. 1—Turner school finds a substantial increase in enrollment this week. Resides students entering late and joining different classes, Summit Hill district began transporting its pupils to Turner Monday.

Football practice began this week. The school is fortunate in having a number of large boys who will enter the athletic sports. The four high school classes have been active in class organizations and officers chosen, are for the senior class: president, Gladys Given; vice president, Margaret Robertson, secretary-treasurer, Nellie Barber; student body representative, Katherine Shampier, class adviser, Thurlie W. Smith, teacher.

RALLY DAY AFFAIR PLANNED AT TURNER

TURNER, Oct. 1—Turner Sunday schools are planning for special programs and good attendance for Rally day. The Methodist Sunday school will observe the day Sunday, October 4. Ivan Hadley is superintendent. Mrs. F. C. Gunnby is chairman of the program committee.

The Christian Sunday school has chosen Sunday, October 11, for its program with an of 177 persons present for the day.

Special talent will help feature the program. At the morning services a basket dinner in the commodious dining room of the church will be enjoyed by all the church people and their friends. Dr. H. G. Epley is Sunday school superintendent.

SCIO, Oct. 1—What is thought to be the richest ore yet found in the Crown mine at Elkhorn, on the upper North Santiam river east of Scio, has just been uncovered, according to a report that reached this city Monday.

Workmen operating a drift on the deep vein now being penetrated in the mine are said to have encountered Friday a shoot carrying richer ore than any yet assayed from the Crown mine or elsewhere in that district. While the extent and size of the ore shoot was unknown at the time the report of the strike was received in this city, indications are reported to its being in all probability the most extensive ore body yet discovered there.

Scio Fire Boys Will Stage Dance Soon to Assist its Operation

SCIO, Oct. 1—A dance of elaborate proportions on the night of October 10 is contemplated by the new volunteer fire department of Scio, according to plans discussed at the regular meeting Monday night.

The event is to be staged in the Z. C. B. J. hall in this city, and A. C. Eastburn, chairman of the committee in charge of the function, announced that arrangements had been closed with the Ferguson Willamette organization for music for the coming dance. This is the concern that has been giving dances in the hall here for some time.

Brotherhood Resumes Meetings at Turner

TURNER, Oct. 1—The Methodist Men's Brotherhood will resume its monthly meetings Tuesday night, October 6, to be held at the church. No meetings were held during the summer months. Ivan Hadley is president.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Gannor drove to Portland Saturday afternoon where they were the guests of friends. They returned home Sunday evening.
