use of consolation in a loving cup presented to him by Americans as a tribute to his sportsmanship and in his election later to the British royal yacht squadron.

The last illness of the famous yachtsman caused cancellation of plans to visit America. His passage already had been booked.

He was born in a Glasgow tenement house May 10, 1850, of Irish parents. He became an errand boy at the age of nine and eight years later when he asked for an increase in salary, he was told he was too ambitious. He sailed steership to America and soon returned home with $8.

Was Pioneer as Modern Advertiser

He established a little grocery store and quickly built up a flourishing business by elaborate and up-to-date methods and extensive advertising. At the beginning he sometimes slept under his counter.

When he was 23 years old he opened a second shop and after that new branches came thick and fast.

His charity and his love for his mother were combined in a gift of $10,000 which he made for poor mothers and children of Glasgow last January. In announcing the gift he said it was in memory of his mother, "the guiding star of my life."

Emmett Kleinke, 23, Salem, is in a hospital at Oregon City suffering from serious injuries received in an automobile accident near Astoria. Mrs. Edna Antrean, sister of Kleinke, who returned yesterday from visiting him, reported that hospital attendants believed it would be at least 10 days before he could be moved to Salem.

Kleinke suffered a fracture of the skull, severe lacerations of the scalp and injuries to the left hand.

Reports here indicated that Kleinke's automobile skidded on the pavement, hit a loose gravel and overturned. In company with Carlton Roth, 22, Salem, he was returning Miss Polly Gohle and Miss Mary Walsh, 21, to their homes in Portland, after they had visited the state fair here. Miss Walsh, who was driving the car, was slightly hurt. Roth escaped without injury.

The automobile was but slightly damaged.

KLEINKE SERIOUSLY INJURED IN CRASH

Two hundred or more Marion county school teachers will be the guests of the Salem instructors next Tuesday morning for a four-day school bus tour.

Eight school buses will be used to transport them to the buildings they may wish to visit.

The two junior and the senior high schools and the McKinley, Park, Washington and Lincoln grade schools will be opened to the visitors from 10 o'clock until noon. Each guest will be taken to buildings, either two grades or a grade and a junior high school. There they will be shown the facilities available and exhibitions of the work done by the pupils.

This is a new feature of the county institute, which will begin here on Monday.

den; and fourth to Mrs. Thompson's entry.

The Aaron M. Frank stake of $1000 for three gaited saddle horses was divided, first to Fair Acres, Alexander Acres; second, Edith Gail, Lewis R. Banks; third, Lurline McDonald, Scripps-Meanley stables; fourth, an entry of Alexander Acres.

The E. A. Stuart stake of $1000 for hunters and jumpers, first to Nell, Harry Gorham; second, Winchester, Dr. Ray Matson; third, Alta Loma, G. P. McNeil; fourth, King Vulture, Phil O'Connell.

Harvey Dick of Portland gave a $500 stake for the shetland pony class, and D. G. Welty walked off with first on pretty little Lady Helen; second, Eligh Tension; third, Eocust Flame; and fourth, Blue Heaven driven with beautiful horsemanship by 10 year old Jimmy Gorham. All three latter entries were Harry Gorham horses. Mr. Gorham of Joy, Ill., is placing well in the Oregon state fair show, and is a new exhibitor this year.

The touch-and-go event for jumpers was long and did not give the brilliant performance anticipated. Jump-offs were necessary with first finally going to Advertisement, M. C. Mogensen horse; second Big Canada, an entry of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Held.

Ladies' five gaited saddle horses brought out some lovely animals but not such good riding. Winners placed, first, Bronze Rose, Scripps-Meanley stable; second, Sharon Acres, Alexander Acres; third, Kitty Beloved, G. L. Lauer; and fourth, Royal Escort, Tressie G. Taaffe.

Heavyweight polo ponies were shown and the audience got much amusement out of "Sweet Patootie" a peculiarly marked horse whose lack of beauty was set off by performance which won him second place. He is owned by W. L. Rumyon. First place went to Red Fox, Harvey Dick entry and ridden by Mr. Dick; third, Crescendo, Mildred and Francis, Calder; fourth, Take Off, ridden and owned by Mrs. Floyd B. Hart.

Roadsters, single, first, Peter McKinley and Col. Scott, Glenn L. Sadler entries; second, Gorham Acres and Lucky Acres, Alexander Acres horses; third, Jack W. and Guy Alnooa, W. A. Cooper; fourth, Bellair and Worthy Cross, Glenn L. Sadler.

Tandems, first, Charm and Explosion, Bridgetford and Radford entry; second, Take the Cake and Topsy Cake, Mrs. A. C. Thompson; third, Ecstasy and Rhapsody,

Tonight will see the conclusion of the state fair night horse show. There will be the six-hand heavy draft team driving competition which will divide a $1000 stake which has been competed for twice this week. Children and entries will make a pretty diversion for this night also, and there will be the Grafton broad jump, a sporting jump thrilling to watch.

LAND ACCRETIONS CLAIMED IN SUIT

A temporary restraining order has been signed by Judge McManis enjoining the state land board from leasing certain tide lands on the lower Columbia river which leases were up for bids on October 6. Elizabeth Cook and Stella Matuschiner filed the complaint for injunction.

The two women stated they purchased 12.27 acres of land along the Columbia but accretions have increased their holdings to 210 acres or over. Fishing of the tide flats is their asserted occupation. They take around 20 tons of salmon of a value of $5,000 during the summer and 10 tons are expected this fall at a $2,000 value.

A survey was made of the properties and the state land board is now attempting to sell a lease on a certain portion of the land the plaintiffs claim they own by accretion. The attorney general, says the complaint, has advised the land board that the state is owner of this portion of the land.

POLK'S ROBBERIES SOLVED BY ARREST

ger and Nixon in those at Saver and Arlie.

The three men sentenced at Dallas for the Polk county burglaries also were identified as the ones who attempted to crack the safe at Curly's dairy, 645 Hood street, on the night of September 27. Their arrest was brought about through a tip obtained by Officer Coffey. The Salem officer, hearing of a woman who was carrying food to someone in a local hotel, checked further and finally got admission from her that the men she was feeding had talked about the Falls City burglary. She later took Coffey and Lieutenant McClain to Portland and showed them where the men were stopping.

Lee Nixon is said to be of Salem.

MANAGER OF FAIR IS HANDED PRAISE

Other Resolutions Passed By Oregon Purebred Livestock Raisers

Resolutions expressing confidence in Mrs. Ella Wilson, secretary of the state fair, were adopted at the annual banquet of the Oregon-Pure Bred Livestock association. The association also passed resolutions assuring the director, Max Gehlar, of cooperation and support.

Nearly 60 members attended the banquet at which O. M. Plummer was toastmaster. C. P. Kiser of Harrisburg, president, and Max Gehlar spoke.

Two other resolutions requested the fair management to provide a barber shop near the livestock barns, even if it is necessary to do so without the usual return on a concession; and the good sport requested before the 1932 fair suitable stalls for livestock born during fair time.

The resolution relative to Mrs. Wilson's work follows in full: "Whereas: The state fair just drawing to a close has been most successful and reflects careful and efficient management.

"Mrs. Ella Wilson has been the acting manager of the fair for the past 2 years and under her management the fair has been successful year after year. She has proven to be an efficient executive and a friend of the livestock interests.

"Therefore be it resolved, that we hereby express our confidence in Mrs. Wilson in this official position and assure her of our appreciation of the work she has done."

'STICKUP' SUSPECT QUICKLY CAPTURED

they got away, their victim ascertained they were driving a Hupmobile eight coupe bearing Washington license plates. This enabled Powell Clayton, state police officer, and George Edwards, city traffic officer, who were called in on the case from the state fairgrounds, to identify the machine when they caught up with it on the highway. Recognizing the robbers' car, the officers fired at it with a sawed-off shotgun, the shot peppering the metal top to the side and above the rear window. The stickups whirled their car around at the side of the road and brought it to a stop.

While one of the fugitives was heading into the brush, the officers halted the other who also was out of the car. The man, James, made as to hand over his gun at Officer Edwards' command, but refused to let go of the weapon. Edwards, after twice ordering him to release his grip, struck him in the side of the head with his own revolver.

Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

THERE were some great horse races at the fair yesterday afternoon, and, believe it or not, a northwestern track record was broken. Lasspere set a new trotting mark for three-year-olds when he ran around the course in harness in just 2:16 1/4 minutes. Several Salem track records were likewise broken by maces.

Today is the final day for races, and they start exactly at 1 o'clock, to permit the rodeo to be presented immediately afterwards. To perhaps the largest crowd, the races are furnishing the greatest interest at the fair, and there is reason to believe there is plenty of action on the course.

Yesterday the little Canadian jockey, who at the age of 13 years has won many a race, lost his stirrup at the beginning of the 6 1/2-furlong race. But Hank Mills was a good sport and he continued to drive his horse around the course to take second place. To the fans it was a wonder he did not fall off, let alone spur his horse outward.

And in addition to setting new marks, spectators have seen several of the greatest runners, pacers and trotters in the northwest. For instance there is Georgia Helgretta, the great black mare who won clean sweeps yesterday and the day before for top honors. She is only three years old, but is considered one of the best pacers in the west. She runs without hobbles and is a natural pacer.

The races are started by a veteran of the tracks, A. J. Hodges, who has been credited with but one poor start in the entire meeting, which is declared almost perfect. James E. Royce, clerk of the course, is also a veteran. This ward D. Howard, D. D., of Portland, Assistants to the archbishop were Dr. Augustine, O. S. B., and Fathers Thomas and Cyril, O. S. B. Father Hilary and Frater Roberts were masters of ceremony. Father Michael's mother and other immediate members of his family were present during the ceremonies, as well as a large number of friends. The newly ordained father will sing his first solemn high mass at Walla Walla, Wash., his home town, next Sunday, October 4.

Y. Forum is to Resume Sessions

The first fall meeting of the Y. forum, discussion class for adults, will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening, beginning with a dinner at 6:15 o'clock. This group meets regularly throughout the fall, winter and spring to discuss current events and philosophical topics. It has about 30 members.

The new president of the organization is Rich L. Reisman. He succeeds Frank Neer who served last year.

In San Francisco's Chinatown, with an estimated population of 30,000, there were only 65 marriages the last statistical year.

of the Orange, is a good musician, and has played basketball and tennis for her school. She has been on the champion home economics judging team at this fair the past two years, and this year was high scoring girl. During the summer she went out to cook on her father's threshing outfit and served the harvest hands some of the things she learned in club work.

Paul Boeckl, of Linnton, was awarded a trip, with all expenses paid, to the National Dairy exposition at St. Louis, Mo. The award was based on an essay, written by Boeckl, on the subject, "My Trip Through a Dairy Plant". The award was made possible by the ice cream and dairy manufacturers' association. He has the distinction of developing a world's record Brown Swiss cow.

A Polk county girl, Paulina Domes of McCoy, took first in the dollar dinner contest which has been running during the event. Catherine Dallas, Marion county, took third in this event.

David Kyle of Florence, Lane county, placed first in the Home Beautification exhibits. Clarence Primus and Herbert Rex placed third for Polk county in the crops demonstrations projects, Wasco county finishing first. In miscellaneous demonstrations, Clackamas was first, and Lester and Elmo Voth placed fifth for Polk county.

Jim Bowers, Columbus, Kan., golf sensation, broke his right arm playing high school football.
