HEARING HELD HERE ON SANTIAM POWER

Salem and Albany Lead in Opposing California Company Filings

Three hearings, involving applications to appropriate power from Oregon streams for power purposes, were held in the offices of the state hydro-electric commission Monday.

The most important application was that of O'Neill Light & Power company of San Francisco, involving the appropriation of 650 second feet of water from the north fork of the Santiam river, for the development of 7755 horsepower. This application was opposed by the cities of Salem and Albany, the state game commission, and a number of sportsmen's organizations.

It was argued that this proposed development would interfere with municipal water supplies for Willamette valley cities and menace the future fish life in the Santiam district. Another application, filed by the Oregon Light and Power company involves two proposed power projects on the Clackamas river. This company seeks to appropriate 540 second feet of water from the Clackamas river for the development of 996 theoretical horsepower.

The third application was filed by Wallace Huntington, an Eddy, Roseburg, E. F. Slade, Salem, and C. E. Stricklin, state engineer. Testimony taken at Monday's hearings was taken under advisement.

Members of the hydro-electric commission are B. L. Eddy, Roseburg; E. F. Slade, Salem; and C. E. Stricklin, state engineer. Testimony taken at Monday's hearings was taken under advisement.

ELECTRICAL FIRES HELD PREVENTABLE

Fifteen per cent of the losses occasioned by fire each year are occasioned by some use of electricity. Methods of prevention rather than enlarged fire departments are most valuable in curtailing this loss and to such preventing electrical engineers are giving increasing attention and time.

This message was brought to chamber of commerce members Monday noon by Victor H. Tousey, electrical field engineer, and guest speaker from the convention of electrical engineers now in session in Salem. Tousey was introduced by W. M. Hamilton.

"The electrical inspector guarantees that the place in which you make your permanent home, and the place in which you may temporarily be, shall be electrically safe when erected," Tousey declared. "To maintain the safety is up to you, the user or the owner. But to assure further your permanent safety an inspector occasionally goes over your premises."

One hundred and twenty-five members and guests of the chamber attended the meetings which marked the resumption of the regular Monday noon gatherings. Next week Professor W. I. Powers of Oregon State college is to tell chamber members about agricultural conditions in Russia as he observed them on a six-weeks' trip through that county made this summer.

Mrs. Robert Cole Winner of Ribbons On Chicken Exhibit

MISSION BOTTOM, Oct. 5—Mrs. Robert Cole of Mission Bottom received many prizes on her chickens exhibited at the state fair.

First prize was won on a pen of blue Andalusian pullets, first on old pen of Buff Leghorn cockers, and second on Buff Leghorn hens.

Last year when Mrs. Cole was enrolled as an exhibitor at the state fair for the first time she carried away prizes. These were four exhibitors of Buff Leghorns and blue Andalusians respectively this year, making competition keen.

Oakleys Go Where Employment Found; Men on Deer Hunt

JEFFERSON, Oct. 5—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Oakley and family moved to Shelton, Wash., last week, where Mr. Oakley will have employment. Ruby Koker is staying with her.

CANE COLLECTION UNIQUE

Woods lighter than cork, woods that would sink like a stone in water, chalk-like wood and wood black as jet. These are only a few of the species of rare woods that are included in the Rudolph Block collection, now on exhibition at the New York Botanical Gardens. There are 1,400 specimens to delight the heart of the dendrologist, among them many that not even the foremost botanists of the world can identify, so rare are they. Mr. Block took many years to complete his collection during which he received specimens from every corner of the earth. The exhibition should interest the layman as well as the student, as there are woods in the collection of which he never even dreamed. Such as the raspberry jam wood with an odor strongly suggestive of its name and the pao d'alto with its not so pleasant effluvia of garlic.

Under the Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's Dome . . . state government

The state capital press room was going good yesterday, and the addition is proving popular during the world series. Ardent fans again listened to Pepper Martin star as well as pitcher Grimes, and the game went according to popular favor, putting the Cardinals in the lead, not only in games but in runs, scoring a total of nine, as against eight for the Athletics.

To the best of information there were 408 newspaper men covering the baseball game yesterday. There were 400 at the game and six covering it at the capital press room. However, there was no chance for a lonely six to take home a world series ball to the kiddies.

Harry Niles, assistant superintendent of state police, returned yesterday from a tour of the state holding schools for state police members. He said his trip was successful, and he lauded the personnel of the department in various parts of the state. Another three-months leave of absence for Niles from the Portland police department has been granted the state.

OCTOBER TERM OF COURT UNDER WAY

Circuit court, October term, got under way yesterday before Judge L. H. McMahan here, the case of Dunifer vs. Porter coming first on the docket. The morning was occupied in getting a jury and preliminary statements by counsel, taking of testimony taking up the afternoon session. The case will continue throughout today. Plaintiff seeks $12,000 judgment for alleged damages done by defendant in failing to make good on a contract for hauling logs in the Silverton district.

Sitting on the jury yesterday were Dewey R. Allen, Alfred F. Know, George V. Patton, Dorothy McDowell, Nellie L. Harris, Rilda Priem, Henry Kirsch, Ella M. Stauffer, John Dozier, William F. Prime, E. G. Clark, Gladys Eoff.

Judge Gale S. Hill will be here this morning to hear motions and demurrers in his court department. Nineteen cases are set for motion or demurrer hearing by Deputy Clerk Lamkin.

LEGION AUXILIARY INSTALLATION HELD

Impressive Service Places Mrs. Melchoir in Chair; Committees Named

An impressive installation service placed Mrs. M. J. Melchoir in the chair as president of the American legion auxiliary Monday night at Miller's hall. Mrs. Ellen Cleveland, past president of the auxiliary and now of Dallas, was the installing officer.

Other officers to take places Monday night were first vice president, Mrs. Christopher Butte; second vice president, Mrs. Glenn Porter; secretary, Mrs. Byron Lienallen; chaplain, Mrs. Glen Seely; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Cyril Nadon.

Mrs. Melchoir succeeds Mrs. W. Watkins as president. Following the installation Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Melchoir and Mrs. Watkins were each presented with remembrances from the auxiliary. Mrs. Melchoir expressed a bit of sentiment in connection with her election because she received her election September 21, her wedding anniversary, and was installed October 5, birthday of her mother.

After Mrs. Melchoir had taken the chair she announced the following committee chairman to serve this year: Mrs. J. T. Delaney, child welfare; Mrs. Glenn Porter, hospital; Mrs. Frank J. Rak, community service; Mrs. Christopher Butte, Americanism; Mrs. Walter Zosel, music; Mrs. E. M. Bradford, poppy sale; Mrs. Pascal Traglio, legislative, constitution and bylaws; Mrs. H. R. White, historian and publicity.

Mrs. William Watkins, cooperation and unit activities; Mrs. O. E. Palmater, hostess; Mrs. A. M. Johnson, pianist; Mrs. Henry Forner, ways and means; Mrs. Dennis Stevenson and Belle Nadon, entertainment; Mrs. Robert Burrow, chairman and Miss Lois Ohmart, cemetery and memorials. A new committee was named this year.

It is called the floor committee and its duties are to see that all members of the unit become acquainted with each other. This committee is Mrs. Willis Vincent, chairman, and Mrs. William Meyers, and Mrs. Alexander Magee.

As an additional feature for the installation service numbers were sung by the auxiliary quartet, and group singing was led by Mrs. Walter Zosel at the close of the meeting. Refreshments and a social hour concluded the service.

Special guests from Dallas were Mrs. Allan Cleveland, installing officer; Mrs. Dorothy Eakin, chairman of department unit activities; Mrs. Marie Woods, president of the Dallas unit; Mrs. Beth Richardson, Mrs. Gayle Kreson; Mrs. Allan Cery, Mrs. Myrtle Bennett, Mrs. Nettie Helgeson; Mrs. Dorothy Hines, Mrs. Helen Watson, Mrs. Freda Peterson and Mrs. Amelia Bolton.

Disabled Vets' Organization in Salem Planned

The organization of the disabled American veterans of the World war is being attempted for Salem by the commander of the Disabled American Veterans chapter in Portland, Lyle Dalley.

Mr. Dalley was here this week-end and will return this week to complete plans for the organization. Bill Blivins is assisting with the work of organizing and any one interested may find out more particulars by calling him. It is expected that 20 or 25 men will form the first membership of the group.

There are already four chapters in Oregon, located at Portland, Lakes Grove, McMinnville and Oregon City.

FALL FLORAL SHOW TO OPEN SATURDAY

As a further move to encourage growing of fall flowers, a fall floral show will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Chambers building on North High street, under auspices of the commercial flower growers of Marion county.

While the commercial group is sponsoring the exhibit, anyone who has fall flowers is urged to make a display. A premium list is being prepared and will offer prizes in amateur as well as professional classes for all fall flowers. Awards will be given by the Beason Bulb farm and L. E. Weeks.

All flowers must be in place by 10 o'clock Saturday morning, when the judges will start working. The display will be open to the public at noon for the rest of the day, and all day Sunday.

Persons who make entries must supply their own vases. Most of the commercial growers around here will make large entries and there will be someone on hand to answer questions relative to care of flowers and flower beds at this time of the year.

Teachers to be Honored Guests At Meet Tonight

The concluding event of the two-day county teachers' institute here will be the reception to be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Y. M. C. A. by the Salem Ministerial association for instructors in the public schools, Willamette university, Capital Business college and others.

Charles A. Rice, superintendent of the Portland public schools, will address the gathering. Musical numbers will be furnished by the Ministerial association quartet and Miss Lena Belle Tartar, director of music at the high school.
