

Earnshaw Handcuffs Cards as A's Artillery Warms Up

TWO-HIT FEAT IS DUPLICATED

Big George More Effective Than Grimes had Been in Monday Victory

BY ALAN GOULD
SHIBBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The big guns boomed again today. Big George Earnshaw cracked the whip lash of his fast ball. The Athletics won the fourth of the world series games 3 to 0. And it's a deadlock at two games each, in one of the most spectacular battles of all time for the baseball championship.

Earnshaw held the Cardinals to a pair of hits, both made by the irrefragable "Pepper" Martin, sensational rookie outfielder. Otherwise he was invincible with a fireball that had most of the other Red Birds in a daze.

It was Martin who almost single handed "stole" the second game of the series from Earnshaw with his spectacular base running but the big right hander permitted no Cardinal foot to reach third base this afternoon as he bore down with blinding speed on the three occasions he was threatened.

The big slugger of the "A's" emerged from their uneasy coma to knock Sylvester Johnson out of the box in the sixth inning with an attack featured by Jimmy Foxx's terrific home run drive over the left field stands. The world champions collected ten hits off the Cardinals' ninth inning home run.

Of the four games played so far only the first was below standard in mound work, with both Grove and Derringer hit hard. Hallahan, hero of the second game triumph of the Cards, will be back on the firing line tomorrow, opposed probably by George (Rube) Walberg, giant southpaw of the A's who has yet to be seen in action.

The first and deciding run was produced in the first inning when Al Simmons hit the left field wall with a rousing two bagger that scored Max Bishop, who had singled and advanced to second on a sacrifice by Mule Haas.

Johnson, a side-arm right hander starting his first world series contest, steadied and was highly effective for the next four innings. He retired the first two dangerous men, Cochran and Simmons, in the sixth before the lid was blown off by Foxx.

The giant first baseman rammed a high hard one out of the park, clearing the left field double decked stands by many feet, with what Countee Clark learned the "longest hit I have ever seen in the world series."

Bing Miller walloped a double against the scoreboard, romped home with the third run on a single to left by Jimmy Williams. The light-hitting Williams, kid shortstop, also singled and this was the signal to Derrick Johnson. Jim Lindsey, big right hander, stopped the rally by fanning Earnshaw. He pitched one more inning without a run but was removed for a pinch hitter and young Paul Derringer, victim of the Athletics in the first game, retired the side in order in the eighth.

Pepper Martin and Frank Frisch, rookie and veteran of the Cardinals, were the only Red Birds to reach base.

Martin Gets Both
Of Cardinals' Hits
Martin singled to left in the fifth and doubled to the left field wall in the eighth for the only safe blows off the ace of the A's. The youngster thereby ran his total of safe drives up to nine in four games and once again was the most troublesome factor for the world champions to contend with. Pepper stole his fourth base of the series off Cochran, after hitting safely in the fifth, with one out.

One run would tie the score at this juncture and Earnshaw took matters in his own hands by fanning Gelbert. Big George had done the same thing in the fourth frame when he struck out Bottomley for the third out after Frisch had obtained Earnshaw's only pass and stole second on a close play.

There was nothing much for Earnshaw to worry about, meanwhile, until Martin came up in the eighth. This time Martin swung from his heels and plastered a fast ball up against the wall near the left field line for a double. Bearing down, Earnshaw forced Wilson to sky to Miller. Gelbert raised a high foul that Cochran caught at the edge of the stands behind the plate. Martin was still anchored to the middle bag and he stayed there as Earnshaw struck out Jimmy Collins, pinch hitting for Lindsey.

In six of the nine innings Earnshaw struck out eight Cardinals, including Jim Bottomley twice.

CURT COMMENTS

Dunno but what we'll start a golf school after the football school runs out. Of course we're a comparative novice at golf, but then nobody knows whether we're entitled to talk about football either. And besides, yesterday we almost won a prize in a golf tournament. As far as we know the only reason we didn't was the fact that we weren't entered in the tournament.

In the electrical inspectors' tourney at the Salom club course there was, unbeknown to us, prize for the closest tee shot to the 12th pin. Playing around in between tournament foursomes, we landed a tee shot on that green for the first time in many weeks. We found a boy measuring our distance from the pin with a long string. He said we were the closest so far. Reluctantly, we told him not to bother.

And now the world series is back on the basis of a real battle, which means a mong other things that the clubs will cash in on the remaining two or three games, to players'

AS GANDHI AND CHARLIE MET

Two world-famous figures as far removed in time and beliefs as the ends of the world met in London when the Mahatma Gandhi, apostle of India, and Charlie Chaplin, envoy extraordinary of mirth, participated in a short discussion of current problems in the home of Dr. Kital, an Indian resident of London. Chaplin and Gandhi decidedly disagreed about the advantages of the machine age.

GRID LIGHTS TO BE READY SOON

Reflectors are of Latest Type; Poles Taller Than Announced

Fine progress has been made in the installation of the lights at Sweetland field and indications are the job will be completed early next week, according to the Eoff Electrical company which has charge of the project.

The poles on which the lights are to be suspended are taller than first reports indicated. The length of the complete poles is 75 feet and they each project 6 1/2 feet above the ground, farther than was first reported.

The reflectors being installed are a late model which minimized the glare and at the same time give a maximum of light. A specially prepared baked porcelain surface with a mat finish accomplishes this feature. Glaring lights would handicap players, especially on high punts. However the light all comes from the sides of the field and in such a manner that the whole field is illuminated without impairing the vision of the players.

Four posts are set on each side with three reflectors placed on each one. Each reflector contains two 1500 watt lamps which makes a total of 48 such lamps for the field. The amount of kilowatts to be used is 72 which is higher than that of other lighted fields in the state.

Reflectors had been placed on all the north posts and most of the south side. The light globes must still be fitted into place and a transformer built and placed by the electric company. The reflectors are arranged on the posts with one pointing straight forward and those on either side of the center one being placed on slight angles.

Pass Attack Of Bearcats Improving

The Willamette football squad was divided Tuesday night with Coaches Keene, Hauser and Maple taking the A group and Coach Sparks, Ackerman and Deetz instructing the B group which is composed largely of freshmen and others who show promise of developing into the best men next season with the help of more individual attention.

Passing was stressed in Tuesday night's practice and although the ends did not look too brilliant at snagging passes, they at least showed ability for getting into the end zone and shaking their heads. Williams looms as the best passer while Paul, Mahan, Frantz and Cannady also do some of the tossing.

By placing a little more attention to the position of the ball at the time of the pass, the offense of these passers could develop into excellent aerial threat men. Most of them seem to have plenty of power and pick the free men with fair ability.

A couple of new plays were introduced in the heavy session of Monday night. However the linemen indulged in two against one practice where two offensive men attempt to block out one defensive man. Emil Hauser also drilled the men on pulling out from the line and running interference.

Lowell Gribble still has a bad leg which kept him from being in suit, but he was in the game in his "drives" to keep up with the latest developments of practice so he would not get behind too far. Bill Ross is taking on heavier practice now that his leg is in better condition. It is not entirely free from soreness yet, but is improving rapidly now.

Jerry Carpenter will be out of practice for at least two weeks as a result of a shoulder wrench received in Monday night's scrimmage. A blocked man fell on the point of his shoulder, causing the sprain.

LOWLY WHITE SOX CHICAGO CHAMPS

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Donie Bush's White Sox, cellar dwellers of the 1931 American league race, are the baseball champions of Chicago.

Salvaging their only hope of one of the most disappointing campaigns in years, the Bushmen won the city championship today by crushing the Cubs by 7 to 3 in the seventh and final game of their annual battle. It was their first victory in the series since 1926.

The White Sox artillery boomed loudly in the sixth inning when six runs were scored, but the big right hander of Al Thomas was the spark that sent Donie's boys on to victory. Thomas held the third place occupants of the National league to four hits.

Thrills Feature Pacific's 12 to 7 Win Over Columbia With Irish Showing Power

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Driving down the field for 87 yards and a touchdown in ten plays, Pacific university turned the tide in the final quarter of the annual football game with Columbia here tonight and emerged with a 12 to 7 victory.

Columbia scored early in the third period and converted the try for point, Pacific crossed the line just before the end of the same period but failed in the try for point.

Nehl, of Columbia, kicked 55 yards to the Pacific eight-yard line in the third. Weinel, Pacific, punted out of bounds on his own 10-yard line and in three plays Columbia carried the ball to the Pacific one-yard line. Sullivan carried it across and Corcoran converted.

Ben Leonard Wins, But in Empty Style

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Benny Leonard, once king of the lightweight, started the long, rough comeback trail tonight with a straight knockout over the little known Pal Silvers of New York.

Fifteen thousand fans, all that could pack their way into the Queensboro stadium, saw Silvers go down under a flurry of blows in the second round.

Referee Arthur Donovan tolled off the count and at 19 Silvers got to his feet but Donovan waved him to his corner and lifted Leonard's arm in token of victory as the crowd boomed and cheered—mostly the former.

Leonard, with a roll of flesh about his waist, occasionally shot at his feet but Donovan waved him to his corner and lifted Leonard's arm in token of victory as the crowd boomed and cheered—mostly the former.

Two minutes of the second round had passed, the crowd was yelling for action, when Leonard let loose with a flurry of what appeared to be only feather blows and Silvers went to the mat. The timekeeper began the count but Silvers made no move to get to his feet until the count of nine.

SEALS CAPTURE SERIES OPENER

20,000 Disappointed When Shellenback Unable to Oppose Gibson

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—San Francisco's Seals defeated Hollywood's Stars 4 to 2 here tonight to win the first game of the playoff series for the championship of the Pacific coast league. A crowd of 20,000 witnessed the contest.

The huge crowd came out expecting to see another pitching duel between big Sam Gibson of the Seals and Frank Shellenback league leading hurler but were disappointed because the latter was unable to take the mound.

Manager Oscar Vitt announced just before game time that his star twirler had a kink in his neck and arm. Emil Yde, southpaw, handled the pitching duties for the winners of the first half of the split season and allowed only seven hits but the Seals capitalized on two errors and a batting rally in the seventh to pile up a winning total of runs.

Gibson, meanwhile, pitched steadily ball to chalk up his 19th victory of the year. He was in trouble in the second inning when he filled the bases with none out but pulled out of the hole by a strikeout and excellent fielding support.

For end positions Judsony, Tragic, Cave, Grabenhorst and Wattle are on hand. Trade to will handle the rest of the team. The first game as he has not been out yet this season. Giese, Scott, Mason and White are the candidates for tackle positions. Anderson and Conger are outstanding at guard positions and Hastings can also be depended on. He has played that position last season. However he is being used at fullback now.

Hobbs, formerly of Parrish, is playing center for Leslie. Mason and DeLaey are working at half-back positions. Fritz is at fullback and Elliott at quarterback. Fletcher believes the fact that he does not have more men for reserves and to give more competition for places on the team as his men are loath to show the amount of fire necessary to equip a good football team with plenty of fight.

Molalla's Grid Schedule Fixed; 7 Games Listed

MOLALLA, Oct. 5.—The football schedule this year will offer four games at home and three to be played away. It has been so arranged that the home games alternate with the games away. The first game was played Friday with West Linn. The schedule is as follows:

- October 9, Sandy there.
- October 16, Estacada here.
- October 23, Canby there.
- October 30, Dallas here.
- November 6, Silverton there.
- November 20, Grasham here.

LESLIE FACES OPENING GAME

Will Play McMinnville on Friday; Green Eleven Making Progress

Leslie junior high will open its football season Friday and also play the opening junior high football game in Salem for the season, when it meets the McMinnville junior high eleven here.

The McMinnville junior high dropped a game to Parrish junior high last week, but will be favored to win from Leslie since 16 will be the third game of the season and only the first for the inexperienced locals.

Only one thorough scrimmage has been held at Leslie, since the ground there is so hard that it seemed inadvisable. Coach Gurnee Fletcher's men indulged in a scrimmage with a group of alumni players. Other practice has been devoted to signal practice and drill fundamentals.

The players seem to be getting more of a grasp on the idea of the game and look more like football players. However, it needs to be known of the ability of the men until they are tried in a real game. Some of last year's players may or may not have improved noticeably. The line is the principal worry of coach Fletcher as it is the main part of the team. The team will be lighter than last season's.

COUGARS DEPART FOR U. S. C. GAME

PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Coach O. E. Hollingbery, and his Washington State Cougars, departed for Pullman tonight for what they expect to be the toughest football game of the year—with Southern California Saturday.

Last fall they vanquished the Trojans, 7 to 6, at Pullman to remove the greatest obstacle on the path of their march to the coast conference championship.

They came through their game last Saturday with the University of California at Los Angeles without a casualty list and every man was in uniform for the last practice today.

POLICE BEATS ARE INCREASED TO FIVE

To give better police protection to the business district, Frank Minner, chief of police, has increased the number of beatman beats from four to five, transferring two day officers to the night shift, he announced yesterday. He is hoping in this way to frustrate attempted robbery of business houses which is expected to increase during the winter months.

By the new arrangement Officers Charles Kuykendall and William New are changed to the night work. One man is also added to the night relief in the obnoxious districts, the new beats, which run north and south instead of east and west, are as follows: Between State and Ferry streets, between State and Court, between Court and Chemsaketa, one from Chemsaketa north, and the fifth from Ferry south.

Frank Winslow is substituting for Officer Frank Davis, night man, who is ill.

Silverton High Golfers Start Fall Practice

SILVERTON, Oct. 6.—High school golfers, while making no plans for outside games, this autumn, are out for practice Tuesday and Thursday afternoons after school hours, and Saturday mornings. Next spring they plan to take part in the Willamette Golf league as they did this past spring.

Two Sparkling Intersectionals

By HARDIN BURNLEY

"CAT-FISH" SMITH—ACE OF GEORGIA'S ELEVEN, WHICH INVADES THE NORTH AGAINST YALE—WHILE FRITZ CRISLER (Below) LEADS MINNESOTA'S MEN OUT TO THE COAST TO PLAY STANFORD!

MINNESOTA'S thundering herd will try to stamp on Stanford at Palo Alto, Cal., Saturday, while Georgia and Yale (bulldogs both) will tear into each other in the huge bowl-like pit at New Haven, Conn. There are two sparkling intersectionals for football fans over the start of the season!

Last year the Minnesotans and Stanford battled to a 9-0 deadlock. E. O. "Fritz" Crisler is supposed to be bringing a more formidable gang of Gophers to the Coast for Saturday's games. But they will have to be that to do better than last season against Glenn Warner's 1931 charges. Though this intersectional comes early in the schedule, it presents a real gauge of Middle and Far West football. As such it merits critical attention nationally.

For the second successive year Georgia is going north against the hope of beating Yale three times in succession. Two seasons ago the Blue went South to dedicate Georgia's new stadium and the Athens bulldogs chewed the New Haven variety to 45-0 shreds. In 1929 the Crackers (this year's captain, Austin Downes, totin' the ball) ran Yale's initial kickoff for a touchdown, finally winning the game, 18-14.

This Saturday, Georgia will face Old Eli with about the same team which was so brilliant last year. Besides Downes, there is the dazzling "Catfish" Smith, a remarkable end; Jack Roberts, who's battered Blue lines for two years at fullback; Spurgeon Chandler, who harried the ancient bulldog so much at halfback in 1930; the seasoned McWhorter at center; and a dozen other likely stars, including a Sullivan, Kelly, Gilmore and Moran.

The Athenians have had about two weeks' more practice than Capt. Albie Booth's bulldogs, and some even hint they'll take the Yale game almost as a breath of fresh air. The Georgians will play Southern California in a post-season game and they have had contests ahead with North Carolina, N. Y. U., Tulane and Alabama. Perhaps the New Haven engagement will be but a tune-up, but when South battles North—well, it can't miss being a battle between fighting bulldogs in the Yale Bowl this Saturday. . . G-R-R-R-R-R!
