

F. E. JUDD NEW CLUB LEADER

Miss Taylor, Dean Hewitt Talk; Students Show Music Ability

LIBERTY, Oct. 10—The first fall meeting of the Liberty Community club was held Friday night at the community hall. The teachers of the school were introduced to the assemblage and responded with short talks.

Officers elected for the year are: president, F. E. Judd; vice president, A. Myers; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Foster.

Following the business meeting the following program was enjoyed: solo by Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist; piano and violin numbers by Emily and Aleta Bemer; juggling, Clark Wood.

Two Talks Given Entertaining and instructive talks to the adults and children were the talks of Miss Dorothy Taylor of McKinley school on "Child Life in School" and "Travel Experiences in China and Japan" by Dean Hewitt of Willamette university.

After the program refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club will be the second Friday in November.

Appreciate Music Miss Kirk has started teaching voices during her classes in singing and has had some interesting results from her first class in music appreciation. During this period selections from the opera "Lucia" were played and the pupils then were required to record on paper, what they felt the action to be.

While most of the reactions were more or less in accord with the thought behind the music, a number of papers were very unusual in that they recorded action very similar to that of the written story of the opera. This seems to show that the school children here do have a feeling for music.

The school library is now ready to open to the pupils and residents of the community, with borrowing days once a week, Fridays. Besides supplementary books for the children there is a good supply of fiction and reference books.

The number of children in each grade, respectively, is: first, 24; second, 25; third, 15; fourth, 17; fifth, 17; sixth, 20; seventh, 24; eighth, 29; and ninth, 31, totaling 206. Monmouth, Elkins and Lewisville districts comprise the group.

Conjecture Arises Over Stalemate in Community Circles

BETHANY, Oct. 10—Just when the Bethany community club will meet and just who is to be its president is cause for considerable conjecture in the community at present.

At the election some months ago Mrs. O. B. Henjum was elected president and Mrs. O. G. Ehlertson was chosen as vice president. Both flatly refuse to serve and no others were elected to these offices. Neither of the two will call a meeting. Friday night, October 16 is the regular day for meeting to be held, according to Mrs. Henjum.

TO CHOOSE OFFICERS EVANS VALLEY

EVANS VALLEY—The Evans Valley community club will hold its first meeting of the season Friday night, October 16 at the school. Election of officers will be the important business of the evening. A new constitution will also be discussed. A program will be given and lunch will be served.

AMITY, Oct. 10—R. R. Corey of Salem, and the city water superintendent, J. R. Snodgrass, made a leakage survey of wood pipes under the pavement of Amity and also other branch lines in town.

Mr. Corey used a geo-phone on this survey and found the wood pipe line in good condition.

MEN AFTER MILL'S JOBS FILL HOUSES

Former Employes Flocking Back at Word That Woolen Plant Will go

STAYTON, Oct. 10—It is next to impossible to find a vacant house in Stayton. Everything has been filled up for the most part by former employes of the woolen mills who are anticipating a job when the mills will again begin operation in the near future. It is said that the new owners of the mill are planning to employ only local help.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rowe have gone to California, where they will visit relatives for about two weeks. It will be the annual vacation for Mr. Rowe, who is manager of the Mt. States Power company here.

Store Remodeled One hardly knows the Pooler & Klecker store here now since so many improvements have been made. A new front has been put in, new shelving and an up-to-date arrangement for handling fresh fruit and vegetables. The store is considerably lighter since the remodeling has been completed. The work was done by Jos. Fisher and Frank Silhavy. The store has made a change in policy, adopting the cash system only and delivering only in quantities.

Gerald and LaVene Marking are here staying at the home of their uncle, Charles Street. Gerald has entered the Stayton school. LaVene will not be able to attend school for some time, owing to the condition of her eyes. When but a small girl she was hit in the eye by a BB shot. This past summer she has been under the care of specialists and has already had one or more operations on the eye.

Eye Not Removed It was at first thought necessary to remove the eye, and word was received here that this had been done. This was not true however. An operation was performed and she will be obliged to have one and possibly more before her sight will be restored. Her mother is ill at the tubercular hospital and unable to be with her.

Mrs. J. W. Mayo attended a bridge luncheon at the home of Lebanon friends Thursday and her sister, Mrs. Earl S. Day, of Gold Hill, who had been visiting in Lebanon returned home with her. In compliment to Mrs. Day, Mrs. Mayo entertained with a bridge party at her home on Saturday afternoon.

AURORA, Oct. 10—Miss Veva Garrette of Aurora, a student of Pacific college, Newberg, has been elected vice president of the sophomore class. She also was chosen to head a gift committee to investigate the matter of a gift to the college. Veva has always held a splendid scholastic record and has been prominent in school activities.

ENDOWMENT GAIN AIDS WILLAMETTE

The larger endowment fund at Willamette which was gained last year, has been and is being a help to the university, according to President Carl G. Loney.

However the effect of the extra money has not made material changes inasmuch as it is difficult to find good safe investments for all of the money. Ordinarily it would be an easy matter to place all of this amount in safe securities, but it is not being grabbed up so readily now.

It could be easily plunged into risky investments, but this is against the policy of the university. However the increased endowment is helping now and will continue to be of aid.

Russels Are Home From Three-Week Visit in Montana

MISSION BOTTOM, Oct. 10—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Russell have returned from a three weeks' stay in Montana where they visited with relatives.

Balms of hope is now the order of the day at the Russell farm. Russell reports having harvested one of the heaviest crops grown in years on his 18-acre hop yard in Mission Bottom.

Mrs. Lela Townsend has moved to Salem where she will remain during the winter months. She visited Thursday at the home of her son Paul Townsend in Mission Bottom.

Ocean Caught SALMON

Sounds fishy, the ocean catchin' salmon, but of course we mean they were caught in the ocean—and with so many fish to choose from we only selected the nicest ones for our customers. We could do that, of course, when there were so many of 'em swimmin' around (so many fish, we mean, not customers) out there where the water is so clear and cold these frosty mornin's.

You know, of course, that salmon caught way out in the ocean are a much firmer fish than one caught up in the hills back of the ocean, or maybe it's the front of the ocean—but that doesn't make any difference whether it's the front or back so long as these fish are the nicest to come to the Market since this big place was opened (meanin' the Market)—for as much as we'd like to claim credit for openin' up the ocean, we fear that that would be too much even for the Wall Street boys to claim.

Suffice it to Say, However That 7c per lb.

is about as little as the fish could be expected to make the trip for—even if they are comin' to the finest market this side of tidewater. 'As this is the first trip these fish have ever made to Salem, we expect a nice crowd out to meet 'em—the niceness of course will be judged by the number of folks, and... Oh, thunderation! Ocean-caught salmon, 7c per pound. That's all there is to it, so come and get 'em Monday A. M.
