Students Receiving Instruction About Traffic Regulation

WOODBURN, Oct. 15 .- A program through which every student receives instruction concerning the essential traffic rules in force in Oregon, has been worked out at Woodburn high school. Members of the commercial law class, which is taught by P .E. Rohner, have made a careful study of the Oregon traffic code and picked out the most important points and those which they believe every person should know.

The most important points of the laws, such as license requirements, right-of-ways, lighting regulations, signals, and rules for pedestrians, were tabulated and givon to the various teachers. The rules were taught the students during the home room period.

Spaulding to Talk Before Commercial Body at Woodburn

WOODBURN, Oct. 15-Charles K. Spaulding, a member of the state highway commission and a Salem business man, has consented to address the Woodburn chamber of commerce Wednesday night, October 21. Dr. Gerald B. Smith, president of the Woodburn chamber of commerce. met with the highway committee recently concerning the program of widening the Pacific highway. Definite arrangements on time and place of Wednesday's meeting have not been completed, although it will probably be held in the St. Luke's community hall. Lyman Shorey and John P. Hunt are on the committee for arrangements.
