COMPLETE RECORDS OF PUPILS PLANNED

Cumulative Report to Have Bearing on 8th Grade Work in Future

Preparation of cumulative records which are to be kept for every school child in the county has been begun by Mrs. Mary Falkerson, county superintendent, this week, records for children being kept at the courthouse here when the various schools do not have ample facilities with which to handle the work.

The form being used by the county superintendent is one prepared by a committee of educational workers in the county this summer. The pupils' complete record is to be kept through the eight elementary grades and is to furnish a basis for improving his work, transferring pupils to other schools and giving a complete check at any time of the exhibited ability of the student.

The record will play an important part this year and in succeeding years in the eighth grade work since the formal eighth grade examinations heretofore furnished by the state will not be used. In addition to a place for recording grades, the blanks on which Mrs. Falkerson is working, provide room to record results of standard achievement tests which the teacher will give. These tests will furnish an insight to the teacher on the type of work the student is doing and will furnish the county superintendent's office with accurate and impartial information on the accomplishment of various schools throughout the county.

A provision is also being made for recording a mental test record. Personal data about each student will be recorded on the records. Questions asked of the teacher reporting include: How does the student's manner and appearance affect others? Does he need constant prodding or does he go ahead with his work without being told? Does he get others to do what he wishes? How does he control his emotions? Has he a program with definite purposes in terms of which he directs his time and energy? A variety of indicated responses are printed for use of the recorder. Among them are "tolerated by others," "well liked by others," "a neat occasional prodding," "seeks and sets out for himself additional tasks," "satisfied to have others take the lead," "sometimes leads in important affairs," "unresponsive, apathetic," "usually well balanced," "aimless trifler," "aims just to get by," "directs energies effectively with fairly definite program."

OPERATIC DIVA AT NINETEEN

Mrs. MARTINEIRA and Miss SERAFINA DI LEO. - SERAFINA IN THE KITCHEN. Three years ago Serafina Di Leo was just one of many struggling young operatic students; now while still in Italy with a contract with the Chicago Civic Opera in her pocket and the distinction of being the only American girl ever to take a leading role at La Scala, Milan's famed opera house. All because Fate took her to the home of the great tenor, Giovanni Martinelli, who immediately recognized her vocal gift. Besides being a famous dramatic soprano, the star is a very un-affected and capable young person, just as apt to burst into a jazz hit as sing an aria, and well able to hold her own in the culinary art.

Of this $7500 consists of real property including 144 acres in farm land in the county and $1574 of personal property. Executors of the estate are Walter Taylor and Ada Steelhammer. CATHOLICS OUTLINE BUILDING PROGRAM

STAYTON, Oct. 27—At a meeting in which practically every Catholic family of the section was represented plans were made for an extensive building program. The first building of the group, all of which will be faced brick, will be a residence for the pastor. This is said to cost in the neighborhood of $4000. The Goeders house will be moved to other lots and the parish house built on this site. Mrs. Marie Pietrok, who owned two lots north of the Goeders lots donated these to the parish at the meeting.

This gives the whole block to the church, since Mrs. Goeders recently gave her lots and the church already owned the four lots on the east side of the block. The old house on the northeast corner of the block will be torn down, and a brick house built there as a residence for the sisters. As soon as possible a fine new brick church will be built, just across the street, west of the present church. The present church will be used as a parish hall. There are five acres in the plot where the church and parochial school now stand.

A jury trial of the case of Orey Coffey vs. Phil Gosser occurred nearly three hours in Justice of the Peace Miller Hayden's court yesterday afternoon. Coffey sought to collect $60 alleged due for rent. The jury awarded him $1 and costs.

In the small claims court, J. W. Keller suit to collect $18 from S. O. Kim for alleged damages to livestock was tried, the judge allowing plaintiff judgment and costs.
