

Local News Briefs

False alarm repeated—The false alarm bugaboo which almost daily brings city firemen on the run to their trucks yesterday was repeated twice in a row and by the same person, firemen report. Many persons wishing to furnish information with the department on business other than reporting fires dial 2144, the number which rings the alarm bell. Others dial the number by mistake. Firemen wish it known that the correct number for calling the department on other matters than alarms is 5445.

Vandals fined—Three of the seven youths who were arrested Saturday night on charges of pulling up street signs, yesterday were arraigned in municipal court and fined $2.50 each. They were: Fred Miles, 1549 Bellevue street; Meola Comstock, 543 South 17th street; and Justin Comstock 1710 Trade street. The other four are expected to answer the charges in court today. They include: Jack Ewert, municipal court report; James Covarick, 1860 South 18th street; George Jackson, route three, and Marvin Rench, route nine.

Russ Smith, Center and Church, for the bargains.

Five Permits Issued—Five building permits were issued during the first two days of the week, for a total estimated cost of $426.60. They included: R. S. Crowder, alter dwelling at 833 Shipping street, $35; R. S. Kennedy, erect garage at 348 South 18th street, $75; Mrs. H. M. Prince, erect garage at 2335 North Fifth street, $50; J. E. Luce, re-roof dwelling at 280 North 18th street, $254; W. S. Strong, re-roof dwelling at 955 North Winter street, $12.60.

Bridge Work Delayed—Construction of the new wooden bridge on South Capitol street between Oak and Bellevue streets still is being delayed because the necessary materials have not yet arrived. Hugh Rogers, city engineer, yesterday said. The coming rainy weather will not hinder the work, however, according to the engineer, rather it will facilitate driving of the piling.

Presbyterian Rummage Sale Wed., Thurs., Friday, 512 State St.

Olympics Question Coming—Members of the Y. M. C. A. physical department committee of the board of directors this noon will meet at the Spa to consider among other things the matter of accepting or rejecting the Olympic games organization's invitation to the Salem Y volleyball team to demonstrate the game at the Olympiad in Los Angeles next summer.

Fewer transients here—The number of transients taking advantage of the quarters on the third floor of the city hall has become fewer with the advent of the clear weather. The place was almost deserted yesterday afternoon, with only four men there. The rush comes after the midnight freight trains arrive. From 20 to 30 men have been sleeping at the "flophouse." The men in charge report that supplies of food are coming in satisfactorily.

Trespass notices printed on canvas 15c, 2 for 25c, Statesman office.

Violates vehicle law—Albert Frank pleaded guilty to violation of Oregon laws for 1931, chapter 118, sec. 55-1205, all of which means that he operated an automobile for hire without first complying with the law in regard to operating such cars. A fine of $2 and costs was imposed by Miller Hayden, justice of the peace in justice court Tuesday which Frank paid.

Handstand Being Repaired—Although the handstand in Marion square has not been used for over a decade, it is now being repaired so as to give a presentable appearance. Under the direction of Frank Kluck, superintendent of city parks, the structure will be re-roofed, a new railing put on and he painted.

Lobby Program November 13—The first of the season's Y. M. C. A. lobby programs will be held on Friday night, November 13, according to C. A. Kells, general secretary. A committee now is arranging the series of entertainments for the winter. These programs are open to the public.

Scout Council Tonight—The council of Cascade area, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its first regular business meeting since June tonight at the chamber of commerce building. A committee to nominate new officers will be selected and financial and camp reports read.

Dance Mellowmood Wed. 25c.

Debaters Try Out Today—Aspiring debaters at the high school this afternoon after classes will try out for positions on the interschool debate squads. Each student trying out will be required to give a two-minute speech on some phase of unemployment insurance.

Larceny Charged—Wednesday at 10 o'clock Harold Jones will come before Judge Miller Hayden in justice court for a hearing on a charge of larceny of an automobile.

Released—Making good the check and paying costs brought release to Shirley Duncan in justice court Tuesday after he had been arrested on a bad check charge.

Births

Stryker—To Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Jay Stryker of Independence, a girl, Jean Ellen, born in this city on November 1.

SKIPWORTH UPHOLD BY SUPREME COURT

Finds Damages not Excess; Appeal of Case From Marion Dismissed

Decree of Judge G. F. Skipworth in the Benton county court in awarding damages to Jennie Nolen in a suit against the Corvallis Transit company was approved by the state supreme court yesterday.

The suit originated in June, 1928, when an automobile driven by the plaintiff collided with a bus operated by the defendant corporation. Mrs. Nolen alleged that she suffered permanent injuries. "It was suggested that the verdict of the lower court was excessive," the supreme court opinion read. "The plaintiff is a minister of the gospel, and suffered injury to the lower part of her forehead which resulted in a permanent scar. The testimony was conflicting as to the extent of the injury. The supreme court cannot say as a matter of law that the verdict was excessive."

Chief Justice Bean, in an opinion of less than 100 words, joined in the dissenting opinion of Justice Belt. He stated that the case involving Ben Boloff of Portland, who is under 10 years penitentiary sentence for alleged communist party activities. The predominant opinion, written by Justice Rossman, affirmed the decree of the Multnomah county circuit court, which found Boloff guilty of criminal syndicalism. Justice Rand also dissented. F. N. Derby, trustee in bankruptcy for Bert Townsend and Violet Townsend, bankrupt, W. L. Newton and C. L. McCaully, appellants, appeal from Marion county. Appeal dismissed in opinion by Chief Justice Bean.

Booth and Son Are Unhurt in Highway Crash

R. A. Booth, former state highway commissioner and prominent trustee of Willamette university, was involved along with his son, Roy Booth, both of Eugene, in a minor auto accident near Salem last Tuesday afternoon at the sheriff's office revealed.

Booth and his son, the latter driving, were going south on the Pacific highway six miles north of Salem. Their car collided with one driven by J. B. McElbert, route three, Salem. The Booth car was damaged, a fender being bent, a wheel broken and running caps on the wheels ruined, but none of the occupants of the cars were injured.

Booth reported the mishap as he proceeded south.

Two Couples Are Licensed to Wed

Two marriage licenses were issued yesterday by Harlan Judd, deputy county clerk.

H. E. King, legal age, secured permit to wed Maude Agnes Gordon, legal age. For both parties to live in Silverton, the marriage will be the second altar visit. George E. Long, 45, Turner lumberman, secured a license to marry Bertha Thomas, 35, 395 South 17th street, Salem.

Bad News Received—Rev. B. E. Parker and his family have received word that their oldest daughter's two year old son fell into hot ashes and burned his hands and neck, rendering his condition critical. Blood transfusions have been resorted to in an effort to save the life of the child. Mrs. Evans now lives in Spokane. Blood transfusions died Ted Parker, son of the Parkers, over a low period at the close of the summer and it is hoped that that they will be successful in the case of the baby.

Ted Parker Improves—Ted Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rev. B. E. Parker, has been confined to home for a number of weeks following a stay at the Salem general hospital, but is improving and hopes to witness the Willamette-Pacific football game Friday night. Ted attended Willamette university last year and is interested in sports. Should rainy weather prevail he may see the game from Graduate Manager Sparks' office in the gymnasium.

Sociology Classes Grow—Almost twice as many Willamette university students are taking sociology this year as were enrolled last year, states Prof. S. B. Laughlin, head of the department of Sociology. Elementary sociology is required for a large number of courses of study, bringing the number enrolled now to 98. A larger number of men are majoring in sociology now than women at Willamette.

Estate $6600—A value of $6600 has been placed on the estate left by Mary E. Halley, deceased, according to an appraisal handed down in probate court yesterday. Lon Wain is executor of the will of the deceased. Of the property left, $3500 is real and $3100 is personal. Frank Wrightman, D. C. Minto and L. P. Aldrich appraised the property.

Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

STATE employees will be called upon shortly to contribute more than $10,000 a month for the next five months toward the relief of the unemployed. If present plans are put into effect, the plan is of course optional, but it is a suggestion coming from the governor, and detailed plans will be worked out Friday.

With a state payroll of about $300,000 a month, it was believed the one day's contribution would be a big factor in aiding those who are in need because of the unemployment situation. This would apply to the governor and all elective officials on down. There will be some exemptions as well in the lower pay divisions.

Hearty cooperation from virtually all employees is anticipated in relief of the unemployed. George A. White said he believed it a fine plan, as did also C. E. Stricklin, state engineer. Other officials have also agreed to aid in working out the proposal. The plan was discussed Tuesday noon by board of control members and the executive staff.

Henry Hanzen, in a series of reports to the governor concerning state institutions, has announced that three of them will return a total of about a quarter million dollars to the general fund at the close of the present biennium. This, Hanzen says, is in excess of the 10 per cent saving urged by the governor.

The state hospital for the insane was to return about $100,000, the report stated, with the state institutions for the feeble-minded expects to return about $85,000. The state penitentiary is the third institution mentioned, with a return of about $60,000. Others are also expected to report a saving.

Former Governor Os West, who dropped into the press room yesterday complaining he arrived too late to bid on Tusko, said newspapermen take themselves too seriously these days, and that not enough humor appears in print. What he probably refers to is that not enough political wise-cracks are forthcoming.

But leave it to Os West to inject some humor into any conversation. He suggested that the state should either purchase the elephant as the first step toward municipal ownership, or keep him to eat up the surplus hay. He also said that potential power is contained in the elephant, and that farmers would soon get a better price for their hay if he remains.

Speaking of hard times, West reports that things are so bad that in the middle west the Mississippi river has decreased its flow by three days a week, and that the only wages that haven't been reduced are the wages of sin. It was also heard around the stanchion that "four more years of Hoover, and Ghandi would be the best dressed man in America."

But that didn't sell the elephant, and Tusko remains tied to his place in the barn without an owner. Another attempt to sell him will be made Thursday, when any reasonable bid will be accepted. Surely Tusko has some friend somewhere who will take care of him. It was indicated he may be sold and then executed.

The crowd at the state fairgrounds yesterday to watch the elephant be sold were sympathetic, their feelings all being with the huge animal. An uproar is expected if Tusko is condemned to death. But the highest cash bid yesterday was $12, although several others around $150 were being considered.

Brigadier Thomas E. Rilea said yesterday the war department had solved another mystery. So some ago a request came from Colonel Mildred Adams, a sergeant, that he be promoted to second lieutenant. Why a colonel was a sergeant and wanted the rank of second lieutenant appeared too much, until it was discovered the man's first name was "Colonel." The man's first name was "Colonel."

Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner's fine bouquet of chrysanthemums were presented to Miss Walton, the governor's secretary the other day by the press. Whether there is any connection or not is not determined, but yesterday the press was presented with a box of cigars from the executive office. Thanks a lot, it has been a long time the cigars have come this way.

Dry Vote Still In Ascendancy Os West Avers

The democratic party had better quit listening to men like Cermak, mayor of Chicago who wants a party wringing wet. Instead the demos have their best opportunity for victory if they listen to the rural and prohibition areas. Such is the view of Oswald West, former governor of Oregon and a leader in the democratic party in the state. West was in Salem on business yesterday.

West commented that he thought Roosevelt was losing some ground and that Al Smith might yet be a candidate for democratic honors.

The former governor ventured the opinion that recent statements of the opinion that Holman would and will be a candidate for the governorship, "when and if conditions make it possible."

Sanders Service Slated Thursday Afternoon, 1:30

ASK CLARIFYING OF MARKET ROAD LAW

County Courts not Certain of Meaning; Carson To Write Opinion

Clarification of the 1931 legislative enactment changing existing laws relating to market and secondary roads was asked yesterday by the county court of District Attorney John Carson.

Confusion exists in the minds of the Marion county court as well as other county courts over the exact meaning of the law. The confusion has been augmented by recent letters received from J. H. Scott, state market road engineer, who likewise seems somewhat vague as to the meaning of the statute. Scott's letter indicates that all attorneys agree that save for the repeal of the one-mill direct state tax for market road, the law now stands as it did before the 1931 session. Scott does observe in his recent statement to the courts that some of the existing county market roads are to be taken over as secondary market roads by the state and maintenance of them is to go on under county supervision. The state is to continue its support of county market roads and the funds will come out of moneys received from the gas tax and auto licenses rather than from direct tax on property.

ROAD MATTERS UP FOR COURT ACTION

HILL GIVES THREE DEFAULT DIVORCES

Judge Gale S. Hill, sitting in equity court here yesterday, handed down three default decrees of divorce, two going to husbands and one to a wife. None of the other parties to the litigation, aside those receiving the decrees, appeared in court.

Dorothy Speaker who married Robert E. Speaker February 12, 1927, declared her husband drunk to excess, abused her and finally left her September 28. She received custody of a minor child and under court order will receive $25 a month support money from her former husband.

Lee W. McCumber in receiving a divorce from his wife, claimed that she proved unfaithful to him on numerous occasions. A minor child was placed by the court in McCumber's custody. The couple married December 27, 1922.

Everett Knight secured a divorce from Alva Knight to whom she was married in Sacramento, Calif., August 16, 1928. He told the judge his wife deserted him in June, 1928.

A group of roads for which petitioners are asking official county court recognition as designated county highways are to be considered today by the county court. Roads approved by the viewers will be up on first hearing. Other roads will probably be referred to the viewers for a later report. Third consideration and final disposition on the roads already approved will come in court Friday.

Roads approved by the viewers includes road in the Salem to Geer territory, a road in the Gervais district petitioned by Wendell Kabut and others and a road leading to the Champeog cemetery petitioned by Edvard Novak and others.

Roads up for first hearing include one in the Gervais-Woodburn country and petitioned for by Charles J. Dean, one leading into Astoria and petitioned for by Frank Hetmar and one in district 14, Silver Falls area petitioned for by Charles A. Barnes.
