Clubs Keep Social Interest Lively This Week

Everybody is going some place each day of the week and although nothing is very exciting because the events being club meetings are more or less routine events yet these meetings of which there are so many this week do keep social interest high and form a very happy informal contact, one which in the case of many clubs of the capital city, has been carried on from year to year, over a long period.

Mrs. Harry Hawkins started off the week with her club meeting at her home for an afternoon of cards. Members of this group are Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr., Mrs. W. Connell Dyer, Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. Evelyn Kay, Mrs. Prince Byrd, Mrs. John H. Carson, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. T. A. Roberts, Mrs. Keith Powell, Mrs. Arthur Rahn, Mrs. Max Hofer, and Mrs. H. H. Haines.

Mrs. John L. Rand entertained members of the Round-Up club at her home Tuesday. In addition to the regular members, Mrs. Percy Kelley and Mrs. Frank Bowersox were special guests. Mrs. Bowersox held high score for guests and Mrs. T. B. Kay held the winning score for club members. Mrs. Joseph Albert will be hostess for a one o'clock luncheon and afternoon of bridge for the club November 17 at her home.

Plety Hill club will meet Thursday with Mrs. Seymour Jones and Mrs. John Rand as hostesses at the Rand home.

Mrs. A. L. Brown will entertain the Priscilla club Thursday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr. will be hostess to members of the Thursday card club at her home on Fairmount hill.

Mrs. George A. White will entertain members of the O. T. club at her home Friday afternoon. And going over into the next week will be the Monday night meeting of the Merry Go Round club with Mrs. Max Bures as hostess.

Dr. and Mrs. John Lewis of Lewiston, Idaho, were weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. George Lewis Sunday. Dinner guests at the Lewis home to greet the visitors were Mrs. Anna Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Minor Lewis and Oscar Lewis of Anacortes, Wash.

Rickey — The Ralph Miller home was the scene of a very pleasant affair Friday night when the family entertained with a Halloween party. Games were enjoyed until a late hour when refreshments were served.

The guests included: June Armstrong, Jean Rogers, Irma Walker, Hazel Cruger, G. Hagen, Bob Kregg, Phil Killian, A. De-Monge.

The organization of a glee club of mixed voices to meet every Friday during the school year, was perfected at Salem high school yesterday. Membership in the club was obtained through vocal try-outs, and 60 were finally selected from a group of 119 aspirants. Lack of a small auditorium forced the limit on the membership.

The following officers were elected: President, Ernest Savoy, vice-president, Jack Bush; secretary-treasurer, Mina Turner; librarian, Homer Welly; advisor and director, Lena Belle Tartar.

The Rebekah lodge enjoyed an interesting program presented by the F. L. club of the lodge Monday night in the I. O. O. F. hall. Those who took part are little Marjorie Sawyer, Mrs. Laura B. Noyes, Mrs. Clara Blum, and a play was given the cast of which were Myrtle McClay, Dorothy Franks, Lulu McClay, and Adaline Seymour. Mrs. Evelyn Naderman coached the play. The committee in charge was Mildred Martin, Deena Hart and Evelyn Heseaman.

Accessories to Costumes Are Supreme Criteria of Taste

Hand Sewn Pull-ons Smart and Practical; Bags for Street Wear Larger This Year

By ORMA L. MCINTYRE

Your accessories tell a lot more about you sometimes than you care to have the public know. They can certainly make or ruin the effect of the smartest costume, for they are the supreme criteria of your taste.

Soon after informal evening wear, hand sewn pull-ons are very smart in the pignik and calskin, and very practical too, for they wear like iron. These come in neutral shades that harmonize with almost every shade of outfit. For formal wear, soon an informal evening wear, the smart lady has suede or glace with elaborate back stitching on the long gauntlet, or the more simple button glove of six-button length.

Bags for street wear are larger than they have been for several years. Some of them are oblong with real emphasis on the "long" part of them, and others are deeper than they are wide. Antelope, calf, pincel, alligator and lizard are popular leathers and correlate closely with the popular kinds of leathers for street shoes.

For the more dress-up bags you find suede used a great deal and sometimes velvet, and often they are stitched to harmonize with the stitching on the gloves. (Really this ensemble idea has no limit). Many of the bags have either a chain or cord handle, another evidence of the late nineteenth or early twentieth century influence.

Jewelry is very elaborate this fall, and followed one of three trends either the Victorian, French Colonial, or Persian. The French Colonial influence shows in the popularity of yellow gold, often used alone. It is quite appropriate for informal wear, and in some cases for sport.

Some of the French jewelers are using claws and teeth of wild animals set in the yellow gold, so if you don't mind being taken for a member of some lodge, you might like that kind of jewelry.

There is also a revival of the charm bracelet. Three strands of rubies, pearls and emeralds are bound together with ruby drops at intervals. Of course the stones worn are either imitation or real depending on the pocketbook.

Nominating Group Is Named by Mothers

The nominating committee to present the list of officers to be voted upon at the December 1 election for the Salem chapter of the American War Mothers met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Elliott, Mrs. Minnie Humphrey and Mrs. Mary Watson.

The next meeting will be a social occasion and at that time Mrs. Mary Mohr and Mrs. Amanda Mollenkop, gold star mothers who made the pilgrimage to France this summer, will be guests of honor.

Reports were continued from the national convention by delegates who attended it in Long Beach, Cal., this past month.

Plans were also made for the local chapter's part in the work of receiving and entertaining members of the state convention for the Oregon chapters of War Mothers which will convene in Salem this Thursday and Friday.

Travelers Return To Salem

Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith, and her mother, Mrs. W. D. Smith, left Salem October 2 for an eastern trip and returned from this trip Saturday evening, October 31.

During their visit in the east visits were made to Ray Smith, son of Mrs. W. D. Smith, who is in Chicago undergoing treatment for a disease here, and whom they report as making very satisfactory progress. They visited Mr. Smith as they were enroute to and from Montclair, New Jersey, where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Willifred Walton and three months ago, Ralph Willifred Jr. Mrs. Walton is a daughter of Mrs. W. D. Smith.

Many social functions, trips and other pleasant events made the far eastern visit a delight. The return to Oregon was made by way of New Orleans and California. At Santa Ana, Cal., the travelers visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Smith and after several days of entertainment there they came home to Oregon and Salem which is a very excellent place to come home to according to Miss Smith.

Mrs. Ann Jones Visits Auxiliary

A report of the recent Detroit convention for the American Legion and its auxiliary was given in interesting manner by Mrs. Ann Jones, first district president of the Oregon American Legion auxiliary, Monday night in the regular business and social meeting of the auxiliary. Mrs. Jones is of Portland and came as a surprise visitor to the local auxiliary meeting Monday. An outline was also given of the work which is to be accomplished by the auxiliary in Oregon this winter.

Several new members were received into the unit Monday night as a result of the membership drive now being sponsored by the auxiliary. Satisfactory reports as to the progress of the drive were given at the Monday night meeting.

An informal social hour concluded the business meeting.

Carl Allports Are Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Allport entertained Saturday evening at their home with a Halloween party to celebrate Mrs. Allport's birthday anniversary.

Autumn leaves and Halloween motifs decorated the rooms where four tables of cards were enjoyed.

Mrs. Leon Hansen and Mr. Junior Eckley won high score awards.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allport were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Medley, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lorenz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Eckley.

Mrs. Louie Anderson will leave Thursday for Cold Springs, N. Y., where she will join Mr. Anderson. Mrs. Anderson came to Salem to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Speer. As a traveling companion Mrs. Anderson will have her seven weeks' old daughter, Louise Eleanor, who will meet her father for the first time with her arrival in New York city. Mrs. Anderson and daughter will take the Northern Pacific and New York Central railroads in her journey to the east.

The Nebraska picnic was held Sunday at the home of L. S. Harvey. Dinner was enjoyed by about 45 after which an interesting program was enjoyed. The principle features were songs by Billie Utley, harmonica numbers by Robert Smith, also an interesting clipping of pioneer life in Nebraska was read by Mrs. Johanson.

Large "Friendly" Dinner at Church

The first of a series of eight monthly dinners planned by members of the First Methodist church was given Monday night in the church parlors with covers placed for about 300 people. These dinner meetings have been planned to promote a feeling of friendliness and fellowship among the church members. Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Emmons were in charge of the Monday night dinner.

This meeting marked the first appearance of the Lausanna Hall orchestra under the leadership of Miss Percie Miles. Two numbers were given and enthusiastically received. Miss Eugenie Savage gave a group of piano solos.

The appearance of Miss Savage was one of the last to be made by her in Salem for some time as she leaves for Hwa Nan college, in the province of Soochow, China, within a few days. Here she will be director of music.

Miss Velma Travis, Miss Lois Wilkes and Miss Virginia Durkee also gave pleasing program numbers.

Congressman W. C. Hawley was the speaker of the occasion. The congressman mentioned in speaking that he had been a member of the First church for 49 years. He and Mrs. Hawley were special guests Monday night in compliment to them before they leave for Washington, D. C. Friday. Miss Savage was the other guest of honor.

Prof. Cameron Marshall, head of the music department in Willamette university, concluded the program with an illustrated solo "The Holy City." He sketched the scenes in chalk as he sang.

Two Large Parties Events of Today

Mrs. T. A. Livesley will be hostess this afternoon for luncheon followed by several hours of contract bridge at her home on Fairmount hill.

Mrs. Carl Emmons will also be hostess today for a bridge tea at her home. Cards will be in play at five tables this afternoon. Mrs. Kenneth Waters will assist Mrs. Emmons.

Progressive Party is Merry Affair

One of the delightful Halloween affairs was a progressive party Saturday night. Miss Doris Unruh entertained first with a dinner party at 6:30 o'clock. From the dinner the party progressed to the home of Miss Helen Johnson where cards and dancing were enjoyed. Refreshments were served just before the group left for Miss Helen Putman's where music, dancing and refreshments took place. Then the group went to the home of Miss Helen Lytle where was enjoyed a treasure hunt followed by dancing and refreshments.

Those present were the Misses Cathryne Eaton, Margaret Smart, Margery Johnson, Nellie Carter, Madeline Southamway, Doris Unruh, Helen Lytle, Helen Putman, Helen Johnson and the Messrs. Louis Stutt, Wayne Daughton, Laurence Lloyd, Don Ellis, Charles Barclay, Bob Hulst, Luther Daughton, W. A. Mills, Neal Carter and Johnnie Evans.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

The beautiful styling of this negligee assures you of its grace and becomingness. The laced collar and gathered flounce at the hemline are unusually attractive. The garment fastens at one side with a pert bow. For every day wear we suggest wool, dimity, challis or rayon. For very best, or as a delightful gift, taffeta, heavy georgette, satin or crepe de chine would be lovely.

Pattern 2215 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 5/8 yards of 39-inch fabric. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given. No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

The new fall catalog is now ready. It features the newest in afternoon, sports and house dresses, lingerie pajamas and "kidie" clothes. Also delightful gift suggestions in accessories and transfer patterns. Catalog with pattern, twenty-five cents. Address all mail and orders to The Statesman Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.
