

Armistice Day

JUST completed is the state convention of American War Mothers which attracted the attention of a large group of those matrons who know in full the meaning of Armistice day. Mothers they were who sat Thursday and Friday in the Masonic temple in serious deliberation of what they could do to assist in the problems which are inviting the attention of the United States today; of problems which come so directly from those days out of which was created Armistice day, the American War Mothers, and any number of other organizations participated in by women as well as by men.

Gray haired mothers they were who met in mutual sympathy of the day to be celebrated Wednesday with much excitement in general, and in particular with solemn thought.

In memory society women will recall the excitement of those pre-armistice days of entertaining and then will recall with most of the men gone how all settled down to knit and sew and work in Red Cross, canteen, Y. M. C. A. and all the other niches into which a woman could fit in those difficult times.

Thoughts of clothes and formal parties flitted away in presence of the awesome facts of war, and it is only recently after 13 long years that the frills and foibles of social life have dared to raise their heads and be received.

In compliment to the mothers of the land who look back with blended sympathy on the day 13 years ago when emotion ran wild with the news that once again the world was at peace we present a group of active War Mothers.

Mrs. Emelie Hendricks, center, was the first American War Mother president of the Oregon organization. She was appointed by Gov. Withycombe in 1917 and served as president for several years before a charter was granted the chapter. Mrs. Hendricks has also served as national vice president.

Mrs. Linnie Lee, newly elected vice president of the state organization and president of the local War Mothers, Mrs. Mabel Lockwood, newly elected president, and Mrs. Mark Skiff, retiring president of the state organization are the other members of the group.

Jubilee Pageant is Beautiful Event

Girl Reserve members and officials as well as Y. W. C. A. officials and board members have let down a bit this week following the completion of the very beautiful "golden jubilee" pageant which was given by the organizations Friday night in the First Methodist church.

Colorful and splendidly costumed, the presentation of the past 50 years of activities on the part of the Girl Reserves, the pageant of the Reserves and the ideals which they hope to materialize for the future all was accomplished in superior fashion under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Gallaher and the coach, Mrs. Helen Kutch.

The program proved very educational. Mrs. C. A. Park gave the organization history of the Y. W. C. A. in Oregon and Miss Healy gave the history of its formation in Salem. Silverton with its advisory board, consisting of about 50 girls presented the work which is accomplished by the present day Girl Reserves. Another large group of high school girls presented the ideals of the future for the Reserves.

Mrs. Jean Rann was the reader and gave an excellent background for the acting together with the music presented by grade school reserves.

The climax of the party was the lighting of the three tier birthday cake which sat in state in the middle of the church. It was lighted by Mrs. W. C. A. Gilchrist, president of the executive board of the Y. W. C. A. and was carried out by four Reserves. After being cut it was served to the guests present.

The pageant will be repeated at its unusual interest and excellent accomplishment.

The Y. W. C. A. will start the week with a board meeting Tuesday at 10 o'clock followed by a luncheon. Mrs. William McGilchrist will preside.

Monday Mrs. Gallaher will meet Girl Reserve advisors in the Y. W. C. A. rooms of Willamette university at 3 o'clock.

Among the Reserves' meetings planned is that of Leslie school which will meet after school with Miss Minnie Shrode. "Smoke printing" will be taken up as a craft work.

Mrs. Gallaher will meet with the Parish 7th grade Reserves Tuesday to plan for a new project.

Joint Installation To Be Observed On Monday

The ninth grade of this school will meet Thursday and the 8th grade Friday.

High school Reserves will meet Thursday with Helen Brethaupt. Special work is being planned by them.

Kantner Has Program Ready

A program toward which the musical public of Salem is looking forward to with keen relish is the Christmas MacDowell chorus presentation December 1.

The chorus is working on a group of beautiful numbers under the direction of Miss Lena Belle Tartar. The final number will be "The Holy City" with Jean Kantner, Seattle baritone soloist, singing with the chorus. This number alone seems to promise enough to look forward to with anticipation.

Jean Kantner will be the assisting artist for this program. He will be remembered by many Salem people as a boy soloist of unusual and remarkable ability. He was soloist with a symphony orchestra at the age of nine years and has kept on toward an unusually successful goal of concert artist. He will leave this spring for study in Europe.

Mr. Kantner is the grandson of W. C. Kantner of Salem and the son of Clifford W. Kantner, also well known in Salem. Many will remember the programs upon which father and son appeared in joint concert work.

Mr. Kantner's voice has been commented upon as having "memorable texture". He will present a program for the MacDowell club that will range from ditties to opera arias.

The program will be given in the Grand theatre.

Mrs. Lewis Ruddle will preside.

About 60 members of the senior class of Willamette university enjoyed an informal party at Cresto cottage Friday night following the Willamette-Pacific games. An interesting part of the evening was the program given by T. S. Wang chanted one of his own poems written in Chinese, and this was translated by Wesley Warren. Miss Beulah Graham gave a reading and Miss Marvella Edwards a whistling solo.

The second meeting of the Young Married Women's club of the university met with Mrs. Nellie Ackerman Thursday evening. Officers were installed and plans made for the coming season. Tuesday evening the club will hold a dinner at Cresto cottage on the campus. Husbands of the group will be special guests.

Miss Lorraine Kinner entertained with a bridge afternoon at her home Saturday. College and high school girls made up the guest list.

B. & P. W. Club Progressive Plans

THE Salem Business and Professional club is showing much activity in both social and service activities this fall. It has organized a choir which has developed into one of the interesting singing bodies of the city. It appeared for the first time about three weeks ago in one of the special Rebekah lodge programs which the latter group is sponsoring each Monday night, and it again appeared on the Thursday evening program of the state convention of American War Mothers. Mrs. Lisbeth Waters is director.

A second activity of interest is the social club which met for its first meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Hilda Leidstrom with Mrs. Leidstrom and Mrs. Lillian Cadwell as hostesses Monday night. Mrs. Daisy Hayden and Miss Juana Holmes will be hostesses for the December meeting of the club.

But the main theme of her talk will center about her visit to the Great Wall which she spent two weeks in this vicinity studying the walls, summer and winter palaces, and the odd points of interest.

This talk is open to the Salem public. A short business meeting of the arts league will be held at 7:45 o'clock, immediately preceding the talk.

Elks Charity Card Party Series Planned

One of the successful series of card parties during the last winter season was that sponsored by the Elks club, and given in the Elks temple. The funds so obtained were used for charity.

A demand has come to the club for a repetition of the parties and so the announcement that Monday night at the Elks temple the club will sponsor the first of a series of eight such parties to be given during the winter this year. All funds secured will again be turned over to the charity work for which the club is well-known.

George Henderson, Reed Rowland, and Willard Marshall make up the committee members who will have charge of the parties. Both "500" and bridge will be in play at the temple Monday night following the hour of 8 o'clock. All Elks, their families and friends are invited to attend. The temple will be open for inspection during the evening.

Mrs. Walter Zosel Is Hostess

A delightfully informal luncheon of Saturday was that for which Mrs. Walter Zosel was hostess at her home in compliment to members of the American Lutheran church Ladies' Guild, its accompanist and director.

The table was attractively arranged with rose chrysanthemums flanked with ivory tapers in crystal holders. Pretty and unusual favors added interest to the table.

Covers were placed for Miss Lena Belle Tartar, director of the group, Mrs. Kenneth Dalton, accompanist, and Mrs. Bernice Howe, Miss Mildred Wyatt, Miss Marie Robertson, and Mrs. Zosel. Following the luncheon hour the regular rehearsal was held.

Mrs. Luella Engstrom, chairman of the "food of the order" committee of the Rebekah lodge, has spent much of the fall in visiting lodges of the state and explaining the work to be accomplished. Among the last lodges to be visited was that of Solo, No. 7, where she was asked to speak before a lodge meeting.

Mrs. G. Alden Will Address Arts League

AMONG the unusual things to be discussed by Mrs. G. H. Alden in her talk on "China" at the November meeting of the Salem Arts League Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the Salem public library will be the eight foundation strokes of writing on which the Chinese language is built.

Mrs. Alden was much interested in the peculiarities of the Chinese language and picked up many interesting and unusual bits of information. For instance, she says that when a Chinese wants to use the word "confusion" he pictures two women together; and if he wants to use the idea of "contentment" he places the picture of a man and a rice together.

Mrs. Alden will show models of rickshaws and rich fur-trimmed Mandarin coats. During her talk she will wear one of the Mandarin coats, and will also show a "haori" coat of Japanese manufacture.

But the main theme of her talk will center about her visit to the Great Wall which she spent two weeks in this vicinity studying the walls, summer and winter palaces, and the odd points of interest.

Formal in its scheme of things its meeting night is marked with dinner parties both before and after the hours of dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson will entertain as dinner guests today Mr. and Mrs. John Uglow of Dallas. In the afternoon a 4 o'clock tea is planned and musical numbers will be given for a group of additional guests.

Charity and Welfare Plans Lead in Thoughts of Salem Society

THE banner of society is being flown under that of charity work to a large degree these days and as the winter comes on this alliance will increase.

The Red Cross is occupying the attention of a large number of Salem matrons prominent in the busy society circles of the city. Mrs. Curtis Cross and Mrs. Fritz Slade together with large committees are busy with meetings getting plans marshaled which will enable the Red Cross to become a part of Salem through Salem becoming members of the Red Cross. The committees are working on memberships. A small sum makes a person a member of this organization which will in turn use the money in every way possible to aid the needy in Salem. This aid does not only come to those who are temporarily embarrassed this winter but it continues its aid throughout the year helping in any emergency and paying more attention to helping "people help themselves" than to actually relieving immediate want and then forgetting about them.

Symphony is Soon to Play

ONCE again the time draws close when Salem will be able to hear symphony music by its own symphony orchestra. The date for the first concert by the Salem-Symphony has been set for November 18 under the direction of Prof. R. W. Hans Seitz.

The orchestra this year has a membership of 55 players and they come from Salem and outlying districts. E. S. Silverton, Dallas, Turner and Corvallis. Practice began September 15 and has been attended regularly by the orchestra members each Tuesday night in the auditorium room of the Y. M. C. A. since that time.

Officers for this year are C. A. Sprague, president; F. B. Deckbach, first vice president; William McGilchrist, 2nd vice president; Dr. C. A. Downs, 3rd vice president; C. A. Keils, secretary; H. V. Compton.

Mrs. W. J. Minkiewicz heads the membership committee; Alice Cray Brown heads the music committee; Mrs. W. E. Anderson heads the finance committee.

Board members are Miss Elizabeth Putman, Mrs. J. M. Devers, Mrs. Percy Kelly, Mrs. Roy Klein, Mrs. Elsie Esson, Mrs. W. R. Bush, Mrs. Thomas Williams, Mrs. Stephen Stone, Mrs. J. A. Jelderks, Mrs. Monroe Gilbert, Mrs. Carleton Smith, Mrs. A. J. Rahn, Mrs. Walter Denton, Mrs. C. J. Jepson, Mrs. W. J. Minkiewicz, Alice Literary Brown, C. P. Bishop, T. A. Lively, Mrs. R. E. Steiner, Mrs. Martin, Leslie Springer, Edward Tillson, H. C. Stover, Earl Cochran, Geo. H. Swift, Raymond Carl, Lee Barrick, W. T. Jenks, L. B. Schmidt, Hugh Fouke and William McGilchrist.

An assisting artist for the concert will be Miss Barbara Thome soprano. Miss Thome won the state water Kent contest this fall and her appearance here promises a splendid musical presentation.

Membership in the orchestra has grown steadily during the last months, but there is still a need for further assistance if the growth of the orchestra itself is to be satisfactory. There is still need for many more sustaining memberships in order that the work of the symphony may go on with the freedom necessary for its musical development.

An attempt is being made to make this musical group one of genuine value to Salem, one that will be a civic asset. Among the interesting contributions made toward the support of the orchestra this year comes from the Neah-Kah-Nie string quartet, now on tour in California. The contribution was made in the name of "good music" and an appreciation for the work being accomplished by the symphony.
