Pi Phi Tea is Delightful Affair

One of the most attractive teas of the fall was the benefit bridge tea given by the Pi Phi alumnae club of Salem at the home of Mrs. James Humphreys on Fairmount hill, Saturday afternoon.

The delightful guest rooms of the Colonial home of the Humphreys were arranged in charming floral decorative effects. The guests were greeted in the hall by Mrs. Raymond Bonebrake, Mrs. Humphreys, Miss Virginia K. Best and Miss Margaret Bailey. A splendid background of color was provided here with the use of firethorn in great black pottery bowls. The red of the berries and green leaves made a brilliant effect with the black.

The long living room was centered with a library table upon which they drooped until they almost covered the whole table top in bronze and yellow chrysanthemums in old fashioned brass kettles.

The dining room was decorated in the colors of the sorority, wine and silver blue. Wine colored chrysanthemums, wine tapers and Agaratum were used to carry out this color effect.

Cards were in play at 13 tables. Mrs. Rex Adolph and Mrs. Fred Duncan held winning scores for the afternoon.

At the tea hour Mrs. George A. White and Mrs. William Walton presided at the urns. Serving were Mrs. Don Pritchett, Mrs. Wolcott Buen, Mrs. Walter Fubner, Mrs. M. C. Hemway, and Miss Dorothy White.

Guests amused themselves during the informal tea hour with inspecting beautiful hand work articles which came from the craft school at Gilbergs, Tenn., which is supported by the national Pi Phi sorority. The Saturday afternoon was for the purpose of raising funds to be sent to this school.

Portland guests for the afternoon were Mrs. J. R. Turner, Mrs. A. M. Botsford, Mrs. G. Phillippi, and Mrs. J. M. Minahan.

Mrs. Walker Heads Silver Bell Circle

Mrs. Myrtle Walker was elected guardian neighbor for Silver Bell circle, No. 43, Neighbors of Woodcraft at the regular election of officers held Friday night.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Lettie May Hansen, past guardian neighbor; advisor, Cora Smith; clerk, Jennie Shelton; banker, Dorothy McDowell; magician, Edith Wetzell; attendant, Louise Kayser; corporal of the guards, Mina Olmstead; musician, Francis Greenwood; inner sentinel, June Wallace; outer sentinel, Roy Shelton.

Flag bearer, Jennie Ferguson; managers, Eliza Darling, Hattie Kennon, Pearl Beasy; press correspondent, Florence Cotten, senior guardian, Helen Lutz.

These officers will be installed at a public installation January 15. Alice Adams was chosen to act as installing officer. Following the business meeting refreshments were served in the banquet room.

Special guest for the evening was district organizer, Laura Viola Wood, and out-of-town guests were present from Amity and Monmouth.

Scio — The Scio Bridge Club Met at the Home of Mrs. E. D. Myers

Friday afternoon. Baskets of chrysanthemums in white and yellow were tastefully arranged about the rooms. High score for the afternoon went to Mrs. Fred T. Bilyeu, second to Mrs. A. G. Prill. Arts League Program Grows

An evening of more than usual interest is anticipated tonight when Mrs. G. H. Alden gives her talk on "China" in the auditorium of the Salem Public Library under the auspices of the Salem Arts League. Citizens of Salem are cordially invited.

Miss Bertha Magnus, who was a missionary for three years in China, and a teacher now in one of the Salem junior high schools, will devote ten minutes before Mrs. Alden's talk to a description of the light foundation strokes of the Chinese language. Miss Magnus became much interested in Chinese writing while in the Orient and it is expected she will add considerably to the interest of the evening.

Saul Polnowsky, Russian violinist, is on the program for solo. Those who heard him at the Arts League recital during national music week last May will be keen to hear him again.

There will be a short business session of the league immediately preceding the program, which is scheduled to begin at eight o'clock.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

A Paris fashion that has become a huge American success boasts a stunning jacket cleverly styled with button and tab, and a simple flared skirt. We've added Scarf pattern 111 on the sketch to show you how smart one looks, and how to wear it, but the frock is just as smart without. You may use one color or two in making, and for fabric choose canton crepe, Roshanara or sheer wool.

Pattern 2230 is obtainable only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 1 1/2 yards light and two yards dark 39 inch fabric. No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern.

Pattern 111 includes 2 styles of scarfs. Fifteen cents additional.

Mrs. Necia Buck Organizes Groups

Mrs. Necia Buck, national organizer for the W. C. T. U. spoke in Aumsville Sunday morning and following the meeting organized a new W. C. T. U. unit there. Mrs. Cornelia George was elected president and Mrs. Margaret Martin, secretary, and Mrs. Mary Fuson, treasurer. This group will meet November 18 at the home of Mrs. George.

Sunday evening Mrs. Buck spoke at Stayton and following this meeting organized a unit there. Mrs. W. H. Lyman was elected president of this group and Mrs. Nettie Downing, secretary and Mrs. Carl Titus treasurer. Mrs. Lyman will be hostess for the first meeting November 18 at her home.

Turner — The Missionary Society of the Christian church, of which Mrs. E. J. Gilstrap is president, met in the home of the Turner boys' home Thursday afternoon. The topic for the day was presented by Mrs. S. A. Riches. The year's lessons have followed a trip around the world and the day's lesson was founded on Washington, Oregon, California and Mexico. The discussions began with the early missionary work in the coast country and followed on down to the present helpful institutions aiding in church work. A quartet of high school girls, Helen and Helena Witzell, Margaret Robertson and Anna Johnson sang "One Fleeting Hour" and "Out of the Ivory Palaces." Those present were Mrs. Frances Whitehead, Mrs. M. Sebo, Mrs. Susan Girard, Mrs. F. Cook, Mrs. F. Deltell, Mrs. Allman, Mrs. George Brower, Mrs. Cole, Miss Cole, Mrs. Wallace Riches, Mrs. S. A. Riches, Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Gilstrap, Mrs. Anna Johnson, Mrs. W. T. Riches and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Sears.

Jefferson — The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society

held its regular meeting Friday afternoon at the country home of Mrs. Guy Aupperle, with Mrs. Hugh Bilyeu as assisting hostess. Mrs. Ernest Powell presided over the business session. Mrs. Chas. Hart was in charge of the program, the topic being "Negroes and Indians of Today." Mrs. W. H. Sherman gave an interesting article on "Indians of the South." Mrs. Buck of Salem gave a special feature talk on the work of the W. C. T. U.

Members present were Mrs. E. Powell, Mrs. Robt. Ferguson, Mrs. W. W. Warner, Mrs. W. J. Looney, Mrs. Chas. Hart, Mrs. Chas. Loveland, Mrs. W. H. Sherman, Mrs. A. B. Engagement Told Of Interest To Salem

Of interest to Salem and especially Willamette university circles is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Emily Fraser Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Brown of Medford, to Wendell Magee Keck, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keck of Salem.

The announcement was made at an attractive party Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Brown in Medford. Included in the guest list of the afternoon were Mrs. Everett Faber, Miss Margaret Arnold and Miss Beatrice Lockhart, all former members of Willamette university.

Both Miss Brown and Mr. Keck are graduates of Willamette university with the class of 1930. Miss Brown is a member of Beta Chi sorority and a popular member of the younger set in Medford. Mr. Keck is a member of the Kappa Gamma Rho fraternity of Willamette. He spent last year in graduate work at Yale and is now at Stanford studying for his Ph.D. degree.

No definite plans have been announced for the marriage nor its date.

Today Will be Busy Socially

Matrons of Salem will find themselves much occupied today. First there is a large luncheon at the Gray Belle in compliment to queen of Nydia temple, Portland Daughters of the Nile, Mrs. E. Davidson, and four of her officers, Mrs. A. M. Dibble, Mrs. B. O. Webster, Mrs. Charles Castner, and Mrs. L. E. Espenhand. Members of the Salem Daughters of the Nile will be hostesses for this affair.

A second large tea will be that for which the Junior Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church will entertain at the home of Mrs. Frank Durbin on Fairmount hill for all women of the church. This is an annual affair and one toward which the women of St. Paul's look forward.

Chadwick chapter social club will also entertain with a special club program in the social rooms of the temple. This is attracting a particularly interesting variety of the variety of interest on the program.

This evening members of the Salem Art's league are presenting an unusually interesting program of music and two addresses upon the life of orientals. This comes at a particularly interesting time with the threats of war flying fast between China and Japan.

Another large affair for the afternoon is the reception to be given in honor of Miss Eugenia Savage between the hours of 2:30 and 4:30 o'clock in the reception rooms of Lausanne hall. Members of the Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church are the hostesses for this farewell in compliment to Miss Savage who leaves this weekend to spend five years in the missionary field in China.

Chadwick Chapter Program of Interest

An exceptionally interesting program has been planned by members of Chadwick chapter social club for this afternoon in the social rooms of the Masonic temple.

Miss Lella Johnson will give an informal talk on various phases of her recent trip to the Orient. This in itself will be of keen interest to the audience and to this will be added a group of vocal numbers by Prof. Cameron Marshall, head of the music department of Willamette university.

Readings will be given by Miss Dorothy Dalk and Miss Faye Connet and Mrs. O. D. Adams will present piano numbers.

Mrs. Vida Russell is chairman of the social committee and her assistants are Della Hayden, Mable Minto, Mary Moyer, Lily Ohling, Anna Soclosky, Vivia Tyler, Ruby Sounell, Mabel Cone, Mabel Gardner and Mary Shumaker.

Birthday Party Pretty Event

Mrs. Bryson Lausch was pleasantly remembered with a birthday party at her home Saturday evening.

The evening was spent playing "500," and at a late hour refreshments were served. A huge birthday cake brilliantly lighted was the feature of the refreshment hour. This was cut by Mrs. Lausch. Mrs. J. McNeil and Mrs. W. J. Hulsey assisted in serving.

In compliment to Mrs. Lausch was Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rabenau, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lausch, Mr. and Mrs. J. McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hulsey, Mr. Lausch, Betty and Billy Hulsey and LaVerna Hulsey, Bryson Lausch, Jr., and Billy Lausch.

A happy birthday celebration was that for which Betty Jean Merten was hostess at the home of her parents, Saturday afternoon, honoring her own eighth birthday. Mrs. Mary Kuenting, grandmother to the young hostess, assisted in receiving and entertaining the guests. For the pretty birthday tea with its beautiful cake and lighted candles Mrs. Anne Merten and Miss Frances Kuenting assisted.

Mrs. Fred Alban Well entertained the regular meeting of the Delta Phi sorority mothers at her home Tuesday afternoon. An informal afternoon was enjoyed with discussions centering about plans for the year for the sorority home. At the tea hour Mrs. L. O. Clement presided at the urns.

Mrs. Amanda Mathews has returned to her home in Shaw after spending a week at Seaside.

Popeye Rocks Segar to Sleep And Avenges a "Insulk"

An amazing inside story of a wild studio fistic melee, involving the celebrated "Popeye" sailor-man of itching "fisks" and twitching heartstrings, and his equally celebrated creator, E. C. Segar, came to light today.

Our own cameraman, hidden in a chandelier, photographed the entire gruesome duel—using the new, patented camera which photographs words spoken instead of sounds uttered.

That "Popeye" should turn upon his papa—the man who made him what he is today—is appalling on the face of it. But Segar might have been forewarned. "Popeye" has been getting out of hand lately. His string of unprecedented victories against man and beast in the ring—and against armies single-handed on the field of battle—has filled the old salt with an unmanageable lust for combat.

In the first intimate photo accompanying you observe that Segar is drawing "Popeye's" elbow as he flings him cutting smartcrack at the sailorman. Ordinarily "Popeye" could take a flip remark as well as the next man, and the next, and the next, although the next man after that has him whipped on the score. (This man always puts tricks above the line, except the card-in-the-sleeve trick, which he puts beneath contempt). However, in this case Segar was tickling the hair-triggered mariner's elbow.

"Popeye" can't stand that. In the next picture you see him grimly groping toward a wild Irish potato growing nearby. Segar innocently toying with the handsome palette he would like to have his readers think is a present from Rembrandt, does not dream that he is about to be banged on the schnozzle.

Whoops! The hurtling catapult of "Popeye's" fury has connected with Segar striking him, by a fortunate miracle, in the head. Maltreated potato, groaning, crawls to the floor and crawls away, crestfallen, to hide.

And now (see next picture, and why doesn't the audience join in singing this fine old song!)—and now "Popeye" is barging straight out of his frame. He has just realized that Segar has framed him. "Popeye"—an old pal, too. He wants to finish his murderous task.

Now the famous "Popeye" finesse is seen in operation. The rush of wind from his fist has blown the landscape off the picture in background, as you can see. Mr. Segar, simulating the third movement of the wing tap, is about to go into a swan dive. He did not believe it possible—this swan diving music which he heard so plainly.

In picture number six the sex angle of the little drama enters on the run. Olive Oyl ("Popeye's" sweetie) simulates concern for the fallen cartoonist, but in reality she wants to revive him in the hope that he will draw her at the next polka. Then comes picture number seven.

And number eight! Olive has obtained a fine, active brand of smelling salts, but in response to her whispered inquiry, the chemical has responded that it doesn't smell a thing. It can be seen that "Popeye" is fighting again. Segar is regaining consciousness as far as it goes and the dawn, the sun, a house and lot or something is coming up over the horizon.
