ROYAL NUPTIALS IN ISLAM CONTRACTED

Nizam of Hyderabad, Said World's Richest man. Gets Sons Brides

NICE, France, Nov. 12 - The mightiest houses of Islam were linked today in a contract of marriage signed after prolonged negotiations.

The contract calls for the marriage in December of Prince Azam | . Jah, eldest son of the Nizam of | • in "Fifty Million Frenchmen." Hyderabad, and Princess Durai . Shehvar, daughter of the former | * caliph at Istanbul, and of Prince . Moazzam Jah, younger son of the . Nizam, to Milufar Hanin Sultana, . ery in "The Man in Possesthe former caliph's niece and sion" grand-daughter of the late Turk- | . ish Sultan Mourad V.

The Nizam of Hyderabad is probably the world's wealthiest man. The former caliph financially has been pinched since Mustapha Kemal exiled him from Turkey.

The signing of the marriage contract was accompanied by ceremonies of Oriental splendor. Six officers of the Nizam's bodyguard, carrying jeweled swords, and the young princes, bejeweled and covered with flowers, entered the palace of Caracel in a body for the final negotiations.

Then for an hour the sons of the Nizam prayed, kneeling before ful-length portraits of their brides-to-be. The two princesses remained upstairs.

The prayers over, the entire company went down to the garthem, and the master of ceremonies, summoned the princesses to be photographed.

Rings were exchanged by the young people-a ceremony constituting binding wedlock under their code. They will remain apart, however, until the traditional marriage rites have been carried out in Hyderabad.

The Nizam was credited with having effected a shrewd bargain. He gave the Princess Durai $75 .-000 with the proviso that she will receive an additional $125,000 if she survives her husband or if the marriage should be an-

Mickey Mouse MM NOTES RF

I just have to start right off. and tell all you mice about the great picture that you're all going to see this Saturday at Warner Bros. Elsinore the-

I know you'll all agree with me that Buster Keaton in "Sidewalks of New York"-which is the feature picture, is going to be your favorite show for this year. If you don't like to laugh, don't come in. It's so funny you'll have to hang on to your seats so as not to fall off from laughing. Don't miss Buster Keaton's greatest, and bring your brother, sister or mother with you. They'll like it too.

"Andy" Anderson and "Boots" Grant, leaders of our Mickey Mouse orchestra have got all kinds of new orchestra music for the orchestra to use, and it's music that you'll all enjoy. Now all they need is more members in the orchestra to play it. Wouldn't you like to be in our orchestra and get some valuable experience? If you're interested be at Warner Bros. Elsinore at 1 :00 o'clock Saturday morning

The poems about Mickey Mouse are coming in fast. The best one for this week was written by one of our popular members, who goes to Lincoln school and is in the third grade. Jean Holtzman is the little poet of this springtime rhyme:

Mickey Mouse went trotting out With a bag of sauerkraut Going on a picnic 'spose Dressed up in his Sunday clothes

But a tom cat found his lair And chased him here And chased him there don't know what to say by chance

But all they found was his Sunday pants. Well, Minnie Mouse Jean. congratulate you. It surely is a nice poem. But what happened to

DRESSLER MORAN POLITICS

In an effort to have all children a Salem immunized against diphtheria and smallpox, the county health department next week will start a series of clinics in the elementary schools. It has been estimated by Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, county health officer, that sacked and a steel filing case was last year approximately 65 per cent of the grade school children were protected against diphtheria and 64 against smallpox. The standard, he says, should be at least 80 per cent. These clinics will operate on the same plan as last year. Each child who has not been immunized will be given a card for his parents to sign, signifying whether or not they desire the child to receive the vaccination and toxoid treatments. Mothers of preschool age children will be invited to take their children to the nearest school for treatment on the date and hour set for that particular district. With an interval of three weeks elapsing between the first and second of the two toxold treatments, it is expected the clinics can be completed by Christmas time.

Children who already have been and bring your instrument with or six months ago tomorrow will be given the opportunity to have Schick method. The Schick clinic will be held at the health center from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Some people find their work drudgery and many are confined to one small cranny all day long, but J. W. Givens who left Willamette university in 1927, has since circled the globe 11 times and finds his work varied and interesting, even if the seas are at times monotonous.
