STOCKS SLUMP AT

Disregard Grains' Weakness But Railroads' Break Starts Landslide

By JOHN L. COOLEY NEW YORK, Nov. 12-(AP) -Stocks managed to disregard the weakness of grains during wisp export shipments of wheat much of today's session, but lost and rye, the world's grain markets heart in the trading, or just after plunged downward today. the day's best rally.

Closing prices were irregular, with the balance, as measured by the averages, favoring the down rye exports 2,355,000 bushels, deside by a narrow margin. The market was even quieter than yesterday, sales totaling 1,450,482 Chicago wheat quotations tumbled Bonds were somewhat although firmness in United States governments and many high grade loans was constructive. Silver bullion recovered almost a cent of vesterday's loss. A last minute break in New York Central, which was off 4 points net, unsettled the list, especially the rails. Central's decline suggested short selling based on Wall street gossip concerning the future of the road's dividend. Union Pacific sagged after the reg- .49 %-.50. ular dividend had been voted. Most leading carriers closed lower.

Stocks opened firm, began to saunter lower around noon and then rallied in the final hour when unofficial word that the copper curtailment conference might be prolonged was circulated. The late unsettlement resulted in moderate net changes for utility and industrial issues.

U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Can and Case closed from a fraction to about a point off. Allied Chemical, General Motors, American Tobacco, McKeesport Tin Plate and Continental Can returned gains. Radio was weak in sympathy with Radio-Keith-Orpheum's decline, while Westinghouse and General Electric, both large holders of radio, eased a point. Homestake boomed 9 points but fell back 3 from the top.

Unchanged Another indication of winter erept into the local market quo-

PORTLAND, Nov. 12 .- (AP)-Strength of the local egg situation continues with more or less strengthening of the eastern situation during the last few days. Locally the market indicates a general decrease in the fresh supply although the spurt of last week was taken to reflect a general opening of the fall-winter laying season.

No change was announced in the price of fresh stock by the Pacific co-ops while private interests are trailing behind. There appears more or less criticism in the trade regarding the continued sale of storage stock as fresh goods. The storage stock is getting the ice house taste and consumers are beginning to complain. There was no change in the butter market trading trend. No ses-open market prices on both cubes and prints as well as butterfat were stationary. Demand for live chickens continues a very keen affair and especially for the medium weights. In isolated cases a fractional advance is noted in trading between dealers. There is only a nominal tone

sion of the exchange was held and in ducks and geese. There appears a scarcity of country-killed meats at the moment with resulting strength in both hogs and calves as a result. There is a continuance of the previous firm tone for lambs. What is understood to be the last fresh halibut of the season, is here from the north. Owing to the very liberal stocks the price on mediums has dropped to 16c here, with chicken mostly 15c pound. Owing to the closing season on a dime at 60c.

Extras at 30 Cents; TURKEY POOL Wheat, Livestock DRAW GOOD PRICES

The Oregon Turkey Growers pool to be sold shortly, will draw several cents higher than the Boise, Idaho, pool sold for, in opinion of Henry Domes of Mc-Coy, largest Polk county grower who was in the city yesterday. The the same as at the close of Tues-Idaho pool sold for 24 cents. Domes has 1300 turkeys, everyone of them White Hollands. One of his birds was grand champion at the Pacific International. Delivery of birds for the association pool from this district and the McMinnville sections has been set for Monday, Nov. 16; Eugene and Albany delivery will be the 17th; and southern Oregon delivery will be the 18th, it is reported.

Local markets are not yet quoting a turkey price, however dealers believe the price will be about the same as last year, when the opener was 35 cents.
