Mrs. A. L. Brown Feted Before Trip East

Mrs. A. L. Brown has been the inspiration of many informal affairs before her departure to-night for Kansas City, Mo., where she will spend the winter with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Matthews. Mrs. Brown will leave Portland tonight at 9 o'clock on the Rose City. Her plans for a return to Salem are indefinite.

Among those to entertain for her were Mrs. A. F. Marcus who was hostess for a luncheon followed by an afternoon of cards Wednesday at her home, Miss Helen Salbe of Monmouth assisted Mrs. Marcus at the luncheon hour. Guests in compliment to Mrs. Brown were Mrs. Noia Myers, Mrs. Jennie B. Barrett, Mrs. Frank Ferguson, Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mrs. John Harbison, Mrs. James Lewis, Mrs. Martha Schumuck, and Mrs. A. T. Wain. Friday afternoon the Priscilla club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Fred Stensloff in compliment to the anniversary of the club and in compliment to Mrs. Brown. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. A great basket of fall flowers centered the table and at either end of it were tall red tapers. Candle light shed a soft glow over table and guests alike. Covers were placed for Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Dan Fry Sr., Mrs. Kitty Gaver, Mrs. Rose W. Babcock, Mrs. John Craig, Mrs. A. T. Wain, Mrs. George Dunford, Mrs. H. C. Epley, Mrs. William Mott, Mrs. Stensloff and for Miss Priscilla Fry and Miss Wanna Holmes special guests.

Rural Clubs to Meet November 19

The federation of Rural Women's clubs will meet for an institute session November 19 in the local grand hall at Rickreall. The Rickreall club will be hostess. The morning session will be taken up with the election of officers and business. The afternoon will be given over to the program. C. S. Howard, superintendent of schools, will make the address of the day. Readings and musical numbers will complete the program. Mrs. W. D. Henry of Zena is president of this organization and Mrs. A. E. Utley of Brush College is secretary.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS
She's very stylish and so her newest frock must be the very smartest. Here is an ideal model that combines color contrast with youthful simplicity. A buttoned bodice tops a pleated skirt, and is accented by attractive collar, cuffs and wide belt. Plain and printed jersey, challis, linen or cotton broadcloth for school; Roshanars crepe or velveteen for dress. As for colors, we suggest brown and rust, black and green or red and beige.

Pattern 2242 is obtainable only in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14. Size 10 requires 1-5/8 yards plain, 1-1/8 yards printed 3/8 inch fabric. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given. No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern.

Independence "Homecoming" Enjoyed

Independence—the homecoming of Adah Chapter, Eastern Star was enjoyed by all 75 members and guests.

At roll call each member responded by giving the date, name of chapter and the name of the worthy matron at time of initiation. Mrs. Oral Edwards, worthy matron, called the following past matrons to the east and presented each one with a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums which she grew in her own garden. Mrs. L. Damon, Mrs. Jessie Hewitt, Mrs. H. Matison, Mrs. M. W. Mix, Mrs. Crosby Davis, Mrs. O. A. Kreamer, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. Della Butler, Mrs. W. E. Irvine, Mrs. M. J. Butler, Mrs. Forest Chambers, Mrs. Howard Morlan, Mrs. J. E. Hubbard, Mrs. Will Walker, local chapter; Mrs. Haegmaire, past matron in Astoria; Mrs. A. H. Hart, past matron in Pomerville, Wash.; and Mrs. Hannah Chambers, past matron in Nebraska.

The officers and the three past patrons present, J. G. McIntosh, K. Montgomery, and W. G. Grant of Salem were each honored with a beautiful bouquet of the beautiful flowers from Mrs. Edwards who presented the two oldest members present with a bouquet also—Mrs. Sarah Irvine and Mrs. L. J. Hillbrand. Mrs. Edna Irvine gave two pleasing vocal solos and Mrs. Irvine and Mrs. Lora Butler delightfully entertained with vocal solos.

Miss Edna Faust is Bridge Hostess

A delightfully different bridge party was that for which Miss Edna Faust was hostess at her home Thursday evening. Everything from the dresses of the guests to tallies, cards, pens and refreshments were old fashioned. The effect was very picturesque. High score for the evening was held by Miss Ruth Skinner and second high went to Mrs. Ralph Kinzer. Present for the evening were Miss Margaret Davidson, Miss Frances Sande, Miss J. Maudling, Miss Honora Reidy, Miss Laura Wright, Miss Donna Harlan, Miss Billy Giese, Miss Ruth Skinner, Miss Bunny Miller, Mrs. Harris Lietz, Mrs. Ralph Kinzer, and Miss Faust.

Aumsville.—The Aumsville Woman's club met with Mrs. Milly Martin Thursday afternoon. During the business meeting, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. J. E. Towle, various plans were made for winter activities. At the closing hour, Mrs. Martin served a delicious lunch. Special guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Cornelia George, Mrs. Rosalita Johnson and Mrs. Howard Tong. Club members present were the hostess, Mrs. Martin, and Mrs. Lottie Fuson, Mrs. Mary Hein, Mrs. Mary Highberger, Mrs. Margaret Martin, Mrs. Jennie McClellan, Mrs. Bess Ransom, Mrs. Irma Speer, Mrs. Kitty Toy, and Mrs. Gladys Claxton. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. T. C. Mountain November 19.

Hollywood.—A delightful party was that at which Mrs. O. J. Jeager was hostess, complimenting her daughter, Dorothy Jeager, on the anniversary of her birthday. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Dorothy Jeager and Miss Mary Jean Fisher. Present were: Kenneth and Edna Munson, Mary Jean Fisher, Lucile and Elaine Harms, Dona Starr, Edna, Irma and Edith Schwesinger and Dorothy Jeager.

Senator and Mrs. Isaac Staples of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Klees of Willamina and H. S. Hudson, Jr. of Portland were special guests at the regular meeting of the Artisans lodge Thursday night. Short talks were made by Senator Staples and Mr. Klees, and a group of solos were given by Mr. Hudson.

Members of the Order of Eastern Star are being asked to make reservations for the annual homecoming dinner, which will be an event of the lodge year at the Masonic temple Tuesday night. The dinner is at 6:30 o'clock and will be followed by a program. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Ethel Niles, 3376, or Mrs. Ellen Gabriel, 9306.

The Yeoman lodge will sponsor a card party at Fraternal temple tonight beginning at 9 o'clock. Both "500" and bridge will be in play. Mrs. Mary Stafford and Mrs. A. A. Carper are the committee in charge.

Kufner-Albus Nuptials Told

Miss Agnes Kufner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kufner of Salem, and John Albus, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Albus of Aumsville, were married in an attractive ceremony at St. Joseph's church Tuesday at 9 o'clock. Father J. R. Buck officiated.

The bride wore a white satin dress and a full length veil carried with orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of carnations and roses. Miss Rosena Kerber, maid of honor, wore a soft pink taffeta and carried chrysanthemums and snap dragons. A reception followed the marriage ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kufner. Present for the reception was the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. A. Albus, and daughter, Katie of Aumsville, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Albus, and children of Aumsville, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albus, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Dozier, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raucher, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Raucher, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pepper, Mr. and Mrs. G. Welty, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kufner, Mr. and Mrs. John Kufner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reuter, Miss Henrietta Kahler, Miss Jean Etsel, Miss Elinore McCrone, Miss Anna Pryshock, Miss Rosina Kerber, Henry Highberger, and Mick Highberger.

Following a brief wedding trip to California Mr. and Mrs. Albus will make their home near Aumsville.

Members of the Encinitis club met for a social evening at the Y. W. C. A. Friday night. Miss Mabel Currie was chairman of the committee whose members were Miss Dorothy French, Miss Evelyn Poulsen, and Miss Esther Hilmer. Miss Mrs. Floor sang a group of numbers accompanied by Miss Gertrude Beck.

Under the Dome . . . Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

THERE will be a general exodus from Salem generally, and from the state capital as well today. The occasion will be the annual football game between Oregon and Oregon State. And those who do not go will use the radios available in homes say that every available machine is rented out for use today.

The weather is the only thing which seems lacking in enthusiasm for this contest. According to all hope, wet weather will prove an advantage to the hapless and larger squad from Corvallis. But Doc Spears is a smart coach. The game will be the feature event of a double homecoming for the students of both institutions.

The large onions received by the governor's office and the state engineer from Vale, as arguments for irrigation, received much comment yesterday. Stricklin, however, said that Lake Labish raises equally fine onions and many are shipped from there. Wholesale grocers say all their best onions come from Oregon.

Hal E. Hoss last night was scheduled to address the Pacific Collegiate Press association on how it feels to be interviewed by the capital and newspaper reporters. Hoss said it was a good thing the papers had declared a moratorium at this banquet as he has a lot to get off his mind about newspapermen.

Hoss naturally referred to the press gallery here, so it is explained why the boys felt their ears burning during the dinner hour yesterday. At any rate the boys here know Hal pretty well and are not worried much about what he may say. He is an experienced newspaperman, and will at least refrain from the term "subsidized press," it is assured.

The flags were missing from Capitol buildings yesterday and from virtually all downtown buildings where they are customarily flown, which started an investigation as to the reason. Economy seems to be the only logical excuse. A high wind was blowing early yesterday and the flags were not put up. Lack of flags is a rarity around here.

It was suggested this column start a beauty contest among the men at the statehouse, as was among the women. The suggestion is fine as far as the men are concerned, but conducting a beauty contest among the girls is highly dangerous, and profiting by experience, this column will not indulge in the latter event.

However, there is plenty of material to start with on men. The one who suggested the contest immediately mentioned Charles Pray, superintendent of state police. There is no better starting point than to place his name in nomination. There are many others, so watch for the next nomination, and suggestions will be appreciated.

Only one member from any department is eligible for this contest. Henry Niles was eliminated from the police department after

Friday 13 Makes Gay Birthday Party

One of the gayest birthday parties for which any one could ask was that which celebrated the birthday anniversary of Miss Lois Wilkes at her home the evening of "Friday the Thirteenth." Signs of superstitions, charms against the evil spirit, and all manner of things added fun to this informal party and made it entirely in keeping with the day.

Guests were Buena Brown, Virginia Durkee, Midge Hewitt, Cynthia Delano, Viola Crozer, Beatrice Hartung, Brenda Savage, Beulah Craemer, Maxine Myers, Frances Martin, Elizabeth Clements, Lois Barker, Elmo Ingersoll, Ralph McCullough, Miles Woodworth, Kenneth Coffey, Gus Moore, Andy Peterson, John McLenore, Gordon Williams, Charles Campbell, Bernard Newby, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ackerman, and Keith Jones.

Miss Dorothy Boshard Tells Wedding Date

Announcements were out Friday for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Boshard to Clifton Clemens November 26 in the First Presbyterian church. There were 150 invitations sent out for this church wedding which will be a beautifully formal event at 7 o'clock.

Rev. S. E. Long of the United Brethren church will officiate assisted by Rev. Grover C. Birtcher of the First Presbyterian church. Miss Boshard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Boshard. She has attended Salem schools and is now a senior in Williamette university. Mr. Clemens also attended Williamette university. Both are popular members of university circles.

Prof. W. C. Jones addressed members of the Zonta club at the noon luncheon meeting of the group at the Marion hotel Thursday. Prof. Jones discussed political prospects for the next presidential election and gave the advantage to Herbert Hoover and Franklin Roosevelt.

Mrs. Ernest C. Brunk of Eola left Wednesday for Kuna, Idaho, where she will be with her mother, Mrs. Clem Davis, who is seriously ill.

HELP-ONE-ANOTHER GROUP HOLDS MEET

Several Attend Missionary Conference at Sweet Home Church

JEFFERSON, Nov. 13 — The "Help One Another" teachers club met last week at the Looey Butte school house. A reading project was adopted as the work of the club for the school year. At the next meeting Dec. 3, Mrs. Mackie and Miss Hutton will give brief summaries of books read during the month. Guests of the club were Mrs. Mary Falkerson, county superintendent, and Mr. Harding, rural school supervisor. Club members present were Mrs. Ethel Gulvin, Mrs. Esther Kleper, Mrs. Oma Mackie, Mrs. Doris Freeman, Miss Rose Hutton, Miss Grace Pehrsson and W. C. Jensen. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Powell and two children of Aberdeen, Wash., spent Armistice day in Jefferson, visiting at the home of Mr. Powell's mother, Mrs. Mary Powell and other relatives. They brought along 100 pounds of Chinese claims which are of enormous size, and they were sharing them with friends and relatives. Mr. Powell is manager of the Montgomery Ward store in Aberdeen.

Books on Display

A consignment of books from the J. K. Gill company will be on display at the library Friday, Nov. 13, and the public is invited to call and inspect these books. The librarian will be glad to receive donations of books.

Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Lienes, Mrs. Nettie Reeves, Laura Kiles, and Mrs. J. T. Jones, attended the Women's Missionary Society convention of the Evangelical church which was held at Sweet Home Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Case left for Newport Wednesday after spending a month with her daughter, Mrs. Guy Apperle and family.

Jease and Harvey Myers, Burton Thurston, Adella Stephenson, Ethel Pratt, Dorothy Myers and Bubbles Hart are absent from school on account of illness.

Seek to Abandon Small Stations

The Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company has filed application with the public utilities commissioner here for permission to discontinue its agencies at Hillgard, Umatilla county; Mesner, Morrow county; and Mosier, Wasco county. Hearings on the applications have not yet been set. The city of Adams and shippers of that district have filed a protest with the commissioner.

The sub-committee on unemployment relief, considering the contributions of state employees, decided yesterday that credit will be given all employees who have contributed sums to bonafide local charities or relief work. The matter of distribution has not been definitely decided other than it would be state-wide in scope.

Either there are more safety precautions being taken in industries in the state, or there are few industries operating. At any rate two weeks have elapsed without a fatality being reported to the state industrial accident commission, and injuries to workmen have been less by several hundred.

CHAIRMAN

Judge George Rossman of the state supreme court, who heads the Salem Red Cross local organization as chairman of the Red Cross committee. The attention is going forward with enthusiasm and success in Salem following its opening Thursday.

Club Projects Hold Interest In This County

Marked interest in 4-H club work is being shown by boys and girls through the county. Wayne C. Harding, supervisor for the county, reported yesterday. Scarcely a day goes by when he does not receive letters asking for enrollment blanks or information on club work.

The latter part of this week, Harding visited schools at Bethel, Oakridge and Fruitland. Bethel is organizing a sewing club, Fruitland is undecided on its 4-H program while Oak Ridge this year will have no clubs. The club year started November 1.

Budget Item For County Attorney Expenses Legal

A county budget committee has a legal right to include in the budget an item for stenographic assistance, necessary legal blanks, stationery, and incidental expenses necessarily incurred in connection with the office of district attorney, Attorney General Van Winkle ruled Friday. Van Winkle held that the district attorney is the legal adviser of all county officers and has an intimate connection with county business. The opinion was requested by Earl A. Nott, district attorney of Yamhill county.

SOCIETY MEETS

ROSELDALE, Nov. 13.—The Ladies' Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. J. D. Alexander Thursday afternoon, with about a dozen women present.

A. J. Haldy and family motored to Portland Tuesday night to visit relatives. Mrs. Haldy and Frances remained for a longer visit while the other members of the family returned Wednesday.

MAN BORN HERE IN 1848 PASSES AWAY

SANTA CLARA, Cal., Nov. 13. —(AP)—John G. Robinson, 83, pioneer druggist, and familiar figure in Virginia City during bonanza days, died at his home here last night. He was born in Salem, Ore., in 1848.

A number of Robinsons were mentioned in pioneer records as coming to or being in Oregon in early days. None were with the Dr. White immigration of 1842. NeSmith mentioned no person of that name with the big Applegate covered wagon train of 1843. Judge T. C. Shaw named two in the 1844 immigration, "Fatty" and Ben. In the great immigration of 1847 there were four, J. C., A. E., A. A. and Rev. William Robinson. The latter came from Missouri and moved to Polk county, and died there, and his wife Susannah survived him and died at the home of her daughter in Cottage Grove. The town that became Salem was called "The Institute" in 1848; was named Salem in 1850. The man who has just died in California may have been born at "The Institute" in 1848, a son of Rev. William Robinson and wife, before they had settled in Polk county.

NOTABLE LEADERS BOOKED TO SPEAK

Outstanding men in various lines throughout the state have been booked for chamber of commerce meetings this month and next according to announcement made yesterday at the chamber.

Quincy Scott, Oregonian cartoonist, is to come here November 23 to give one of his witty, illustrated talks which have proved popular wherever given in the state.

The following Monday, November 30, Judge Fred W. Stadler of the municipal court in Portland will speak on the work of that tribunal.

W. B. Greeley, former head forester of the United States government and now secretary-manager of the West Coast Lumbermen's association, has accepted a speaking date for Monday, December 14. Greeley is recognized as an authority on the lumber situation.

Users of Wrong Licenses Jailed

Sentences of 12 days each in the county jail were received yesterday by Charles Robertson and Paul Krier, arrested at Silverton for driving with improper license. Justices of the Peace Brown imposed the sentence. The men were brought to Salem late Friday to start serving their sentences.

Is Quantity Buying on the Part of Merchants Really Helpful in Reducing Costs of the Family Clothes Budget?

Hiding behind the cloak of "quantity buying" many stores are prone to use this advantage to make enormous profits at a time when prices should show a small mark-up.

Beating manufacturers down to no profit level may be glory in some instances, but we fail to see the benefit derived, for, will not that store reduce quality and standardize all the way through even to the extent of its service?

Taking the quality out . . . such as skimping the size, using inferior materials, etc., are not countenanced by reputable manufacturers. Branded merchandise which carries a reputation for quality and service can be depended upon to bear the lowest of prices. That is why you will always find the right prices and the right quality at Miller's under such famous brands as:
