

W. C. T. U. GIVES SILVER MEDALS

Fernal Gilstrap, Katherine Sparks win Temperance Contest Awards

TURNER, Nov. 14—The Turner W. C. T. U. sponsored a silver medal contest with two classes competing for separate awards, Friday evening.

Mrs. F. G. Gunning and Mrs. E. J. Gilstrap had arranged for the contest which was held in the high school auditorium before a representative audience. Mrs. Gunning presided and first asked all to sing America, after which the invocation was voiced by E. J. Gilstrap. The first group reciting were from the third, fourth and fifth school grades. Evelyn Jensen took for her subject, "Merit." Eleanor Parks, "A Case for Charity;" Loraine Barnett, "Old Father Hubbard Wanted His Drink;" Ruth Burgoyne, "A Temperance Cow;" Florine Watkins, "A Little Gray Mouse;" and a Mrs. "The Three;" "That Haven't Been Done Before;" Zenia Goodwin, "Her Mother's Face;" Fernal Gilstrap, "A Temperance Doll;" duet, "Carry On," by Misses Helen and Helena Witsel accompanied by Miss Ruth Gilstrap.

The second group who were members of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades was composed of Alice Fowler who gave "The White Rose;" Florence Garner, "A Mathematical Cigarette;" Clarissa Clark, "The Man Behind the Plot;" Kathleen Sparks, "The Cat's Lesson;" Stella Barnett, "Two Roosters;" Alice Luke, "So Hoquy."

Mrs. W. S. Burgoyne gave as a solo "The Nation's Slogan."

A playlet "You Win," was given by a group with Louis Petty and Jasper Cleared, giving the conversation, "John Barlycorn Wants to Come Back," was cleverly put on by a young lad, Lester Bones who represented John Barlycorn in song, and was answered by a group of girls in song who drove him from the stage. Walter Cleared, the chairman gave a short review of "The Patriotic Wedding," a play as put on by the state organization.

Mrs. H. F. Shanks presented the medals to Fernal Gilstrap of the younger group and to Katherine Sparks of the older class. Contest president, Mrs. Helen Prescott, Mrs. Nedra Buck and Mrs. H. F. Shanks of Salem were the judges. After the silver offering, the program closed with "America the Beautiful."

Silverton Paper Carries Account of Choi's Visit To Silverton S-H Group

SILVERTON, Nov. 13—The Honolulu Star Bulletin is running a series of articles written by Wilbert Choi, the Hawaiian Future Farmer who recently visited here in Oregon. One of these articles, Article No. VI of the series, tells of his trip to Silverton and Silverton Future Farmers have been very interested in reading how their work looks to a stranger.

The article reads: "Warren Crabtree of Silverton, Oregon, came to Portland to get me Thursday, October 29. The day was sunny for the first time and the drive to Silverton was most pleasant. The atmosphere was very clear and I could see the snow capped peaks of Mt. Hood, St. Helens and Mt. Adams standing majestically in the distance. We arrived at Silverton at noon and there I was introduced to the student body of the high school to whom I spoke about the islands. I later had a meeting with the Future Farmers and enjoyed apple cider and pumpkin pie. Mr. Crabtree then showed us a reel of motion pictures of his boys working on their projects. It was very interesting and educational as well. I believe that all vocational agricultural teachers should have a movie camera for it simplifies the work of keeping an accurate and complete record on the work of his students in the years gone by.

"I later visited projects of the Future Farmers. The project of James Noel, the only boy with the American Farmer degree in Oregon, was very good. He is a very hard working fellow. He built four large poultry houses in which he raises a flock of Hanson's strain chickens. He is making a lot of money by running a hatchery and is becoming a real farmer. He also has several cows and runs a milk route in his district.

"The shop of the Silverton high school is not very large but it is an ideal one in every respect. The shop was nothing but an old wood shed which the boys transformed into their present shop and a shop that ranks about the best in Oregon. The shop work done was very good. They built automobile trailers, repaired farm implements, built poultry houses, etc.

"In the evening I attended the banquet of the Silverton chambers of commerce. The dinner was very good and also I enjoyed the company of the members of the chamber and their guests.

"The following day I visited the Silver Creek falls. There were about 11 falls in all but I visited only two because I didn't have time. They were very pretty and I enjoyed them very much especially the novelty of being able to go under the falls.

"In the afternoon I saw the Silverton high school play the Chemawa Indian school. This was the first time I ever saw an Indian and it was quite surprising to me to see so many Indian boys and girls. Very much to my surprise also I noticed how beautiful some of the girls were. Can you imagine a blond Indian girl with a fair complexion? Well, it's a fact.

"After the game Mr. Davis, principal of the Silverton high school took me over to Woodburn where I met Mr. Ronald Burnett, adviser of the Woodburn Future Farmers. I enjoyed my stay in Silverton very much through the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Crabtree at whose home I spent the night.

"I am sending a picture of a typical Future Farmer's project marker that is seen along the highways of Oregon."

HEAVY PROGRAM OF DRAMA IS UP

Number of Events Planned For Silverton Schools During This Winter

SILVERTON, Nov. 14—Dramatics is occupying the spare time of both senior and junior high school students at this time. These are Glen Scott, Harold Irish, Diana Moore, George Reed, Helen Davis, Frank Pettyjohn, Margaret Keene, Arthurs Cox, Hazel George, Vera Buehli, Margaret Larson, Catherine Tomison, Shirley Evanson, Eloise Schwab, Bill Kleeb, Bob Tweed, Merle Davenport.

At a recent business meeting of the club Shirley Evanson, Clifford Ekland and Margaret Larson were named a committee to investigate a plan for the club and Eloise Schwab, Helen Davis, and Diana Moore were made a social committee.

The Playmakers have selected "The Usenway," a mystery play, for their first play. The tentative presentation date is January 15. The casting committee arranging tryouts is Alice Barkhurst, Catherine Tomison, Wayne Satchwell and Merl Davenport.

Two plays are under way in the junior high school. The one to be given first is "The Scarlet Slipper", a one-act play which will be presented at the mother-daughter program November 24. The cast includes Glenna Elliot, Dorothy Huddleston, Janet Balleentyne and Ana Larson.

The regular junior high school annual play will be given December 11 and "Apple Blossom Time" is the one selected. Miss Elain Clower and Miss Ruth Lawrence are directing the play.

The cast contains the following: Anna Larson, Roscoe Klugford, Lynn Johnson, Evelyn Stewart, Lucy Downing, Lewis Paulson, Oscar Specht, Monnie Kirk, Bonnie Metcalf, Billie Johnson, Cora Schneider, with Lillian Gotzenberg, Harold Mulkey and Beverly Benson as understudies.

NORMAL DEBATERS IN GREAT DEMAND

MONMOUTH, Nov. 14—Oregon Normal school debaters, coached by George Berreman, have received letters from the University of Pittsburgh; LaVerne college, California; Oregon State college and Washington State college requesting debaters for this season. Debate questions have not been declared as yet, but "capitalism" will be one of them, and some phase of the divorce question will be among the women's questions. Coach Berreman states that his debate squad this year is the largest he has had here, furnishing first class debating material, and he anticipates keen competition.

MRS. MANLOVE TO PORTLAND SILVERTON, Nov. 14—Mrs. Lucille Lukens Manlove, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lukens here for sometime, has returned to her home at Portland. Mrs. Manlove, who is a graduate nurse, is taking a course in X-ray and laboratory work at Emmanuel hospital.
