EMPIRE PERMIT FACTS STATED

False Statement of Firm's Organization Shown By Investigation

(Continued from page 1) pany, which to that date had been called the United States Holding company, and praising its personnel, Coshow's letter, written on the stationery of the state supreme court, was a glowing one. He used the words "integrity," "high-character," "modest salaries," "prudent salaries," in discussing the methods of operation of the company.

Plea of Company Praised by Coshow—This letter, written on state supreme court stationery to Jay H. Stockman, general counsel Empire Holding corporation, Portland, was sent by Coshow November 14, while then chief justice of the state supreme court. It reads: "I have accepted the position of president of the Empire Holding corporation tendered me through you for several reasons.

"First, I am attracted by the personnel of the organizers and directors of said company. After examination I have found every man to be an upstanding character who would not engage in any but an honest, square business dealing.

"Second, after examining carefully the articles of incorporation and the by-laws of said corporation, I found every provision of both well calculated to inspire confidence in the company and its management to conduct an honest, lucrative and straight business.

"Third, I was favorably impressed also by the cautious and prudent manner in which the company begins its business. The salaries offered to its officers and employees are modest. There is no suggestion of any bonuses or other inducements tending to induce high pressure sales of its stock; on the contrary, every provision has been made for all of the underlings of the company to be open and above board and invites investments solely as profitable along an honest and open plan.

"Fourth, the company is capitalized for an amount sufficient to enable it to insure the company in its success. There is no indication in any of the proceedings of the company to attempt to do business except upon a sound basis. The management of the company and its proceedings, as revealed in its articles of incorporation and by-laws, are conservative, rational and sound.

"I am glad to be associated with the other officers of the company and to be engaged in a business well planned to render a real service to my native state. Oregon needs the company and the exhibits attached hereto." This binding and inclusive oath to which the signature of the above mentioned men was attached, was subscribed and sworn to before Winifred Graham, notary public, November 14, 1930, in Salem.

None of Signers Paid Over $2000—Yet when the state corporation commissioner audited the Empire Holding company as of July 31, 1931, the books of the company revealed that not a single one of the signers had ever paid more than $2000 each as a down payment on his stock. It was revealed that credits of $3000 had been advanced to the officers and directors when their stock was issued as a selling commission on the stock. It was further revealed that the exhibits attached hereto, dated November 14, 1930, the United States Holding company—the name was changed to Empire December 20, 1930, when the incorporators found the United States government would not permit the name "United States" to be used with any insurance company—made application to State Corporation Commissioner McCallister for permission to sell $5,000,000 of its stock. An application asked that the holding company be allowed 20 per cent commission for its sales with the residue of 80 per cent being paid into a reserve fund from which capital was to be secured for the five subsidiary companies which were later to be incorporated for at least $150,000 of stock each.

Application Contains Glaring Distortion—The most glaring instance of outright distortion of the true facts concerning the Empire Holding company came when its application to sell stock was lodged with Corporation Commissioner Mark McCallister, Justice Coshow, H. H. Petty, W. R. Adams, J. H. Stockman and Frank Keller, Jr., all appear as owners of STOCK PAID FOR IN MONEY and received unqualifiedly without bonus, trade, or notes!

The following are excerpts from the representations made and sworn to before the state corporation commissioner November 14, 1930: "5. Give below a true statement in regard to officers and directors of the corporation proposing to issue such securities: O. P. Coshow, president, Salem, 200 shares no-par stock, actual money paid to company, $20,000; J. H. Petty, vice-president, Portland, 200 shares no-par stock, actual money paid to company, $20,000; W. R. Adams, secretary, Portland, 200 shares no-par stock, actual money paid to company, $20,000; J. H. Stockman, attorney, Portland, 200 shares no-par stock, actual money paid to company, $20,000; Frank Keller, Jr., director, Portland, 200 shares no-par stock, actual money paid to company, $20,000.

ler, Jr., director, Portland, 200 shares no-par stock, actual money paid to company, $20,000.

In the next paragraph the return was made as follows:

(a) State purpose of issue. "If the said capital stock is to be issued in exchange or disposed of for any other consideration than actual cash to the corporation; state what the actual consideration is to be, specifying the amount and kind of securities exchanged for each item.

(b) Describe fully the real estate, plant, equipment, patents, contracts, services, or other consideration received in exchange for said stock or other securities, stating the value thereof, and mentioning conditions of title or encumbrances or indebtedness if any; also whether said property be in any way involved in litigation.

"Answer: There is no promotion stock and no contracts, agencies, or other property turned in lieu of cash. The petition for a stock-selling permit bears the following oath to which Coshow, Adams, Keller, Stockman and Fetley all subscribed:

"We, the undersigned, being first duly sworn, each for himself deposes and says: That the undersigned are the duly elected, qualified and acting officers and directors of the within-named company, as indicated below; that we are familiar with the conduct of its business and affairs, and that we have investigated and know its financial condition and that we are fully qualified and competent to testify as to the truth of the facts called for in this blank; that we have carefully examined all statements and answers made in the within statement and exhibits attached hereto, and that each and all of the representations made are true, that no material fact in answer to that several questions has been omitted; and we further say that they are no agreements, understandings or contracts, either verbal or written, which any one has received, or is to receive, directly or indirectly, any consideration in any manner whatever for the sale of the company's securities, or for its promotion, except as specified in this application and the exhibits attached hereto."

County Is Loser Upon Tusko Deal—Contrary to previous beliefs, the $20,000 paid for Tusko when he was sold at sheriff's sale last week not only was not enough to allow any judgment money for the Seattle company which placed a claim on the giant elephant, but also was insufficient to pay the county all the expenses incurred during the time he was in official care.

EUGENE GRIDIRON GAME SCORELESS

At the opening of the second quarter the Webfoots hammered their way to the Oregon State four-yard line only to lose the ball on downs, the Beavers allowing them to advance the ball only 18 inches. Oregon advanced to the Beaver five yard line again just as the half ended.

Fumbles proved costly for Oregon State in critical moments when safe handling of the ball might have meant a touchdown. Oregon State never advanced beyond the Webfoot 19-yard line.

TELEPHONE FIRM'S OPEN HOUSE SOON

Starts Tuesday Along With Big Sales and Service Program in Salem

An extensive sales and service program is to be inaugurated by the Pacific Telephone and Telephone company here beginning Tuesday, it was announced yesterday by H. V. Collins, district manager for the company.

The new telephone building here will be open to the public Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week and guides will be on hand to show visitors through the structure and to answer all questions. Mr. Collins says he plans to entertain 3,000 visitors during the four-day "open house."

The "open house" not only marks the starting of a sales and service program in Salem, a program which is being carried on as a coast-wide activity by the telephone company, but it marks the 47th anniversary of the telephone in Salem. It was in 1884, according to Mr. Collins, that telephones were first used in this city—eight years after their invention by Alexander Graham Bell.

In that time Salem has grown from a town of 2,000 persons, using but 12 telephones, to a city with a population of more than 26,000 served by more than 6,800 telephones.

PIG WITH BROKEN LEG REAL PUZZLER

City police at headquarters are accustomed to answering all kinds of questions and handling all sorts of cases but yesterday an unprecedented situation faced Sergeant Asa Fisher, who was doing desk duty. He was in a quandary as to what to do and had to call an impromptu conference with other officers there.

Injured dogs and stray cows often are reported to headquarters but never before, as far as was known, had a call come in concerning a pig with a broken leg.

This porker, purchased at an auction in north Salem, got away from its owner and ran squealing down the street, only to come to blows with an automobile. Being outclasses in size, the poor pig got the worst of it, the broken leg.

When the call came into police headquarters, the animal was in the custody of a second hand store on North Capitol street. The result of the officers' conference was that Carl Radke, city poundmaster, was informed by telephone that a pig awaited his official care.
