Claims man who Wants to Work can Find it, Gets Chance to Prove it

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 18 .- (AP) Jack Smith wants a job.
Jack Smith is the name used by a young man who claims he is the scion of one of America's wealthiest families, whose name he did not reveal.

He has forsaken temporarily the luxuries of wealth to seek a ipb. If he succeeds in earning $360, he claims, he will win $10,o from friends.

Smith, it seems, aired his views n unemployment in a New York lub. A man who really wanted work could find it, he said. Others disagreed and Smith wagered $10,000 he could find a job and earn $200. A club bellhoy was called, placed blindfolded before map of the United States and fold to stick a pin in the map. The pin fixed upon Eugene. Three weeks passed while

Smith and his friends drove leis-urely from New York to Eugene. Walnesday Smith was placed on his own resources in Eugene. His friends gave him a black leather helmet for a head piece, a lightweight tan sweater with ioles in either sleeve, a new blue dirt, a mondescript tie, a new pair of cordurey transers, a pair of new socks, a pair of low shoes with well worn soles, five dollars and a warning that he must not dence, accept dinner invitations er otherwise fail to live on his own earnings.

SYMPHONY'S DEBUT

Her best work was in "Caro leme," Rigoletto. The light coloratura touches were exquisitely levely. "Spring's Awakening" always a favorite, was beautifully oung by the young artist.

The Salem Symphony will pre ent the program of Wednesday night in Dallas the evening of De-

Western Board Products Firm

Action to recover $1109 allegedly due for wages and $120 for storage paid was commenced yesterday in a circuit court com-plaint filed by Ed St. Lupery against the Western Board Prodsencern began the manufacture last year of a pulp board but its operations thus far have not been

St. Lupery claims he was hired by P. E. Puttaert, manager of the company, for a 200-day period at $8 a day. He was never given opportunity to work the last 76 1/2 days of the contract, St. Lupery says, and for this he asks $612 payment. The plaintiff contends $497 is yet due him for services rendered and not paid for. In addition he seeks $120 paid for storage in San Francisco on machinery later shipped to the company here. St. Lupery also asks $100 as

Asks Data Upon Washing 'Cords'

A Carlton, Ore., high school student has written to Superin-tendent George Hug of Salem, requesting points for an argument That corduroy trousers should be washed once a week. Apparently he is to debate such a subject on the affirmative side. Superintendent Huz gained experience in that subject when high school boys here last year were asked

John Ram- Hill home for a buffet supper. age, farmer, was elected sice Covers were placed for 22 guests. Carlton Hande, and Bert Willeford was chosen as the new secretary. He succeeds Paul Mills. Two directors, George Keys and Fred Evenden, were also elected. Last year's directors committee was composed of John Ramage and E. J. Affen.

Woodburn is to have another community Christmas tree this year. A committee to see about arrangements was made at Wednesday's meeting. P. G. Vickers, Neal Myers and John Ramage are on the committee. The tree will probably be again placed on Front street, at the juncture where Hayes meets Front. Last year strings of varicolored lights made the tree an object of beauty. Sued For Wages of widening the Pacific highway were carried on, and the hope was expressed that the work be started as soon as possible. Dr. Smith made several remarks clearing up some of the questions concerning the work in the minds of the
