

PROFESSOR SHOWS EDUCATION TRENDS

Rotarians Hear of Methods Being Used to Foster Efficient Study

Salem Rotarians heard a college professor tell about how education is being made over by scientific research Wednesday noon. Listened to him intently and were profoundly impressed with the transformation which is being made in the field of imparting knowledge to growing youth.

Perhaps one reason they liked it was because the speaker talked in terms of "efficiency" and "cost reduction" which business men liked the sound of. The speaker was Dr. William H. Burton of the University of Chicago and he was introduced by Supt. George Huz, who hired him one time as teacher in McMinnville for $80 a month.

Burton said they were now applying the same technique and research which are being used in diagnosis of disease by physicians or by engineers in the use of materials. He gave many illustrations to show how this new method was being applied to the teaching process. In spelling it was discovered that there was only about 2000 words in common use in writing, so teaching effort has been concentrated on them with resulting economy and with improved results among the pupils.

Reading has been made the subject of close study. Moving eye-farces were taken of the eyes of pupils while busy reading, and the pictures show many differences among pupils which must be reckoned with.

People read an "eye-far" at a time. Some persons take bigger eye-far than others. Some can understand what they read faster than others; so there is a great difference in the rate of reading among people. The studies give an analysis of the difficulties pupils encounter and thus enable the teachers to propose methods of correcting the difficulties to meet in the individual cases.

The economy comes in avoiding repeating in school classes, in eliminating non-essentials, in speeding up the learning process.

"School boards can't run the schools," the professor declared, "but they can see that they are run."

The public has the right to insist that the most approved methods are used in instruction because they are the ones who pay the bills.

Special guests of the club were the principals of the public schools.

KEEPS DEATHBED PLEDGE

EDWARD H. B. ALLEN

While Edward H. B. Allen, brother of Rose Allen, charged in Philadelphia with the murder of her sister, Francis A. Donaldson, 34, is adamant as to what actuated him in the crime, except that he admits that he promised his mother on her deathbed that he would do all in his power to prevent the marriage of the young couple, his father, Horace Allen, has declared the real reason for the fatal shooting is that Donaldson betrayed 18-year-old Rose. The elder Allen, in trying to help his son with a strong motive, bared the experience of his daughter with the lover which has been taken from her. Donaldson repeatedly ordered to stay away from the girl and her family, was slain when he visited Allen and his son in an effort to allay their antipathy for him.

RESERVES OUTLINE CHRISTMAS PLANS

The inter-club council of Salem high and junior high Girl Reserves outlined part of the Christmas program and cheer work at a council meeting held after school yesterday at the Y. W. C. A.

A joint recognition ceremonial of the Leslie and Parrish junior high Girl Reserves will be held Dec. 9 at a place to be named later. Senior high Reserves will sing for their event. Dates for the Christmas programs were tentatively set, also.

The girls selected as their Christmas cheer project the making of gifts for all the boys and girls at the state tuberculosis hospital. Each group will take a certain share of the work.

RAIL CHIEF

operation Monday at the Albany General hospital. While her condition is serious, her many friends hope for her a speedy recovery.

Noel Davis slipped and fell while at school Tuesday afternoon, dislocating his knee cap. The local physician was called and the injury was taken care of.

SALEM AUTOMOBILE FIRM GETS AGENCY

The Salem Automobile company has taken the agency for the Chrysler and Plymouth automobiles. They will continue to handle the Durant line as well. Salesrooms and shop are located at 425 North Commercial street. The company has been in the automobile business in Salem since 1917.

Members of the firm are C. J. Taylor, H. J. Woolley and H. E. Shads who are all active in the business.

The new agency announces it will be prepared to service all Chrysler cars now owned in the locality. Models of the new lines will be on display at their show-rooms.

Combined Program For Christmas is Plan at Hubbard

HUBBARD, Nov. 18—"Christmas at Grandma's" will be the theme for the entire school program, the faculty has decided. The first school glee club will sing Christmas carols.

The school and community Christmas program will be at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday, December 23. Miss Hatch is school chairman of this program. Mrs. Duncan is chairman in charge of collecting a Christmas box for the Boy's and Girl's Aid society.

Mr. Dart has completed his schedule for games of basketball in the Marion County league. The first three games will be played at Liberty, Aurora, and Woodburn. The last three will be played on our home floor.

Bedding, Stove Are Sought For Needy Man Here

This weather is cold when one has no stove and it is even worse when one is lacking blankets. Mrs. Max Carson, of the Associated Charities is seeking donations of these articles for a man who is sleeping on the bare floor of his little home, without either of those comforts. Mrs. Carson says any sort of bedding and a stove will be gratefully accepted.

The annual Thanksgiving dinner for the lonely poor persons of Salem and vicinity who have no other place to eat, again will be given at the Charities building on Court street. Mrs. Carson is asking for contributions for this dinner.

Walnut Orchard Owners Are Sued

L. D. Waring yesterday filed an amended complaint in circuit court against George F. Vick and Charles H. Vick, proprietors of the Bethel Heights Walnut orchard. Waring claims the Vick brothers owe him $1227 on a contract they made with the plaintiff for taking care of the orchard.

Boy Dislocates Knee Romping at recess

JEFFERSON, Nov. 18—Mrs. M. E. Richardson, who lives south-east of town on the Green's bridge road, underwent a major fic. Opinions on the matter presented are varied.

Kenneth Harlan, rate expert from Portland, was here yesterday for a short time looking up matters in connection with hydro-electric applications. Harlan has been prominent in news articles out of Portland the past few weeks in connection with city council strife in that city. He visited several state offices while here.

Under the Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's Dome . . .

GOVERNOR JULIUS L. MEIER is scheduled to return here today but whether his plans can be fulfilled depends a lot upon his feelings after having some dental work done yesterday. The governor was to have several teeth pulled. If he returns it is expected some board meetings will be held.

News dispatches yesterday reported that the Japanese have occupied Tsitsihar. Some of the hangers on at the Capitol press room wanted to know why Japan had occupied such a place, and now that they are there, what will they do about it. Sorry, can't even pronounce the place let alone explain it.

Two more nominations for the statehouse beauty contest came in yesterday, making four already mentioned. The new entrants are Brigadier Thomas E. Riley of the national guard, and Mr. Hobbs, state printer. Both are eligible for the contest, although the contest in the guard may become intense.

Rilea was named only after careful consideration was given three other officers. General George A. White was eliminated since he has had enough fame as Arid White, but very little discrimination could be mustered up to eliminate Major Whooten and Captain Vincent. Perhaps it can finally be settled within the guard headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Howard returned late yesterday from Portland where Mrs. Howard has been confined by illness. Mrs. Howard is still quite ill, the state school superintendent's office here reported, but she stood the return trip very well. The many friends of the Howard's wish her a speedy recovery.

Carl Clear, who was formerly head bookkeeper at the state printing department and before that time with the public service commission, visited his Salem friends for a short time

SPECIAL SERVICES PLANNED AT TURNER

TURNER, Nov. 18—Special services are planned for the Methodist Episcopal church to begin Sunday night, November 22. The first service will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Burgoyne. Monday night members of the Salvation Army of Salem, will be present to conduct the meeting. Tuesday night the Evangelist Rev. Robert B. Shattuck with Mrs. Shattuck will be present and likely remain for two weeks; they are coming from Portland where they close at the end of the week, services at the first friend's church.

Mrs. O. P. Given is spending the week at the bedside of her father Albert Savage Sr., at the old Savage home in the Waldo Hills. Mr. Savage has not been in robust health and has developed heart trouble with complications. Mr. Savage is well known in Turner and vicinity, where three of his four children have been residents. Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Gillett of Walla Walla who have been guests at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bear, since near the first of the month, left for Portland Wednesday to visit their son Charles Gillett and family till early next week when they will return to spend the week's holiday before leaving for their home.

More than half the men and women students of Denison university, Granville, O., are working their way in whole or in part.

WEDS PRINCE

The former Mrs. Jana Lucia Deletz (above), divorced commoner, became the bride of Prince Nicholas of Rumania, brother to King Carol, when the pair eloped to a small village and was married by the mayor against the latter's wishes. Carol, increased that his orders forbidding Nicholas to marry Mrs. Deletz had been ignored, commanded that all records at the supplies be destroyed.
